

Happenings of The Week

His Honor Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse returned to Government House, Charlottetown, Thursday evening after attending the Coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, Mrs. Prowse, who remained in Montreal...

Miss Mary Macdonald and Mrs. George Peake entertained at an afternoon tea this week at Mrs. Peake's home on North River Road. Ushering the guests were Mrs. Arthur Duvar and Mrs. Walter Hyndman...

Junior Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church held an afternoon tea Thursday in Hearst Hall in honour of one of their members, Mrs. J. T. Ivin...

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brodie of Montreal are among the guests registered this week at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Miss Edith Moore of Montreal is spending some time in Charlottetown owing to the illness of her father, Mr. George Moore.

The closing exercises of the grade ten class of West Kent School was held Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Refreshments were served by the parents...

Mrs. Ralph Dumont entertained on Thursday evening for the officers of the executive and members of the training and camping committees of the Canadian Girl Guides of Charlottetown...

Miss Marjorie MacLean, daughter of Rev. A. Frank MacLean and Mrs. MacLean, returned to Charlottetown this week from Halifax where she has completed her training at the Maritime School of Social Work...

Dr. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College, returned Monday from London, Ont. where he attended annual conferences of several educational organizations.

Mrs. Frank MacKinnon and daughter, Pamela, left yesterday for Montreal where they will visit Mrs. MacKinnon's parents, Prof. and Mrs. C. P. Martin of McGill University.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parker, City, have as their guest Mrs. Emma Carter of Sackville, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Edgett are expected to return today from Long Island where they have been visiting with Mrs. Edgett's parents.

Miss Clara MacDonald of Montreal will arrive home today to attend the wedding of Miss Kay Noonan.

A marriage of interest is taking place today in Windsor, N. S., when Miss Shirley McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McCoy of Windsor will be the bride of Donald Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred C. MacLeod of Charlottetown.

On Thursday afternoon the members of the Brighton Group of the Women's Auxiliary of St. James Kirk were hostesses to the ladies of the congregation at a friendship tea held at the home of Mrs. Wm. L. Bailey, York Lane. The guests were received on the lawn which looked very lovely with the many flowers and flowering shrubs in bloom...

EARLY CLEARANCE of Spring and Summer HATS. Hi-Style MILLINERY. 25% OFF. 168 1/2 Great George St. Phone 1291-J

Marriage In Toronto Of Local Interest

Pictured above in St. Anthony's Church, Toronto, are (left to right): Miss Helen Jay, Miss Florence MacGuigan, Miss Mildred Jay, maid of honour, Mr. and Mrs. Dunstan Peter Murphy, Monsignor J. A. Murphy, Ernest MacDonald, best man, Hugh MacDonald and John Rossiter, ushers.

Miss Mary Joyce Jay, and Mr. Dunstan Peter Murphy were united in marriage at St. Anthony's Church, Toronto by Monsignor J. A. Murphy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Jay, Morell, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Murphy and the late Peter D. Murphy Cardigan. Right Reverend J. A. Murphy officiated at the ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The bride, who was escorted by her brother Kenneth, was wearing a floor-length dress of chintilly lace over slipper satin, falling gracefully in folds from carriage pleating, forming a full cathedral train. Her pearl-trimmed crown held a fingertip illusion veil and she carried an ivory prayerbook with gardenias and rosebuds. Mildred Jay, sister of the bride, as maid of honour, and the bridesmaids Helen Jay, R. N., Florence MacGuigan, R. N., were gowned alike in ballerina-length dresses of white bouffant net over taffeta, with cardinal red velvet caps. They were matching red ostrich tips in their hair, and carried shower bouquets of red roses and stephanotis.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

WHY CHRONIC ILLNESSES STAND FIRST IN NUMBER

Now that the life span has been extended to nearly 70 years and will soon be past 70, we are not surprised that geriatricians (specialists in diseases of the elderly) tell us that caring for the elderly is now the number one problem of our times. Almost immediately also we learn, through health, the official bulletin of the Health League of Canada, that the Canadian Heart Association reminds us that "Diseases of the heart and blood vessels now constitute the largest group of deaths in Canada. Nearly half of the deaths of people over 50 years of age belong to this group. Diseases of the heart and blood vessels cause three times as many deaths as cancer, five times as many as violence and accidents, and eight times as many as tuberculosis (formerly the Great White Plague)."

