LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Ancient People.

SIR,—As secretary of the Charlottetown Branch of the "London Society for Promoting Christianity Amongst the Jews," of which Judge Hensley is President, I shall forthwith make my annual calls upon the friends of the society for the purpose of receiving their contributions. Last April I remitted to the Society in London $81 63, and I hope to be able to make a much more liberal remittance for the current year.

The Rev. Mr. Hamlyn made an efficient appeal to his congregation in St. Paul's Church on Friday last, and the usual Good Friday collection was taken up.

The Society is doing a grand work, not only in Jerusalem, but in nearly every part of the world where Jews are to be found, and its claim upon our sympathy and support is perhaps stronger than any other missionary society in existence. If the antiquity of a family and the great names it can boast aggravate the calamity of its fall, then surely our pity for the Hebrew nation, humbled and ruined, must be of the intensest kind. The haughty noble who traces his descent from the Plantaganets has not half so good a lineage as the poorest Jew whom he pities for his beggary, or whose sordidness he rebukes with scorn. Though now outcast and down-trodden for a time they are destined to rise, not only in the world's grandeur and their restoration to their own land, but to be true Israelites in the grandeur of divine light and gospel privileges. Inheriting the statesmanship of Moses, the genius of Ezekiel and Isaiah, the melody of David, the minstrel king the warriorship of Joshua and the Maccabees, the marvellous eloquence of Paul, and withal a wonderful faculty for accumulating this world's wealth, they were the inheritors of a magnificent hereafter. Of them, "as concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is over all God-blessed forever"—and to them "pertain the adoption and the glory and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God and the promises." By their rejection and crucifixion of the Christ, the ploughshare of God's wrath has been going over them and their land for centuries, and they have forfeited the blessings of their glorious heritage, many of which for the time being have been transferred to us. But while as "concerning the Gospel they are enemies for our sake as touching the election, they are beloved for the Father's sake," and during this dark period of outlawry and suffering they appeal to us; and St. Paul gives voice to their appeal when he says, "For as ye in time past have not obeyed God, yet now obtained mercy through their disobedience; even so have these also now not obeyed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy."

It may be said that there is a special obduracy in the Hebrew heart, and that all effort spent upon them is wasted. This is not so. The iron hardness is admitted; but multitudes of them have accepted Christ. There is a power in the Gospel than can and does break down all opposition; and that which saved our fathers and saves us shall ultimately overleap all the barriers of Jewish prejudice. The degeneracy of national character, the incrustation of selfish worldiness shall not prevent it; but in deepest sorrow for the great wrong they did to the crucified "they shall look upon Him whom they have pierced and mourn as one mourneth for an only son," and in the great day when the nations shall go up for the coronation of the Saviour there shall be the Jews, eldest born of the world's aristocracies, with an ancestry which dates before parchments; foremost to bow the knee, foremost to lift the song, foremost to win the world to Christ, foremost to "bring forth the royal diadem and crown Him Lord of all."

F. W. MOORE.

Eastertide, 1893.

A Question to be Answered.

SIR,—Under what authority has the Government paid Mr. W. C. Hobkirk $600 for one year's salary as Engrosing clerk in the Registry Office? The law provides that engrossing clerks in the Registry Office shall receive $500 only. The assistant registrar is alone entitled to receive $600 a year, and this payment of $600 to Mr. Hobkirk is, I am told, a direct contravention of the statute. It is expected, however, that we must accept as right whatever the Premier grants to his principal armour bearer. I would like to see the items of the $160 56 charged in the public accounts for "Books of record, stationery," etc. The Approbation Act, 1892, only provided $100 for the Registry Office.

WHISKY.

A Suggestion.

SIR,—As there is no provision made in the estimates, tabled by the Leader of the Government for election purposes, I presume it is their intention to bring down and submit supplementary estimates. And if my surmise is correct, I would suggest that they include in them a small subsidy for the Charlottetown and P. E. Island Hospitals, establishments which are a credit to the Province, and which are struggling hard to hold their own. And as I see ample provision has been made for the poor and insane, I feel quite satisfied that no tangible objection would be made by any reasonable man if a small sum were voted to relieve the sufferings of the sick and afflicted both in city and country.

A TAXPAYER.

Nineteen Boxes.

BRANTFORD, March 20.—The Expositor last week published an article on the case of Archie Rymal, of this city, which has caused considerable excitement in Brantford and district. It appears Mr. Rymal has had more than his share of suffering during the past few years, so far was he run down from kidney disease that he had lost the power of his limbs and back. He could only get around with the aid of two crutches, or when assisted by kind hands. His death was daily expected. On the advice of his wife he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and took in all nineteen boxes. His improvement was marked from the second box. He is now completely cured, and a living testimony of the curative powers of that wonderful remedy

It Cleanses and Purifies.

NATURE'S FOUNTAIN OF LIFE.

IT HEALS, INVIGORATES, AND REJUVENATES.

Have You Tried its Marvellous Powers?

Tired, weary and disease-burdened sufferer, have you tried nature's fountain of life? Have you tested the grand virtues of that noble remedy that has restored to perfect health men and women who endured agonies as terrible as yours? If you have not, the fault is your own; for years it has been near you, but you have resisted the dictates of common sense, and have used agents that have made your condition more critical.

Paine's Celery Compound is nature's great life giving remedy. It knows no failures; it never disappoints the helpless and weary sufferer; its cures are sure, and in the majority of cases permanent.

Paine's Celery Compound cleanses and purifies the system; it takes away all impurities, and causes the life-blood to course through the body as nature intended it should.

Can you trust its powers as thousands before you have done? It will do a work for you that the ablest physicians cannot accomplish. Use it at once, it is life—true life!

What Prohibition Has Done for Maine.

It has improved the farms and houses.

It has made liquor selling a disgrace.

It has banished liquor selling from the grocery.

It has banished every brewery and distillery.

It has banished liquor from public entertainments.

It has driven liquor from a large majority of towns

It has confined it largely to the slums of the cities.

It has driven about all, except the lowest classes, from the traffic.

It has largely reduced the amount of drunkenness.

It has reduced the internal revenue tax per capita to about one-fortieth of the average of the whole country.

It has increased the number of persons to each saloon to about three times the average of the whole country.

It largely aided in reducing our State prison convicts to 1 in 4,000 of the population, while the average in the country is 1 to 1,000.

Maine, from being the poorest state in the union, is now one of the most prosperous, having snatched from the grog-shops more than $24,000,000 annually.

Y. W. C. T. U.

If your father, brother or friends were in danger from railway or steamer collision, unmanageable horses or any other accident, what would you not give, what would you not be willing to do—if you could but shield them from the danger, and yet you sit with folded hands and let a greater danger sweep around and about you, and carry away on the outgoing tide many a precious life, and you never step aside from your own pleasure or enjoyment to help to shield them from this evil. Perhaps this special temptation does not seem to threaten your loved ones. If so, out of gratitude for your own happy home, should you not give more thought to this work than to the daily routine of life? Do you say that already you have more to do than can be properly performed? In the list is there not some one thing of far less consequence which it would do no harm to lay aside and thus gain time for this? Will it not afford you more pleasure to look back upon work well done; to know that you have added brightness to many a life in passing; have done what you could to make the burden lighter that must rest upon the coming generation; than to look back upon the mere pleasure of an hour?

Each life touches another life and that life another, and so. The only way to make the world better is to do the little known duty that lies nearest us. Dare we take upon ourselves the responsibility of what may be the result of our neglecting to do that duty? Can you think of any way that you can do more effective work for humanity than to help strike a blow at the giant evil of to-day? The liquor traffic does more to degrade and destroy than all other evils combined.

Here, then, is a vast field for work. So much to be done, and every little counts. Either for or against is the question to-day. You at once say "against," but are you proving it? Are you out in the bright light of the temperance reform, showing your colors, letting the world know that you are shaping your life by a mighty principle, and thus helping to mould others, or, having always been a total abstainer, do you think there is nothing for you to do, and thus sit so quietly in the shadow of indifference that you can easily be mistaken for one in the darkness? We need to-day the help of every young woman in our land, and we ask you to at least prove to the world that not through apathy or indifference will you be in complicity with the drink evil.

"Never a day is given but it tones the after years,
And it carries up to Heaven its sunshine or its tears."

Let the to-days carry up to Heaven the blessed sunshine of an evil conquered for humanity's sake, and of a work well done for the Master.—Selected.

Why you take Cold and Cough.

Generally caused by exposure to cold, wet feet, sitting in a draught, coming from hot and crowded places, in thin dress, or wearing damp clothes, stockings, or any other cause tending to check suddenly the perspiration. The result produces inflammation of the lining membrane of the lungs or throat, and this causes phlegm or matter, which nature tries to throw off by expectoration. In many cases she is unable to do so without assistance, and this is
