Cuban Capital Is No Longer Wide Open Spot For Tourists

By ISAAC M. FLORES
HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban capital isn't the wide-open tourist spot it used to be but many Cubans still enjoy themselves despite Communist control over virtually every facet of daily living.

Nightclubs, high-class restaurants and bars do a thriving business. Movies are as popular as ever and increasing numbers of concerts cultural events and sports activities draw big crowds.

There are also a number of low-life clubs — places where girls are liberal in their attentions to the male customer and waterfront dives. Gambling, prostitution and abortion have been officially outlawed.

Havana's famous outdoor Tropicana is the strong favorite among the better cabarets, particularly on weekends. Other clubs doing big business are those at the big hotels.

There is no cover charge as such, but the first drink (usually rum because no Western whisky is imported) usually costs about three pesos (officially $3), with succeeding ones costing from 60 cents to $1.

CARNIVAL IS POPULAR
Havana's annual carnival, spread over five weekends, included a large assortment of floats, Afro-Cuban bands, dancing girls and dance groups.

Ballet has always been popular among the theatre-going crowd. Other attractions are musical concerts, plays, exhibitions of everything from paintings to agricultural machinery, sports, writing and poetry contests and ceremonies commemorating birthdays or death days of revolutionary heroes.

The Soviet Union has a continuous shuttle of show business talent in here including Moscow's Bolshoi Ballet. Russia also sends many athletic teams to compete against the Cubans.

Czechoslovakia has sent its Black Theatre of Prague, a widely acclaimed musical and dramatic pantomime show. Polish pianist Halina Czerny Stepanka is to appear here soon. Before Premier Fidel Castro's troubles with Communist China, a big song and dance aggregation from that country toured the island, playing to big crowds.

Movies currently making the rounds include the adaptation of Franz Kafka's classic novel The Trial, starring Anthony Perkins and Orson Welles. England's The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner, the American Oldie A Face in the Crowd and a badly faded copy of Some Like It Hot, featuring Marilyn Monroe.

The bulk of the films are from Communist countries with Spanish subtitles.

programs with amateur hours, educational shows, documentaries, ancient American and Mexican movies, filmed news programs and Castro speeches taking up most of the viewing time.

American-made animated cartoons, acquired before the Cuban-U.S. break are favorites of children and adults.

The diplomatic colony keeps busy attending its own functions, but there has been a decrease in the number of government people attending such parties. This is due to a purge of high-living, heavy-drinking "false revolutionaries."

Castro accused one French diplomat of telling counter-revolutionary jokes at a party which Cuban officials and their wives attended. Such activity is considered intolerable, the premier warned.

MONTAGUE

Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Buchanan, Pictou and son, Freeman attended the funeral of Mrs. Dan McDonald, Upper Montague.

Mrs. Gordon Buchanan, Sterling McDonald, Buntz Mountain, Brelesh Caumbeay, attended Mrs. McDonald's funeral.

On Wednesday evening the Murray River players presented a variety concert to a full house. During intermission, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch No. 8, Montague, sold homemade fudge. Proceeds of this sale are to be donated to the Legion for the Centennial Fund.

Nathaniel Campbell, Lester Campbell, Montague; Stanley Nicholson, Vernon Bridge are on a business trip to Boston, U.S.A.

BEDIQUE

The Kairos Group of the Bedique United Church sponsored a congregational Crokinole party in the Church hall recently. There was a good attendance and lunch was served at the conclusion of the party.

The boys public speaking contest was held March 28, in the Bedique Church Hall. There was good attendance. Charles MacFarlane, president of the men's club presided. The judges were: Rev. Dr. L. P. Archibald, William Callbeck and Roland Ramsay. The contest subjects were: Junior 9-11, 3 minutes "What The Bible Is." Following are the results:
