Y.P.U. ORGANIZED—A Young People's Union was organized in Alberton United Church Thursday evening. Officers are, president, Belle Wilkie; vice-president, Douglas Currie; secretary, Lily Beth Clarke; treasurer, Lona Hunter; program convener, Miss Gloria Reid. The meeting was held in the church hall. A social hour was enjoyed. The worship was led by Rev. Murray Gardner, assisted by Belle Wilkie who read the scripture.

FUNERAL FRIDAY—The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Smith, held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Almayne Hunt, at Alberton South to St. Peter's Anglican Church Friday afternoon, was conducted by the rector, Rev. J. R. McMahon. hymns sung were "Have Mercy On Us Good Men High," "Father To Thee I Come" and "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus." Pall bearers were Messrs. William Leach, George McBeth, Wilfred Gaudin, S. I. Matthews, Maurice Perry, Sr., and Cedric Hunter. Flower bearers were Kenneth and William Hunt, Hanson and Francis Smith and Merle Skerry. Interment was in the church cemetery.

CARS COLLIDE—A 1940 Pontiac driven by Mr. Elmer Gallant of Summerside rammed into the rear of a 1950 Meteor owned by Mr. John Wright, also of Summerside, while the latter vehicle was parked in front of Amalgamated Dairies, Summerside East, with considerable damage to both vehicles. No one was injured in the accident which occurred about 10 o'clock last evening. A rather heavy fog, combining with the glare from the lights of an oncoming car, apparently blinded Gallant momentarily resulting in the accident. Mr. Wright is manager of Amalgamated Dairies, where Mr. Gallant is also employed.

PERSONALS—Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Edwards of Summerside, were Sunday visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thomas, North Tryon.

PERSONALS—The many friends of Mrs. Fred Thomas of South Granville, are pleased to learn that she is progressing favourably following an operation in the Prince County Hospital on Sept. 30th.

Prompt Action Prevents Serious Fire In S'ide—Smoke issuing from the office of A. Raymond Grant, Summerside optometrist, above Maurice Mill's men's clothing store on Water Street, was discovered early last evening and the prompt response of the Summerside Fire Department prevented serious damage to the building.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Roy Grant, teacher at Summerside High School, and nephew of the optometrist.

In compliance with a request from his uncle, who had suddenly been called to Charlottetown, Mr. Grant had gone to the office to inquire on whether or not a hot plate in the office had been disconnected.

On opening the door at street level Mr. Grant was met by smoke and on climbing the stairs discovered that the fire was in the inner office used by his uncle.

After calling the Fire Department from the outer office, Mr. Grant was almost overcome by the heavy smoke while making his way back to the street.

The Fire Department on arrival sent some of their men into the building wearing smoke masks while others placed ladders at the windows and kept the men inside supplied with fire fighting equipment.

A narrow alleyway separated the building from the Read Studio and camera shop, and the manager, Mr. D. W. Sears, suspended a large studio light from an upstairs window in his studio and illuminated the whole area for the benefit of the fire-fighters at work in the dark alley.

The hot plate, believed responsible for the fire, is thought to have ignited something on the table on which it was placed. The table in turn had burned in halves and the floor had begun to burn when the firemen reached the scene and extinguished the fire.

At least one piece of the equipment Mr. Grant uses in his practice of optometry appeared to have been damaged by the fire, but fortunately the more essential equipment was untouched and Mr. Grant said last evening that his office will be open today as usual.

Some damage from smoke and water occurred in the office where the fire started.

The store of Maurice Mill, located directly below, escaped with little more than some water which came through the ceiling, but which did not cause any damage to the merchandise.

Mr. Matheson again made reference to a letter of Sept 11 in which he stated that he had been advised by the Government that the procedure and methods proposed would be acceptable to potato growers. You have our views but nevertheless the Government will not at present take any action to revoke the Order-in-Council permitting you to take a vote.

Mr. Matheson stated in part: "It is the view of the Government that any plebiscite taken would be abortive and only lead to dissatisfaction and criticism unless all potato growers are given the opportunity of expressing their approval or otherwise not only on the question proposed by you in your letter but also on the question of the Potato Marketing Board acting as the sole selling agency in the province for the marketing of potatoes."

