The Grit Intrigue.

EVERYONE wondered what the secret meetings and private discussions of the Government party would lead to—what was the meaning of the prodigal waste of time during the three first weeks of the session. The result of all the caucuses and cogitations was seen on Thursday last.

No more outrageous or scandalous intrigue to place a country at the mercy of a band of conspirators was ever developed than that which was secretly and maliciously planned and prepared in the early part of the session. The bill respecting the Legislature contained several bad features when it passed in the House of Assembly. It provided a means of completely neutralizing the political influence of our schoolmasters, clerks, farmers' sons—of every non-property holder, however intelligent or well informed. It provided two classes of members upon the floor of the Legislative Assembly. It provided that the act should not be changed except by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature. It provided the mortgage vote. All these bad and anomalous provisions were evidently calculated to strength the position of our Grit Government. But their complement was to be furnished by the Legislative Council. The remaining links of the Legislative chain to bind the liberties of our people so that they cannot rid themselves of the rule of the Peters-McLean-Farquharson combination were brought out in the Legislative Council on Holy Thursday and on the morning of Good Friday — at the time, as history asserts, when the scribes and pharisees of old were forging their chain of false evidence. These links consist of (1) the gerrymander of four of the districts of King's County; (2) a provision that the returning officers managing elections may be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor—i. e., by the Government; and (3) that the Dominion officials shall be disfranchised. By the gerrymander, parts of Lots 61 and 63, parts of Lots 54 and 55, and all of Lot 56 are included with Georgetown and the islands adjacent thereto, and formed into one electoral district. The line of demarcation is the crookedest thing that can be imagined. There is nothing to compare it with—except the Government's tortuous policy. The Murray Harbor District, the Cardigan District, the St. Peter's District, are all so gerrymandered that a large majority of Liberal-Conservatives are hived with Georgetown in the hope that the electoral strength of the Liberal-Conservatives in these districts will be so broken and disunited that the Government will secure several additional supporters from King's County. It is urged that an equalization of representatives is needed. But a glance at the crooked line which the boundaries of the proposed district makes upon the map will convince any man that this is not the true aim of the Government Party. A mere measure of equalization need not be girt about with so much crookedness!

As to the placing of the management of elections in the hands of appointees of the Government and the disfranchisement of Dominion officials—the object of these changes is clear. No one has taken formal exception to the management of our respected sheriffs and the presiding officers appointed by them. There is not the scintilla of a valid reason for giving the Government full charge of the elections. In making this charge, the Government evidently expect to be able to manipulate the arrangements for taking votes and conducting elections, and so to still further ensure their continuance in office in spite of the will of the majority of the people.

The Legislative intrigue, as a whole, is worthy of the Organized Hypocrisy. The plot is to perpetuate the rule of the grits of this Province. But—

"The best laid schemes of mice and men Gang aft aglee."

—It appears that Premier Peters' tomahawk has not so much terror for the Hon. A. B. McKenzie as many persons suppose. He gave a straight vote against the party on the mortgage clause.

Personal.

Mr. John Trainor, of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, Moncton, is here on a visit to his parents and friends.

Mr. C. S. Pickford, of Pickford & Black, Halifax, is visiting Charlottetown. He is registered at the Hotel Davies.

Senator Macdonald and Mr. A. C. Macdonald, M. P., arrived from Ottawa last evening. They will return after the Easter holidays.

Those two well-known and popular knights of the road, John Rogers and D. M. Preston, of Montreal, are with us once more. Their autographs adorn the Hotel Davies register.

We learn with pleasure that Mr. J. H. Cahill, of Kildare, has succeeded in taking the degree of M. D. at Baltimore University. We wish the young gentleman a full measure of success in the practice of his profession.

Mr. Geo. D. Fuchs, who came from Montreal, and for many years managed the Brunswick Hotel in Moncton, afterwards going to Amherst, returns to Montreal to take the management of the St. James Hotel. Mr. Fuchs is well and favorably known to many Charlottetonians.

Provincial Legislature.

House of Assembly.

APRIL 14.

The House went into committee of supply and made some progress. A general and rambling discussion arose on the item to provide for the expense of education. All the fighting members on both sides took part. To give even a summary of what each said is impossible.

The Leader of the Opposition and his supporters dwelt upon the fact that the present Superintendent of Education—appointed by the present Government—is now calling for important and economical reforms which were proposed years ago by the Liberal-Conservatives, but denied by the Liberals (so-called) of the Upper House. The provision against first-class pay for third-class work in the schools, and the provision of better inspection of these schools, advocated by the Superintendent, were strongly pressed, and the question was asked, why does the Government ignore the suggestions of its own chosen officer?

This gave rise to the retort of the Leader of the Government that it was pleasing to hear the Opposition approving the suggestions of a man whose appointment they had denounced.

