
DOCTOR TO STAND TRIAL

Dr. Horst Schumann, 60, arrives in Frankfurt, Germany, Wednesday from Ghana to stand trial in the wartime killing at Auschwitz concentration camp of 30,000 Jews and non-Germans. The new Ghana government agreed to his extradition after he had been there since 1959. Schumann is accused of participating in the Nazi mercy-killing program and with conducting fatal experiments in sterilization by x-rays at Auschwitz.

Three Cases In Traffic Court

SUMMERSIDE — Magistrate R.S. Hinton, QC, heard three highway traffic act cases yesterday morning in town police court.

Edward Gallant of Miscouche and Audrey Waugh of Wilmot pleaded guilty to speeding, each paying a fine of $10 and costs.

Lorraine Flynn of Charlottetown pleaded guilty to driving without due care and attention and was fined $10 and costs. According to town police, the accused was being checked for speeding and when the police officer approached her car, she inadvertently backed into the front end of the police vehicle, causing minor damage.

Fall Weather Favorable For Spud Digging, Plowing

By J. LINCOLN DEWAR

Probably something special in the way of approval is in order on the first two weeks of November; we are, of course, talking about the weather. It has been unusually mild and certainly favourable from the standpoint of carrying on the many farm jobs which need to be tidied up.

The only frost of any consequence came on the night of October 30 and did put a stop to potato harvesting on the last day of October and the first day of November. However, since that date the potato harvester and the plow along with a great variety of cultivators have been able to operate almost daily.

Much more so than urban people are the farmers aware of the greatly shortened evenings, a combination of mud and darkness are not the best in speeding up work. Now it should be safe to report that potato harvesting is completed except on the part of those who have had unusually difficulty or were born late in the afternoon.

UNCOMMITTED

Farming certainly has no monopoly of those who do not like their jobs. Our industrial economy and business world certainly is very good at providing people with jobs, unfortunately many of these jobs are singularly unattractive to the worker, the only attractive aspect being the pay cheque at the end of the work period.

Probably one of the greatest boons is liking what you are doing. If, in addition, the job presents a challenge, a sense of accomplishment and a feeling of achievement then a sound basis for satisfaction is achieved.

We suspect that much of the western world's troubled society stems from the dissatisfaction of workers who have no real interest in their jobs, how society deals with this major problem is certainly a challenge to the experts in this field.

Among farmers we have those who farm because they like the job, even though the financial rewards may not be great there are compensations for working for oneself and in working with nature, crops, livestock and modern machinery. Unfortunately there are many farmers in the profession solely because they never decide to get out of it. They never really decided to farm nor got involved to the point where they might be described as committed to the profession.

We suspect that as a new agriculture unfolds that the percentage of farmers in it who are there because they like farming and have committed themselves to it will be on the increase.

LAND USE

In a short space of time snow and frost will take charge of the earth and the soil and its vegetation will be in the background until a new spring stirs the earth into growth.

Even though the soil and the land may be at rest there is a very good reason to be thinking carefully about the future of our land resources.

With prospects improving for agriculture, with the province becoming more popular as a holiday area and with the causeway looming above the waves, it can be assumed that new value will be placed on and much greater activity will be noticed with respect to our land.

This province has an exciting future and it is not one that is one hundred years away; the new era can be very evident by 1975. Those who put their faith in these developments and get on the bandwagon early are the ones who will play the more imprtant parts and reap the richer harvests.

COUNTY MEETINGS

The stage is now set for the holding of the three annual meetings of the county federations.

We have explained before that the Federation of Agriculture has in its membership both organizations and individuals. The county meetings are the place where the grassroot membership is entitled to have its say and to take part in promoting policy for agriculture

The first meeting will be on Tuesday, November 22, 1966 at Birch Court where the Queens County Federation will assembl at 8 p.m.

On Thursday, November 24, 1966 at 8 p.m. the Prince County will meet at the United Church Centre in O'Leary.

On Wednesday, November 30, 1966 at 8 p.m. in the United Church Hall at Souris the Kings County will wind up the series.

Programs are being planned with a minimum of speechmaking and giving those present the opportunity of taking part in small group discussion and having their views brought before the meeting.

The new Minister of Agriculture the Hon. Daniel MacDonald has been invited and will, it is expected, be in attendance.

A very special feature will be the illustrated talk on his visit to Russia last summer by Keith Kennedy, Vice- President of the Queens County Federation.

Doane's recent Agricultural Report has the following observation re potatoes.

Crop is big— October production estimate was increased six per cent over the September report. Output is now pegged one per cent over last year. Also, quality is high. Prices are now within 40 cents or so of last season's top. This leaves little room for price improvement. Keep spuds moving unless markets show significant near-term weakness.

Presbyterian Men To Hold Rally

An Island wide rally for Presbyterian Men will be held in Zion Church, Charlottetown, on Monday evening. The evening will begin with a banquet in the Coles Memorial Hal last 2.30 p.m.

Following the banquet the gathering will be addressed by Rev. A.J. Gowland, Secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Action, The Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mr. Gowland is presently on a Maritime tour and will conduct the morning service in Zion Church on Sunday morning at 11 a.m.