Cook's Corner

MUSHROOM BROWN GRAVY

1/2 cup fat and drippings from roast
1/2 cup flour
2 cups warm water
Salt and pepper
1 lb. mushrooms, washed and sliced
Sauté mushrooms until done in fat in skillet. Meanwhile, pour cup of water into roasting pan, scrape and stir until browned juices are loosened. Add flour gradually to mushrooms and fat, blend well. Gradually add 1 cup water, then water from roaster. Continue to cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gravy boils and is thickened. Season with salt and pepper.

SPRING SALAD ASPIC

2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 stick celery cut-up
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup sliced radishes
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
Combine tomatoes, salt, stalk of cut-up celery and minced onion, simmer 10 minutes. Soften gelatin in cold water, stir, add to tomatoes with vinegar; stir until dissolved. Strain. When partially set, fold in prepared vegetables. Let chill until set. Makes about 6 servings.

Get GORRA. Use a solution of three parts of warm water and one part of borax for washing the inside of the refrigerator.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Macveles, 192 Kent Street, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Marjorie Ellen, to George Herbert, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Vessey, 92 Green Street.

Girl Guide And Teacher From South Africa Exchanges Ideas With P. E. I. Group

A Girl Guide from Transvaal, South Africa, is in Prince Edward Island this week. She is Miss Winnifred Bamber, Transvaal Provincial Camp adviser since 1949, and an active worker in the Transvaal Teachers' association. A full schedule has been followed since Miss Bamber's arrival. Mrs. Ralph Dumont, Provincial Head of Training, entertained for the Guide visitor on Wednesday evening. A rally at Summerside yesterday permitted Prince County Guides to meet and hear Miss Bamber. A week-end training camp is planned at Keppoch this week, with Miss Suzanne MacKinnon as commandant and Miss Epigene Arsenault as quarter master. Here, the local Guides hope to learn new methods and ideas from Miss Bamber, for use at this year's camp. While visiting here, Miss Bamber is the house guest of Mrs. G. E. Hartlen and later of Mrs. J. G. MacDonald.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Leo

Q. When a woman's escort holds a hotel door open for her, is it necessary for her to thank him?
A. No; this courtesy should be taken for granted. However, if a stranger were to do this for her, she must, of course, say, "thank you."
Q. Is it the duty of the person who is pouring the tea to put the scrape and stir until browned juices are loosened. Add flour gradually to mushrooms and fat, blend well. Gradually add 1 cup water, then water from roaster. Continue to cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gravy boils and is thickened. Season with salt and pepper.

Household Scrapbook

Summer Cold
Breathing often becomes difficult when one has contracted a summer cold. If your head is stopped up, try this: Add a few drops of eucalyptus oil to a bowl of hot water and hold your head over this, inhaling the fumes. It will afford you great relief.
Stale Bread
Stale or hard bread can be freshened by wrapping it in a piece of clean white paper soaked in water. Then place it in a hot oven for a few minutes.
The Refrigerator
Use a solution of three parts of warm water and one part of borax for washing the inside of the refrigerator. If a piece of charcoal is kept on one of the shelves, it will absorb odors.

How Can I!!!

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent mold in the tops of jelly jars?
A. Put a bowl of lime in the closet in which the preserves and jellies are kept, and it will prevent mold from forming on the tops of the jars.
Q. How can I repair small holes in the garden hose?
A. If the holes are tiny, paint the hose on the outside with a pliable roofing paint. This will close the small breaks, and the hose will wear for another season at least.
Q. How can I freshen wilted string beans?
A. By soaking for an hour in cold water, to which a couple of tablespoons of vinegar have been added.

Morning Smile

An Example
It was discovered, just at closing time, that a parcel of twenty $100 notes was missing at the bank. The staff worked all night trying to find them. The next day, Doreen, a new girl clerk, walked into the bank to begin her daily duties. She was asked: "Doreen, did you see a parcel of $100 notes?" "Oh, that! Why, I just took them home to show mother the kind of work I'm doing!"

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

"What for you-all have frizin' iron in your hair, Ellen, above your ears and all about? What you pretty'n' yourself up for, I'd like to know? Oh, I know now! Your boy-friend's due tonight... Granddaddy - the Boss - James, that's it!" teased one of the helpers of the barn at supper-time. "Father!" we added with a matching chuckle. "Yes," he added, "the poor fellow - the one," he laughed merrily, "in a family who if the cream happens to be upset and there's no cat about, gets the blame! Gets the bills too - for hats and dresses until at the last he hasn't enough money left to buy his 'terbacoy? Gets a doing too, if he comes in with mud on his shoes. Oh, there no end to the miseries that poor Father has to endure... often might as well be dead," he said.

