

Saint Dunstan's Massacres Vocational Institute Club

Thirteen proved a lucky number for goalie John Reid at the Charlottetown Forum last evening for there the goal stopped. Saint Dunstan's High School literally deluged Reid with shots in the game and Saint Dunstan's coasted to a 13-3 victory in the first game of the Best of five semi-finals in the Charlottetown and District Junior Hockey League. The Saints, playing without their top defenceman, Wayne MacDougall and starry forward Cecil MacDonald, put on a real team effort as no less than nine different players dented the twines at least once.

Alan Flood, Bill MacKinnon, Bill LeClair and Daryl Dunsford paced the effort with two goals each while Bill Weatherbie, Gary Cudmore, Dennis Affleck, Lidstone and MacLaren potted one each. Junior MacDougall, Paul Stanley and Bob Whitlock each had one for the losers.

Flood started the game out with a goal that got past Reid on the right side and Junior MacDougall tied it up on the same type of shot. The Saints then went ahead 4-1 before the end of the session on a slapshot by Lidstone from in front, a backhand by MacKinnon that caught Reid going the wrong way and an Alan Flood slapshot from in front while the Saints had a two man advantage.

PVI got back within two as Whitlock banged the puck in at the 29 second mark and they scored the goal that rounded out the period at 16:35 but that was all. In between these two came six St. Dunstan's, an average of one every two minutes. MacLaren on a low shot from the point, LeClair, Dunsford on a blistering shot, LeClair on a deflection, Weatherbie on a rebound and MacKinnon on a quick shot along the ice; everyone was scoring and having a great time.

Sloppy play invaded the third period and the Saints only managed to score three times. However there were twice as many penalties in the final session of play as the other two periods combined, seven. The game was very clean and referee Don Whelan was not a very busy man between his frequent trips to record scorers.

First Period—(1) SDHS—Flood (Weatherbie, MacIntyre) 1:00 (2) PVI—MacDougall (Steele) 3:15 (3) SDHS—Lidstone (8:25) (4) SDHS MacKinnon (Weatherbie) 13:00 (5) SDHS Flood 17:33. Penalties—LeClair, 10:30; Walsh 15:36; Smith, 17:17.

Second Period—(6) PVI—Whitlock (Steele) 27 (7) SDHS MacLaren (MacKinnon) 3:07 (8) SDHS—LeClair (MacKinnon, Lidstone) 4:07 (9) SDHS—Dunsford (MacKinnon, MacIntyre) 8:07 (10) SDHS—LeClair (Lidstone, MacKinnon) 11:30 (11) SDHS—Weatherbie (Flood, Lidstone) 14:47 (12) SDHS—MacKinnon (Irwin, MacIntyre) 15:29 (13) PVI—Stanley (Whitlock) 16:30 Penalty—Lidstone, 18:12; Third Period—(14) Dunsford (MacKinnon, LeClair) 3:07 (15) SDHS—Affleck (Flood Weatherbie) 11:52 (16) SDHS (Cudmore Weatherbie, Flood) 12:29 Penalties—Weatherbie 6:54; Cudmore Whitlock 8:45; Smith, 10:33; Weatherbie 13:54 Steele 18:06 MacDougall, 18:31.

NHL Organization Bolsters Staff Again

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League continues to bolster its front-office staff in preparation for a scheduled league expansion in October, 1967.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, announced Monday the appointment of Don V. Ruck of Mount Carmel, Conn., as director of public relations for the league.

Ruck will be in charge of a new league public relations office to be opened this summer in New York. His duties will be to supervise public relations activities of the NHL, both in Canada and the United States.

The league recently appointed Brian O'Neill, 37, of Montreal, as its new administration manager and it is expected that O'Neill and Ruck will form a second-echelon of management under Campbell.

Ron Andrews continues as NHL publicity director and official statistician at league headquarters here, while Fred J. Corcoran remains as promotion consultant in New York.

Will become active.

In view of the league's projected expansion to 12 from six teams in October, 1967, it is expected Ruck will be especially active in the promotion of the new franchises in Los Angeles, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco-Oakland and St. Louis (or Baltimore).

He will also administer all NHL television and radio enterprises. The league currently is negotiating for U.S. network color television coverage of some of its games.

Ruck, 38, has been director of public relations for Connecticut

Blue Cross Inc., for the last 12 years.

Previously he worked as a sports writer for various newspapers, including the New Haven (Conn.) Journal-Courier and Hartford (Conn.) Courant. He is a 1952 graduate of the University of Connecticut and has remained active in the university's sports program.

SPORTS FRONT

Ch'town Club Not At Best

By CHRIS ANNETT

"Skating is the name of the game." That was more than adequately demonstrated last evening when Rogers Rangers shrugged aside threats of complete retaliation and invaded Civic Stadium in Summerside. They proceeded to outskate and outcheck the Legionnaires for 60 minutes of play and took a commanding 2-1 lead in their series for the P.E.I. Junior championships.

