

Island Odds And Ends

When the Governor of New Hampshire went fishing last week with a party of Charlottetown men he chatted pleasantly about his impressions of the Island. It was the only Province he had not visited before; all the others including Newfoundland were familiar to him. His business is lumbering, and he learned all about timber and the woodmen's art from the ground up.

He remarked to his fishing companions: "I am just an old wood-chopper, myself, and I loved every moment I spent as a lumber-jack. My first job was as a scaler, and I went right along through every stage of lumbering."

In these early days of his career Governor Adams worked with a number of Islanders, who apparently were quite well-known in the lumber camps of Maine and New Hampshire. Those he knew intimately were the McMaster brothers, believed to hail from the eastern part of the Province, and the Yeo brothers from Prince County.

The Governor said the McMasters and Yeos were exceptionally able men, and that he had never forgotten their strength and ability in the woods, and the fact they had come from Prince Edward Island. It is possible that some of these men of their friends will be pleased to know that the Governor of the sovereign State of New Hampshire remembers them with appreciation.

The Governor thought the golf course in the National Park among the best three he had seen in his travels. His wife echoed this opinion strongly. Very complimentary too were his references to the accommodation and food served at the Links Inn in Cavendish, and the courtesy of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie LePage.

Thomson - Bradshaw Wedding

Campbellton United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 3 p.m. when Rev. John M. Sheen united in marriage Esther Isabelle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bradshaw, to Robert Leith, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Thomson of Roseville.

The church was tastefully decorated with summer flowers and the guest pews were marked with white bows. This was the first marriage to take place in this church, which is now past its and Glenfinnan if you have the urge, or for salmon too if you have the patience. Of course our salmon use the same water to spawn in as our trout, and if you land a trout you are obliged by law to return it to its natural elements.

Salmon fishing with bait is not allowed under our game laws but very few are taken on the fly if the truth was known. Folks do say that more of these game fish are taken on a pitch-fork than in any other way.

One thing certain, unless they are caught early in the Fall, they lose that look, and a sooty gray color and very poor eating.

The Dominion Government has established new wage rates for work carried out in this Province under its jurisdiction. It is noted that carpenters are to be paid 80¢ an hour, and laborers 65¢ an hour on work to be carried out on the Charlottetown Post Office. Whether all contractors in Charlottetown will adopt the new rates is unknown.

The Federal authorities have the say-so as to wages only on work carried on by themselves. All other wage scales and general working conditions are under the control of the various Provincial Governments.

There is no blinking the fact that the pari-mutuel machinery in use at the Charlottetown race track is under criticism from race-goers. Recording of the bets placed is so slow, that it is almost impossible to get even an approximate idea what the odds on a horse are until a race is over. Almost without fail if what appears to be a ten or twenty to one shot scampers home in front, those who hold winning tickets are amazed to find that the odds have shortened greatly. The most exasperating feature in this change in odds, is that it is scarcely ever recorded on "the board" until the race is over. It would appear that some more efficient method will have to be devised to handle betting if night racing or any other kind is to retain its popularity. People always did risk a few dollars on racing and probably always will, but they like to know the score all the way, to know whether a long shot is a long shot, or a near favorite. As it is, they are very much in the dark.

It will be good news to the residents of Edward Street on the eastern side of town that the street may become part of the Trans-Canada Highway. It is understood that under the most recent plans the highway will be routed through Edward Street and angled off towards Hillsboro Bridge, after some old warehouses which block the way are removed. The plan also calls for the shifting of the C.N.R. tracks to the east of their present location. At present the C.N.R. right of way almost parallels Edward Street at its southern end, near the plant of Canada Packers.

100th Milestone.

The winsome young bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and looked charming in a floor-length gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a bridal headdress. She carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Miss Jean Cameron, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and was attired in a gown of blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Miss Marion Cousins was bridesmaid and wore a gown of yellow taffeta and also carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Mr. Bert Thomson, brother of the groom, was groomsman and Mr. Vance MacKay and Mr. Kenneth Thomson were ushers.

Mrs. Harry Thomson, aunt of the groom, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Mrs. Elbridge Cousins sang very sweetly "I'll Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous turkey dinner was served to the immediate relatives and close friends, including Rev. and Mrs. John M. Sheen and the soloist, Mrs. Elbridge Cousins.

The happy young couple left on Thursday for Toronto, where they will reside.