A favorite pie of the Family and seasonal until at length replaced by strawberry shortcake, we served as a closing dish of supper-mixed hurriedly, we remember, with an eye to the clock which ticks off fast, faster, the minutes and hours of these, our days; calling between-times to a little lad tinkering at some wee machine or another beyond the porch-door. "Could you bring me a few chips to help hurry this fire?" Receiving a reply which despite our busy-ness, brought a long smile. "I saw some real good ones over in the woodshed; I'd bring them to you if I wasn't so busy. You see, I have these two parts of 'her' down, gether now - if I lay them down, why it would take me just that much longer to get 'er in running order... You wouldn't have a piece of new bread and jam for me, would you? Well, just as soon as this is finished I'll come for it. By the feel on me, perhaps you'd better have two ready."

And we came for the chips, stopping to catch the fragrance of lilacs again before they fade the white blossoms of crabapple, the pink of the astrachan on the wide, tall, old trees that now spread their loveliness against the sunny blue of a hillside; saw too, the near and farther hedge-rows, the bloom of maverick apple-trees, the little and larger lostings of the line born to blush almost unseen in queer nooks and corners of the farmlands...

Saw the new green of the grain-lands, the deeper hue of the hay-lands - and pastures carrying their grazing herds; saw the resting red of the root- and potato-land... and a saucy red-headed woodpecker tapping out code on a telephone-post. His message - fetchingly tweed-coated fellow? "hurry, Ellen, with those chips and the workers will be hungry; smile, and your fire will catch and burn... don't forget, smile, the smile too, we who owe them so much gratitude and affection, now that the June month brings

Continued on page 9

Better English

By D. C. Williams

1. What is wrong with this sentence: "I am through with my dinner, and I am sorry that Helen don't like hers."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "duel"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled: Despair, desolation, despotism, desperado.
4. What does the word "pensive" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with int that means "uprightness"?

ANSWERS

1. Say "I have finished my dinner, and I am sorry that Helen doesn't like hers." 2. Pronounce the 'u' as in fuel, not as in rude. 3. Despair. 4. Dreamily or somewhat sadly thoughtful. "She remained in this pensive state for a long time." 5. Integrity.

The Stars Say - -

By Genevieve Kemble

For Tomorrow
MAKE effective use of your leisure hours this day by putting your hobbies to practical use, and if your hobby is one that's shared with others, so much the better! A meeting of minds may bring out the fact that your skills have community value. Do not schedule any important activities for this day, but place emphasis on friendliness and hospitality. During the evening hours relax. You will need quiet and rest for the week ahead.

For the Birthday

If Sunday is your birthday, it might be well for you to know that this year brings to a focus the stupendous forces of Uranus in conjunction with your natal Sun. This concentration is most forceful in matters that relate to your home and family, and your horoscope for the year stresses domestic affairs and human relationships. There may be some changes, some added responsibilities in these matters but, if you are definite in adhering to your ideals, year's end should find complete compatibility both in your home and in business. Late Summer and early Fall are excellent periods for taking the initiative in legal matters, embarking on long journeys and concluding important business transactions. A child born on this day will be loyal, sympathetic and endowed with high ideals. Day After Tomorrow
Restless energy needs proper control and direction this day, especially where the emotions are concerned. It could be a rather disturbing day if you let existing situations get the best of you, but making up your mind in advance that you'll relax and take things as they come will go a long way toward minimizing problems. The evening hours are more beneficent and you may be the recipient of some unexpected benefits affecting future welfare. There is also the possibility of hearing pleasant news.

DOROTHY DIX'S COLUMN

When Age Of Mischief Strikes

Engaged Girl Loves Babies, But Can't Stand Toddlers
DEAR MISS DIX: In the near future Tom and I plan to be married. We are very happy except for one thing. I have a nervous streak and don't like children of a certain age. I love infants and youngsters past five but children of two or three make me violently angry. They seem to be in every kind of mischief. I realize I'm wrong, but can't seem to control my feelings. Tom says it's because I'm the youngest of a large family, and that I never learned to live with small children. He's convinced that as soon as our own children come along, God willing, my attitude will change. I'm 20, and Tom's 21. D.A.