The old slogan "forecheck, backcheck and forget about the paycheck" was only too obvious as the Rangers were on the Legionnaires every minute and it paid off handsomely as they got several breakaways late in the game and, as the Legion tired, hemmed them in their own zone for minutes on end.

The unsung heroes of the game were undoubtedly the members of the Charlottetown defensive corps who did not allow Summerside forwards one good shot on Ellis from close in the whole evening. The only close call that Ellis had in nets was a blazing slapshot, partially screened that hit the left post before he had a chance to move. Lincoln MacKenzie, Doug Murnaghan, Errol Taylor, Wayne MacDougall and Don Hoss' Chandler all made the big plays early in the game when the Legionnaires were fresh and took the steam out of them.

After having heard avid Summerside fans charges that the Rangers were winning because their team had lost their key players and that Charlottetown had assembled the best Junior players in their league I had to scoff.

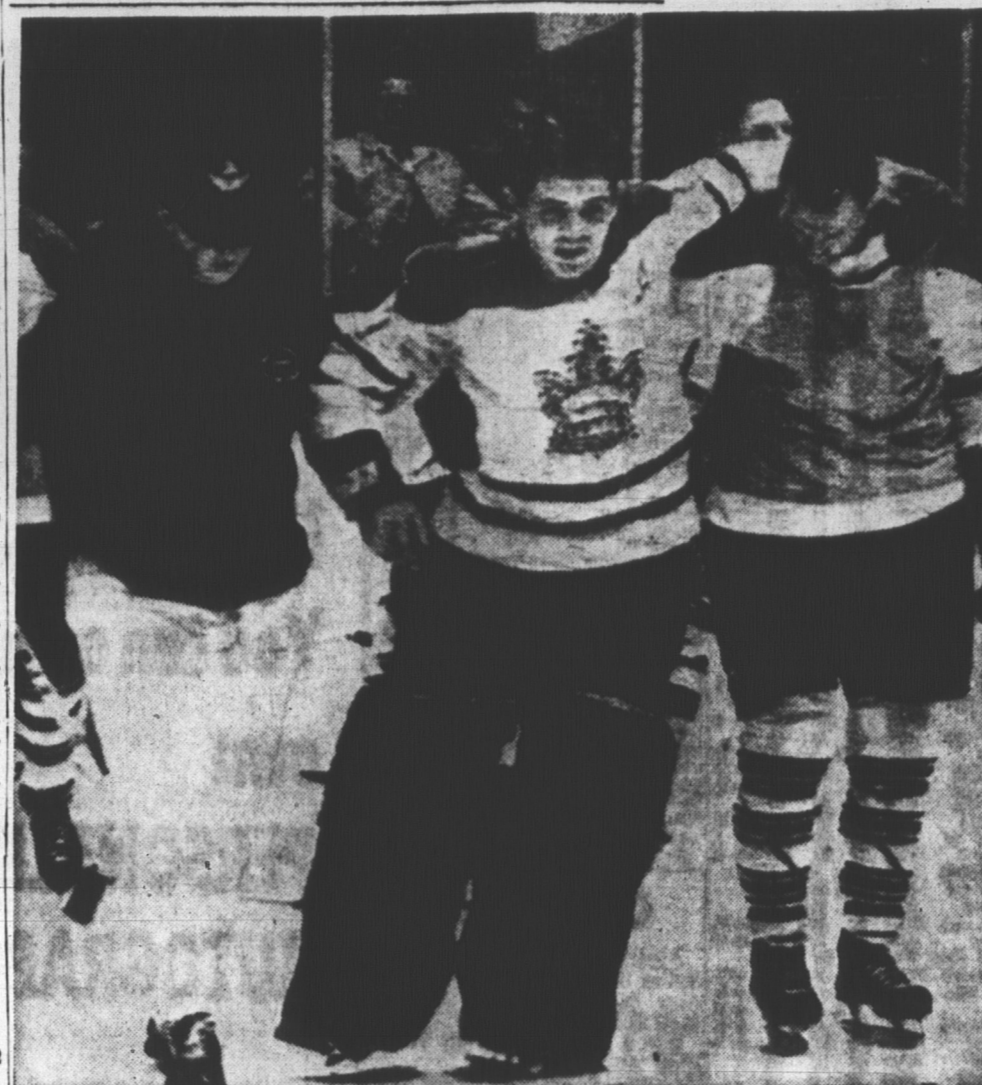

This Rogers Rangers team is good, granted, but it is far from the best that could be put on ice. Kevin Smith has not been allowed to join the Rangers roster because of his contract with the Halifax Junior Habs and he would undoubtedly bolster the Charlottetown defense (not that it is weak now.)