The Opposition replied that apart altogether from the qualifications of the present incumbent, the summary dismissal of Mr. Nicholson was outrageous, and particularly so in view of the fact that he was permitted to make preparations for his marriage and for "settling down," under the impression that he was to be retained in the position for which he had shown his fitness. The office of Superintendent of Education is, properly, non-political, and Mr. Nicholson had carefully avoided participation in politics. Hon. Mr. Sinclair was unfortunate in his reference to the smoothness and the economy with which the department had been administered during the past year, and to the fact that every schoolhouse was occupied; for Hon. Mr. McLeod pointed out that, if credit were due to anyone, it was to the late Superintendent, Mr. Nicholson, who had occupied the office during almost the whole of the period of the last report.

The Opposition denounced in the strongest terms the further reduction by $100 of the experienced, capable and reliable Secretary of the Board of Education. The Government had brought from Souris to boss a job on the wharves at Charlottetown a man named Mullaly whom someone has described as "a hemlock carpenter, and a botch at that," and paid him $3.00 a day; and had reduced the pay of the Secretary of Education—an educated, efficient, hard-worked and highly respected officer, through whose hands hundreds of thousands of dollars pass every year—to less than $2 per day—though they know that he cannot maintain his position and his family upon that amount. Surely an outrage such as this will not be permitted by the Honorable Mr. Peters. Surely we shall see in the supplementary estimates the difference between $600 and $800 set down for salary of the Rev. Donald McNeill.

Among those who most warmly espoused the cause of the Secretary of Education and severely criticized the conduct of the Government was the Hon. Daniel Gordon.

The Hon. Donald Farquharson met the cogent argument of Mr. Gordon by a mean reference to the smallness of his constituency, and asked what right he had to speak for King's County; whereupon Dr. Jenkins pointed out that the honorable member for Georgetown is properly a representative, not of Georgetown alone, nor yet of King's County, but of the whole Province, and that as such he had a perfect right to speak. Dr. Jenkins added a statement of the truth that there are not two men in the House who do not listen to Mr. Gordon with attention and the highest respect.

Apart from the educational questions, there was a general excursion into the boodling of the Government as shown on the bridge at Bay View, the wharves at Southport, Charlottetown and Rocky Point and other places, the travelling expenses and horse hire of the Superintendent of Public Works, etc., and the withholding of papers to the end that the misdeeds of the Government may be covered up and hidden.

Members on both sides wandered wide of the resolution before the House. But the Premier was very anxious that only his side should be heard. He tried to choke off the remarks of Mr. Arsenault in respect to the reduction of the salary of the Chief Superintendent of Education, and, after giving the Commissioner of Public Works the fullest latitude, made a determined effort to hold the Leader of the Opposition to the question. In this connection there was an amusing incident. The Leader of the Government called upon the chairman to stop the remarks of the Leader of the Opposition in respect to the public works. The chairman, as in duty bound, obeyed the word of command. But the Leader of the Opposition only laughed at him—he was not going to be put down when following on the track of the commissioner—and went on to expose the rascality of the public works department. The chairman thereupon jumped to his feet and commanded obedience exclaiming "I am Governor here to-night!" It is proposed that Mr. McWilliams shall hereafter be known as "His Excellency." Needless to say, the Leader of the Opposition kept the even tenor of his way.

QUESTIONS ASKED.

After the committee rose and reported, Mr. Sullivan asked the Commissioner of Public Works to lay on the table a statement of the amount paid Peter D. McKinnon for inspecting the bridge at the head of St. Peter's Bay—and the number of days he was employed.

Hon. Mr. McLean replied that the information would be supplied.

Mr. Underhay asked the Commissioner of Public Lands if the Government have adopted a uniform system of computing the interest on accounts due the Land Office, by which the poor man and the uneducated man can settle his account on terms as favorable as the rich man and the ready accountant, and if so, what that system is.

Hon. Mr. McMillan's reply was inaudable to our reporter.

ADVANCED A STAGE.

The Medical Act then passed in committee with amendments and the bill to incorporate the Malpeque Public Hall Company was reported from committee without amendment.

The Easter Market.