ANSWER: Your problem would be much more serious if it were infants you disliked, rather than toddlers. Surely you don't expect, after loving your babies, to begin suddenly to dislike them when they are two and three years old? The toddling age is, I think, the most endearing one of childhood. True, there's mischief involved, but it can be so easily controlled. You'll realize that the "mischief" of this age is simply the process of learning, and every moment will be precious to you. At 20 you shouldn't have a nervous, so I urge strongly a consultation with a good doctor.

In the time before your marriage, why don't you try working as a nurse's aid in a local hospital, making children your particular field? You can give a couple of hours one evening a week, and the contact with small children may change your attitude without waiting for your youngsters to come along. Do try this plan and let me know how it works.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband works in a large factory where three children, yet one girl, who is separated from her husband, has taken quite a shine to my man. Right now my husband makes a big joke of it, but I'm afraid he may take her seriously. JEAN G.

ANSWER: The time for you to nip possible trouble in the bud is right now while your husband is disposed to shoo the girl away. You're quite right to face the possibility that he may take her seriously. The girl is a trouble-maker and, since she's made a mess of her own life, her aim is to drag somebody else into the mire. It's up to your husband to discourage her firmly. A threat to report her conduct to the personnel department may have an effect. If his efforts fail, see the girl yourself. But remember, gentleness will not work with a female of this species.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a serviceman and the recipient of one of those famous "Dear John" letters. My wife divorced me while I was overseas. Now I have met a wonderful girl with two children whom I adore. However, her divorce is not yet final, and she is going with other men besides me. Do you think she loves me? JERRY B.

ANSWER: After one marital failure, don't try so hard to make it two. Let this double-dealing girl fight it out between her husband and her other boy friends; you get into a neutral zone.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two girls in our early twenties with the same problem. We are very much in love with attractive young men who say they love us but make us jealous by flirting with other girls. They call us up when we're not at home to check on our whereabouts. ANSWER: Your young men are behaving like teen-agers rather than supposedly responsible young adults. By the time one has reached twenty such childish behavior is slightly ridiculous. Better try to acquire beaux with more sense.

control and direction this day, especially where the emotions are concerned. It could be a rather disturbing day if you let existing situations get the best of you, but making up your mind in advance that you'll relax and take things as they come will go a long way toward minimizing problems. The evening hours are more beneficent and you may be the recipient of some unexpected benefits affecting future welfare. There is also the possibility of hearing pleasant news.

If It Is Your Birthday
If Monday is your birthday, you may prepare for a year bringing rich and significant emotional experiences. You may be honored for valuable aid to your profession or to your community, and by November you should realize that the fulfillment of many long-cherished hopes is extremely near. Pleasure and romance are favored in the late Fall, and it is exceedingly possible that your dream of travel will be realized during October. Business and personal relationships should prosper and your ability for leadership may be put to a crucial test. Show that you can handle extra responsibility. The increased prestige and accompanying financial reward will make your efforts well worth while. A child born on this day will be domestically inclined, comfortable and generous.

SPECIAL 3 - DAY - SALE

RACK OF BOYS' WASH SUITS, CHILDREN'S DRESSES, MISSES' BLOUSES, BATHING SUITS, SHORTS, SLACKS, OVERALLS, PAJAMAS AND TEE SHIRTS (assorted sizes) CLEARING AT $2.00 EACH.

GROUP MISSES' NYLON COAT SWEATERS (sizes 14 to 20) Reg. $5.95 - CLEARING AT $3.00 EACH

6 DOZ. GIRLS' ANKLE HOSE (pastel shades) sizes 7 to 9 1/2. Reg. 69c - CLEARING AT 39c PER PR.

1 DOZ. INFANTS' CARRIAGE COVERS. Reg. $6.95. CLEARING AT $3.95 EACH

BALANCE OF CHILDREN'S and MISSES' COATS AND SUITS - CLEARING AT 33 1/3 TO 50% DISCOUNT

ASSORTMENT OF BONNETS, SUN SUITS, ETC. CLEARING AT 50c AND $1.00 EACH

NO CHARGES - NO REFUNDS

HOLMES and BRADLEY

159 Queen St. Phone 92

If you like an Arrowroot biscuit, you will prefer Peck Frean's MILK ARROWROOT. 29c 8 oz. APPROXIMATELY 40 BISCUITS. Look for the maroon and yellow packet. MADE BY PECK FREAN'S FAMOUS BISCUITS