At least three or four of the members on the Saint Dunstan's club could make this Junior team but have elected not to play. Billy Weatherbie, who was runner up in the local league scoring race, Alan Flood, another high scorer, Billy MacKinnon and Billy LeClair all would make welcome additions to the Charlottetown club for their quest of a Maritime Junior Championship.

The Juniors will undoubtedly get off of the island but when they meet Fredericton it will be a different story. Fredericton have come extremely close to beating the Halifax Junior Habs and this gives some indication of their strength. It is the opinion in a lot of circles that a team of the 15 best Junior players from Charlottetown could equal any other club (junior) in the Atlantic Provinces and this observer is inclined to agree.

RAMBLINGS...

St. Dunstan's dropped their last game of the season and Maurice Roy's lead in the scoring race last evening as they were on the zero end of an 11-0 thumping by the SFX pucksters. . . One SDU player stated that SFX were not really 11 goals better and that a more representative score might have been 9-4 for the X-Men. . . PUNCH IMLACH is having more than a little problem with his goaling. . . Terry Sawchuk re-injured his leg yesterday and that means that SAWCHUCK, GARY SMITH and JOHNNY BOWER are all on the sidelines. . . The Habs invade Toronto tonight and the LEAFS will be in need of some good netminding no doubt. . . DON DRYSDALE and SANDY KOLFAX have still not returned to the DODGERS training camp and they are far from agreeing on a contract. . . The KAY HOARE rink of SUMMERSIDE tripped one of the top women's teams at the National championships yesterday. . . She had previously dropped two games, one of which she was leading by two rocks in the eighth end. . . She raised one of her opponent's rocks and gave them three in the ninth. . .

Toronto Without Goalie For Game With Montreal

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bobby Hull will be shooting for his 50th goal of the season and Punch Imlach will be fretting about his netminders in National Hockey League games tonight at Detroit and Toronto.

The 28-year-old Black Hawks winger, who has 14 games in which to score two goals to shatter the 60-goal, single-season mark he shares with retired Montreal greats, Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffrion, will face the tough Detroit Red Wings.

Head of Portland Buckaroos—both seasoned professional goalies—but hasn't been notified of any progress in negotiations between the two clubs.

Sawchuk was rushed into fill the vacancy created by a re-injury of 41-year-old Johnny Bower's ribs. Bower who returned to action only last weekend was sidelined again after being crashed to the ice in a game at New York.

Leafs No. 1 farmhand, Gary Smith of Rochester Americans, is also disabled with a groin injury. They also have Al Smith (no relation) in reserve, but Imlach is reluctant to go with the 19-year-old junior up from Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

Leafs and Canadiens play again in Montreal Thursday and Chicago are in Toronto Saturday so the Leaf coach is looking to someone with professional experience.

He okayed a trade involving Victoria's Al Millar and Don Imlach and the Leafs take on the Canadiens, one of the hottest clubs currently. Montreal has lost but two of its last 16 games.

Toronto called up Bruce Gamble, 28, from Tulsa Oilers of the Central Professional League to help fill the netminding gap. Gamble has played 82 NHL games, 80 with Boston.

Boston Bruins meet New York Rangers in the third game tonight.

Hull has shown little pressure as he fast approached the 50-goal plateau and his present goal-scoring clip should see him surpass the record by this week-end.

Tonight he'll be facing one of the NHL's stingiest netminders in young Roger Crozier and a Red Wing defence that has suffered crippling injuries to be-feet Nova Scotia in a tight match which saw the lead change hands five times in the seven ends.

Mrs. Beek, the only left-handed shot among the 40 women curlers, put Manitoba up 4-2 with two points in the fifth and Newfoundland never caught up. It was the first victory for Manitoba.

HOARE WATCHES ACTION

Mrs. Hoare, second Diane Stark and lead Muriel Thomas, broke into the win column without a third Lila Tucker, who suffered a slipped disk in a first round match against Ontario.

Mrs. Tucker was in hospital and will miss the remainder of the bonspiel.

Mrs. Hoare had her lead throw four rocks and the P.E.I. rink added sweeper May Shugb and went on to de-ninth to trail by just one point. Mrs. Cooke ended the suspense by curling her final rock through a maze of stones to take out Ontario's shot rock—the point that would have sent the game into an extra end—and leave B.C. counting four.

The quartet counted on seven of the 10 ends against New Brunswick and managed to withstand three by Mrs. Pilson in the fourth and eighth and

High Scores, Big Upsets In First Day Of Legion

By DOUG RELL

Pius Smith, president of the provincial legion command of the Royal Canadian Legion threw the first rock of the opening day in the 1966 Provincial Legion play-offs; Art Love threw the last rock of the day. Smith's rock didn't count and no one knows for sure if he made a shot or not, but Love's rock won the second game of the day for his team and set him up as a top contender for this year's Moosehead trophy.

