Handicraft Body Plans Fall Show

At its first annual meeting held on Saturday, Donald Stewart of Bunbury was re-elected president of the P.E.I. Craftsmen's Council.

Following morning workshop sessions when demonstrations and help were given by the Handicraft Branch staff, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lister, Jeannine Albert and Linda Friars at the Handicraft office on Pownall Street. The business session was held and members decided to proceed with plans for the Christmas sale and display Nov. 19 and 20 at the Confederation Centre upper foyer.

Committees were appointed to handle preparations and publicity for this, which it is hoped will not only be a financial success, but will acquaint many more people with the high standard and wide range of handicrafts produced in P.E.I.

Two committees were appointed, consisting of Harry Cannon and Robert Girdlay, M.L.A. for Prince County, and Harry Morris, Dan Mullen and Donald Stewart for Queen's County, to explore the possibilities of handicraft competitions and sales during Lobster Carnival and Old Home Week.

Town Housing Needs Discussed At Meeting

GEORGETOWN — Town Council met recently with government officials and representatives of town industries to discuss possible solutions to the pressing need for housing in the town.

Central Mortgage and Housing officials had spent three days in Georgetown several months ago conducting a survey of the housing needs of the community.

Their report was submitted to the provincial government at a meeting in August and again on Thursday.

In an effort to find a suitable solution for the pressing housing shortage in the various plans available for home and apartment construction were analyzed and thoroughly discussed at the meeting. There are four avenues or plans under which housing accommodations can be provided through Central Mortgage and Housing. They are the ordinary, individually built and owned house, the federal and provincial and municipal arrangement of 75 per cent being put up by the federal government and the other 25 per cent by the provincial government and the municipality; limited dividend housing and co-operative housing.

Limited dividend housing or co-operative housing are the two fields that could be applied to the Georgetown situation.

Under the limited dividend plan a public housing agency or a municipality could obtain a loan up to 90 per cent of the total cost, following evidence of need.

On the cooperative housing plan it was felt that if enough people evidenced interest that this was the ideal time of year to form several groups to build houses. Following a study period over the winter months, construction could be commenced in the spring.

The council is planning further and immediate study of the pressing situation as regards housing and meetings will be held with representatives from industry and the resources development group.

J. A. MacLeod Dies In City

A well known Charlottetown retail grocer, James Alexander MacLeod, died suddenly late Thursday night in Charlottetown Hospital.

Mr. MacLeod, who would have been 53 years of age yesterday, suffered a heart seizure at his home and died shortly after he was admitted to hospital.

He had been in the grocer business ever since leaving school. His store, at 55 Upper Queen St., was the same stand that his late father and grandfather, Alec and Angus MacLeod operated for many years.

Mr. MacLeod conducted business yesterday as usual and last night was watching television prior to his fatal seizure.

He is survived by his wife, the former Catherine Murphy, two daughters, both at home, Rosemary and Heather, two sisters, Edith, Mrs. Lincoln Nutbrown, Sherbrooke, Que., Agnes, Mrs. Charles MacNeill, Milton, P.E.I., and one brother, Alfred, Charlottetown.

His remains are resting at The Hennessey Funeral Home from where the funeral will be held this morning to The Church of The Most Holy Redeemer for Requiem High Mass. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

growth and expansion of the town and is also of major concern to the industries located here, if they are to be able to attract and hold vitally needed key personnel.

Attending the meeting were Hon. Leo F. Rossiter, minister of Municipal Affairs; Eugene Gorman, deputy minister; Claude Smith, director of town planning; William Maggs, president of the P.E.I. Housing Commission; Robert Gagne of Central Mortgage and Housing, Moncton, N.B.; M. Sherwood and Mrs. W.J. Collins, both of the Halifax office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation; Jens Moe, chairman of the board of directors of Gulf Garden Foods Ltd. and Bathurst Marine Ltd., and executive and foreman personnel of both Gulf Garden Foods Ltd. and Bathurst Marine Ltd.

Canada Savings Bonds are issued by the Government of Canada. Any Canadian resident may buy them. They come in various sizes—$50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000. The limit is $10,000 per person.

The 1965 Bonds have a life of 12 years. They pay you good interest every year—4½% for each of the first two years, 5% for each of the next six years and 5½% for each of the remaining four years.

You don't have to keep your Bond for the full 12 years if you don't want to. You can get your money back any time. Just take it to your bank, trust or loan company. They'll give you its full face value plus earned interest. It only takes a few moments.

Canada Savings Bonds are easy to buy for cash or on instalments. Banks sell them. So do investment dealers, stock brokers, trust and loan companies.

You can also buy them on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. A $100 Bond will cost you less than 29¢ a day. (The Bonds you buy on the Payroll Savings Plan are identical in all respects to the Bonds you buy for cash.)

Canada Savings Bonds are a great way to save. They pay good interest. They are easy to buy. You can cash them any time.

Everyone has something to save for. To get what you want a little faster, buy Canada Savings Bonds.