Flying Bedstead

This official picture, just released, shows Britain's revolutionary jet plane during recent test. The British dubbed the wingless plane the "Flying Bedstead". The aircraft, which is little more than an engine with a pilot mounted on top, flew a successful test run about two weeks ago. It can take off and land vertically, eliminating the need for the lengthy runways required by standard jet planes. The two jet engines are held in tubular construction and the whole thing stands on four tubular legs. There are two small wheels on the legs which enable it to be moved around.

S'ide Y's Men's Club Meeting—The Y's Men's Club held a meeting on Wednesday evening. Arrangements were made for the fiddling contest, held last night, and for a forthcoming wrestling match.

Y's Jim Connell reported to the club that the No. 3 Cub Pack was without a leader. Y's Eric Tanton, speaking on the Y's Men sponsored Boy Scouts, said that scouting was again under way for the year and that a total of six cub pack leaders were needed. He said that week-end training courses for Cub and Scout leaders would be held in October at Crapaud and on Saturday afternoon, and Sunday. The world Boy Scout jamboree is being held in Canada this year near Niagara Falls, with an expected attendance of some 20,000 boys. Five or six Scouts from Summerside and vicinity will be sent to this jamboree. The matter of the lack of Cub leaders was referred to the group committees for action.

Y's Charles Linkletter spoke to the club regarding the Y's Men's district conclave and it was agreed by the club that an invitation should be sent to the Charlottetown clubs to hold this conclave in Summerside.

Y's John Leaty told the members that there was this year a service club classification for singing in the Music Festival. It was agreed that the Summerside Y's Men should put an entry in this section.

Premier Gives—In abeyance. I would have much preferred not taking a vote, but I can see no other way out. The plebiscite will be taken by the Government and not by the Provincial Marketing Board as was the case last May. "This," the Premier said, "was because of the fact that the Board refused to handle it since they might be considered an interested party."

"The big trouble in putting into effect such a scheme," said the Premier, "is that it involves a great deal of tact on both sides. There must be a great deal of give and take. . . . Trying to get the dealers and the producers to work together is like putting a lion and a tiger together in one cage."

CLEAR OF INTERFERENCE—"In any event," he said, "I would like to see a Board clear of Government interference. This is their own affair and there is no reason that they cannot run it themselves."

The Premier dealt in some detail with the correspondence between his office and members of the Provincial Marketing Board. The first, dated April 14, dealt with "the time of the plebiscite," the manner of taking the plebiscite and the "eligibility of voters."

The Premier concluded, "It is the opinion of the Board that one question and one question only should be asked." The question he suggested is as follows: "Are you in favor of the continued operation of the Prince Edward Island Potato Marketing Board?"

In reply to this letter, April 22, Premier Matheson stated in part: "It is the view of the Government that any plebiscite taken would be abortive and only lead to dissatisfaction and criticism unless all potato growers are given the opportunity of expressing their approval or otherwise not only on the question proposed by you in your letter but also on the question of the Potato Marketing Board acting as the sole selling agency in the province for the marketing of potatoes."

"I have again placed your opinions before the Government in view of our representations and insistence that the procedure and methods proposed would be acceptable to potato growers. You have our views but nevertheless the Government will not at present take any action to revoke the Order-in-Council permitting you to take a vote."

Mr. Matheson again made reference to a letter of Sept 11 in which he stated that he had been advised by the Government that the procedure and methods proposed would be acceptable to potato growers. You have our views but nevertheless the Government will not at present take any action to revoke the Order-in-Council permitting you to take a vote."

Summerside And Tignish Share Honors At Fiddling, Step Dancing Contest

Sizzling fiddle tunes and lively exhibitions of step dancing which were roundly applauded by a crowd of more than 300 at the Y's Men's Club sponsored Prince County fiddling and step dancing contest in the Curling Rink at Summerside last evening.

Linus Bolger and Toussaint Arsenault, both of Summerside, were chosen as first and second place winners of the fiddling contest in a class of ten contestants, while Tony Perry of Tignish, for the sixth consecutive year, won the step dancing contest, in which Peter Gaudet of Miscouche placed second, also in a class of ten competitors.

These winners will represent Prince County in the provincial championship finals at Charlottetown. The program last evening included one lady in the old-time fiddling contest, while three others competed in the step dancing. These four ladies received loud applause, when, at the conclusion of the main part of the program, they responded to the request of the crowd with the three ladies step dancing to the lively tunes of the lady violinist.