The opening day of the provincial bonspiel proved to be as exciting as any final day in a bonspiel could ever be. There were protests, upsets, walk-outs, and defaulted games.

In the 10 o'clock morning draw Gordon Stewart beat fellow Charlottetown curler Dr. Lem Prowse in a wide open game 13-5. Left-handed Henry Larier from Souris found the bright lights of the big city club too glaring and his game was thrown off to the tune of a 17-3 defeat at the hands of Charlottetown's Wes Storey.

Art Ballam also won his second game of the day, this time it was a 15-10 win over Dr. Hooper. The loss eliminated Temple from further play.

Henry Larier won his game over Bert Hunter by default, but later his crew put on an exhibition game for the large crowd which was on hand.

Art Love won 10-1 over Doug Sanders by making his final shot of the game.

However, all the final shots weren't made. Athol Robertson was in a coming home as to whether or not the National Broadcasting Company in the United States will carry one or more Stanley Cup playoff games on a Sunday afternoon.

PROTESTED GAME

In the next morning game Earl Cannon's Summerside team was allowed to start the bonspiel with only three players. Cannon was the one missing, he was stranded in Montreal by flight problems. His three players beat Freeman Miles' four-some of Charlottetown 17-34 on the ice only to find out that the game was awarded to Miles while they were on the ice.

The arguments arose when the game was over and again later in the afternoon when Cannon arrived by air. Decisions were made all the way from the curling club rooms to the local Legion home, where the annual banquet was held at 6.15. After the dinner a meeting of the clubs was called to decide on a final ruling. They decided the game was lost by default and that Cannon could continue to thespiel until he lost his second game in the double knock-out competition.

He said that William Jennings, president of New York Rangers, a league governor, and chairman of the television committee, is currently negotiating with broadcasters in New York.

Tentative dates for network coverage of "a game" gives if the choice of April 10, 17, 24, and May 1 and 8, if both the semi-final and final series are extended to seven contests.

The NHL president said the league is still committed to its current Canadian sponsors who pay for coverage of night games on Canada's two national networks.

He said he does not know whether these sponsors will agree to a shift to Sunday afternoon telecasts of one or more games during the playoffs.

TV Answer Expected

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League expects to have an answer later this week as to whether or not the National Broadcasting Company in the United States will carry one or more Stanley Cup playoff games on a Sunday afternoon.

Clarence Campbell, league president, said the matter must be resolved "immediately" if the network is to arrange scheduling and the league change its plans.

Bulldogs Nip Kingston Club

Hampshire Bulldogs defeated Kingston Royals 12-2 in the third game of a best of seven semi-finals for the Philip Matheson trophy at North River rink Monday.

Scoring for the winners were L. Balderson, 4; W. Watts, 2; G. Thompson, 2; K. Jones, G. Thompson, 2; K. Jones, G. MacPhail, R. MacDonald and H. Dingwell each scored once.

H. Newson and R. MacKinley were the marksmen for Kingston team.

Tonight the Pownal Royals will meet Nine Mile Creek in the fifth game of the semi-final.

REMEMBER WHEN

Quebec Bulldogs equalled hockey's victory record 53 years ago tonight—in 1913—by winning their 10th straight game. Led by Joe Malone, top-scoring player, Bulldogs won the Stanley Cup that year but withdrew from the NHL in 1920. The current winning record is 14 consecutive games, by Boston in 1929-30.

AFTERNOON DRAW

Doug Saunders, playing now out of Belvedere's Winter Club, and a former Dominion Legion player back in 1960 won his first game by the high score of 17-11 over Bert Hunter's rink. In this only game that Hunter played his team scored a 7 ender but it wasn't enough.

Art Ballam of Charlottetown won his opening game by default over Martin Birt of Souris due to the fact that Birt also only had three men on his team.

Art Love scored an easy victory over Dr. Tempie Hooper's Belvedere rink by a score of 13-4. Hooper played lead stone on Art Burke's Macdonald Brier team, who begin play Monday in Halifax.

Danny O'Rourke of Charlottetown and Pete Sinclair of Montague had another of the exciting games win. O'Rourke finally coming home with a 8-4 win.

S'ide To Host Rangers

The Summerside Junior Legionnaires host the Charlottetown Rogers Rangers here tonight in the fourth and possibly decisive game of their best of five series for the P.E.I. Junior championship.

After a 4-3 win by Summerside in the first match of the series the Rangers have shown their clear superiority in the second and third games outskating, outshooting and the most vital thing outscoring the Legionnaires, 10-4 and 6-0.

Interest is high in the series between the two traditionally rival centers and a good crowd is expected to be on hand to see the high spirited but outclassed local boys take their licking.