THE market to day was much larger than for some time past, with trade very brisk throughout the day. The display of dressed meat was above the average Easter showing. Blake Bros. beef was well worthy the general inspection it received—in fact it was the best showing of Easter beef ever seen in Charlottetown. Their big heifer that tipped the scales at 2125 lbs. live weight and the steer, at 2100 lbs., dressed to an aggregate weight of 2258 lbs. The large white heifer dressed to 1000 lbs., and a cow and heifer to 802 lbs. and 743 lbs. respectively. The mount of beef which dressed to the different live weights was something extraordinary, showing clearly what can be done by good and proper feeding. This firm had a carcase of excellent spring lamb. Saunders & Campbell had some very prime beef,—three carcasses weighing in the aggregate 2,441 lbs—an excellent showing. They also had a good showing of smoked hams and bacon and a carcase of choice lamb. Geo Thorne's beef was up to his productions of previous years,—three carcases of excellent beef making a total weight of 2200 lbs. Besides his show of cattle mentioned on Tuesday last, the following has since come in for him: a cow, weighing 1010 lbs., and heifer weighing 825 lbs. Henry Balls had very good display, three carcases of beef weighing 2462 lbs. Besides an excellent lot of hams, bacon, etc, John Drake's show of beef was very good, the carcasses of two cows and an ox weighing 2405 lbs. He also had some choice spring lamb. Altogether his showing was a good one. Gay, Brown McGregor, and others of the country butchers had also very prime beef at their stalls. Up stairs the attendance was very large. Eggs were in extra good supply and sold well at 10 and 11 cents per dozen. Butter, fresh, brought 26 to 27 cents per lb., and in firkins 25 to 26 cents per lb. Fowl were scarce at 45 to 50 cents per pair. Brant were on sale at $1.00 and $1.25 a pair, and wild geese 75 to 80 cents each. Hay was on sale in large quantities and brought 55 to 60 cents per 100 lbs. In other articles the prices were about the same as last quoted.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Medical Bill.

SIR,—Permit me to deal shortly with one or two misrepresentations used in Opposition to this bill.

It has been insinuated that the Council would be the sole judges of what should constitute "infamous or disgraceful conduct in a professional respect" and that the Supreme Court would not interfere with their decision on that point. In support of this contention it is stated that the English courts have decided that the Council are the best judges of "what is professional or not" Let me inform you that the English Medical Act gives no appeal from the decision of the council, and for that reason the Court of Queen's Bench refused to enter upon the question whether the council's decision was right or wrong. The present bill gives an appeal to the Supreme Court, and, on an appeal, that court is bound to decide whether the appellant's conduct has been "infamous" or "disgraceful," or otherwise. This is surely sufficient protection against any error on the part of the council. In the English case referred to, the person whose name was struck off the register had published a book called "The Wife's Handbook," containing instructions loathsome and shocking to common decency, and of so unsavoury a character as to be unfit to be more particularly described in your columns. The book was accessible, according to the report of the case to "the youth of both sexes, to the detriment of public morals." Can it be contended that the Council did wrong in expelling this man from the ranks of an honorable profession with ignominy and disgrace?

The statement in reference to Sir Morrell McKenzie that the "medical council decided he acted unprofessionally and struck his name from their roll" is absolutely without foundation. It is true, however, that Sir Morrell McKenzie, owing to differences between him and the Royal College of Physicians, of London, requested the registrar to erase the title he received from that college from the register. As a fact, however, his name with his other qualifications remained on the register till his death. I beg to enclose the correspondence on this subject which appeared in the London Lancet and in the British Medical Journal, with the request that you publish the same in THE EXAMINER.

The Latest Outrage.

SIR,—To give a good reason for the practice pursued by the Persians, Egyptians, Grecians, and other Orientals, of selecting emasculated persons as their most trusted government officials, has puzzled many students of history, as it seems evident that they, from experience, felt that it was highly necessary that their officials should be thus treated. The amendment to the act respecting the Legislature, passed by the Legislative Council on Good Friday morning, about the some hour in which Peter first denied his Master, and in painful struggles with their last enemy, I think throws some light on this intricate question. Said amendment disqualifies about all Dominion Government officials entitled to vote for members of our Provincial Parliament. The most vile, venal and degraded person owning three hundred and twenty-four dollars worth of real estate; and the most ignorant, drunken loafer, if he pays a trifling tax, can vote. But the Dominion Government official, although he may own thousands of dollars' worth of property, and his character on a par with Cæsar's wife, is not considered a safe person to entrust with this privilege. I believe the Provincial Government officials are still allowed vote. Why this is so I fail to understand. The Provincial officials' weaknesses and frailties and the Dominion officials' are altogether the same. I was going to write so are their virtues; but as the Legislative Council evidently think they have none, I had better leave that alone. Surely they must believe that all those that have proved themselves capable of successfully treading the devious paths leading to the official Elysium are dangerous characters, in fact, the generation of the wicked; and as like produces like, the Council cannot think it to the interest of their fellow-men that they should have any descendants. It would seem that the ancients mentioned must have come to similar conclusions, and like our legislators, acted up to their convictions.

ESOTERICIST.

Fiat Lux.

SIR,—The new medical bill before the House, it appears to me, needs to have light let in upon it. There is something suspicious going on, evidently. Let the public see what those precious Charlottetown doctors want, before an unjust law is put on the statutes. A year or two ago a measure was sought to shut out quacks—future quacks—and secure sufficient education and science in our future practitioners. This was all very right; but what is now up? Probably the city doctors want power to sit on better men than themselves now; to form a council or examining board, and shut out our young medicos at their sweet pleasure. Any such tyranny we'll fight to the death. But, before we dig up the hatchet, please give us an idea of what's contemplated. Fiat lux!
