To start the semester off with a bang, we all had a great time at the Bio sponsored barbeque last Friday. The turnout was super! There's more to come with other unique events already being planned. So don't let your enthusiasm die! We've only just begun.

Newsflash

Unidentified sources have revealed that there's a Party in the planning. Now, I'm sure you've all heard about the infamous Bio parties, so just show your exclusive I.D. at the next meeting and you will be informed of all the confidential details!