Another impromptu presentation that met with the spontaneous approval of the crowd was a very fine exhibition of step dancing by 73-year-old Parnell Cosgrove of Sherbrooke, a contestant in the fiddling contest.

Those taking part in the fiddling contest were: Mrs. Arthur Gaudet, Summerside; John D. Scully, Lennox Island; Elmer Richard, Summerside; Peter D. Peters, Lennox Island; Parnell Cosgrove, Sherbrooke; Elmer Robinson, Ellerslie; Russel Warren, Summerside; Linus Bolger, Summerside; Ervan S. Bolger, Summerside; Toussaint Arsenault, Summerside.

The step dancers were: H. W. MacDonald, Conway; John L. Murphy, Freetown; Gabriel Pinnau, Bloomfield; Isaac Fraser, Summerside; Mrs. Fred Matthews, Summerside; Mary Ella Gallant, Summerside; Billy Gallant, Summerside; Tony Perry, Tignish; Norma Shea, Tignish, and Peter Gaudet, Miscouche.

The program was M.C.'d by Al Nicholson, and the judges were George Brooking, William Jenkins, Edwin Gallant, Dr. J. C. Simpson, James MacKenzie and J. A. Gallant.

Polio Diagnosing Method May Reveal New Viruses And Treatment Methods—TORONTO, (CP)—A quick, new method of diagnosing polio developed by researchers at the Hospital for Sick Children here may reveal previously unknown viruses and lead to new treatment methods.

Use of the technique would affect polio vaccines by showing virus diseases which could be included in preventative doses.

Until recently the only method of positively diagnosing polio was to inject the virus from a patient into a monkey. If the monkey developed polio, the patient had the disease. But monkeys were costly and the method was slow.

The hospital, in collaboration with the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories of the University of Toronto, developed a method by which kidney tissue of monkeys was kept alive in a solution. When infected with the virus, results on the tissue were similar to those in a monkey.

The laboratory used the system to produce large quantities of virus for use in the Salk vaccine, now being tested widely throughout the United States. The hospital's research institute used the Missing Typhoon Victim's Wife Tells Eyewitness Story—HAKODATE, Japan, (AP)—She lay dazed and swathed in blood-soaked bandages on the white hospital bed. Lemko Champagne's dreams of a trip to the United States were shattered.

"We were on our way to Yokohama where we were due to take the ferry to Tokururu. After it left the breakwater it dropped anchor."

"Some time later, about the time we should have reached Aomori, one of the ship officers came to us and told us to put on our life jackets because the ship was pitching and tossing."

TIPS ON SIDE—"Suddenly the ship tipped over until the left side of the ship came the ceiling and water started pouring in from the bottom."

"Everybody was trying to get out. It was hell. I could not swim and my husband stayed beside me shouting 'keep your head out of the water!'"

"My tears began to form in her eyes. In a wavering, but excited voice she continued: "A negro soldier was clinging to the ceiling trying to open one of the windows. He fell right on top of me. I was pushed down and sucked under. I was frantic with fear. Everything was dark. I remember crawling through dark and narrow passages filled with water."

HIT BY BIG WAVES—"I lost consciousness. The next time I remembered anything I was on top of waves. Each time a wave would hit me I would turn somersault."

"I was hit about 10 times by big waves and then suddenly I felt the sandy beach beneath me. I tried to walk but couldn't so I crawled up on land."

"I lay still for about an hour when someone came up with a flashlight and carried me to an ambulance and brought me to this hospital."

"The reason I couldn't walk was because I had a big chunk gouged out of my right leg."

"We lost visas, passports and everything on the ship. I even have a pair of slacks and my military identification card was in my pocket but the waves tore off my slacks and I don't even have identity papers. I suppose it will take some time to get our visas again."

Then tears brimming in her eyes she said: "Please find my husband for me, won't you?"

Killed At Border

ST. STEPHEN, N.B. (CP)—Earle McPherson of Calais, Me., a United States immigration officer in his late 60s, was killed today when his car plunged through the wooden railing of the International bridge here and into the St. Croix river. McPherson was the sole occupant of the car as it plunged off the bridge connecting St. Stephen and Calais and landed upside down in five feet of water.

Millard Glidden, 30, of Calais plunged into the water to attempt a rescue but was hampered by strong river currents. Cause of the accident was not known but it was believed the victim suffered a stroke.
