INTEREST SHOWN—Keen interest is evidenced in the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Classes for advanced swimmers under Mr. Ralph Emery at Summerside.

WE HAVE in stock three Cockshutt mowers, two ten foot Cockshutt rakes, one five foot Cockshutt binder. Since we are no longer Cockshutt representatives we are offering these at a special discount. James A. MacNeill and Sons, Summerside.

WORK STARTED—Work has started on the paving of the Canadian National Railway crossing on Water Street East, Summerside. For the past year since the steel rails between the tracks were removed it has been about the roughest crossing imaginable. Even when the rails were there it was pretty rough but it got worse since they were removed. Protests about its condition have been made by the Board of Trade and finally work has begun. The material used is gravel chips sealed with asphalt. The job is being done by town workmen but will be paid for by the railway.

LAIID TO REST — The funeral of the late James S. Sutherland, formerly of Sea View, who passed away at Gagetown, N.B. where he was a retired banker was held Monday from the Bowens Funeral Home to St. Mary's Anglican Church, Summerside, where a most impressive service was conducted by Ven. Archdeacon G.R. Harrison. Many former business associates of the deceased who were associated with him when he was manager of the Bank of New Brunswick in Summerside attended to pay their last respects. The hymns sung by the choir and congregation were "Let Saints on earth in concert sing with those whose work is done" and "On the resurrection morn." The pall bearers were Messrs. William Hayward, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, W. Arthur Allen, Dr. J.A. MacMurdo, Herbert Stright from Summerside, Heath Montgomery, Park Corner, and Robert Cousins of Balic.

HONORED ON 86TH BIRTHDAY — On the evening of July 13th, the family, grand children and great grandchildren gathered at the home of James P. Smith, Kinkora, to help him celebrate his 86th birthday. Mr. Smith, who possesses a pleasant and kind disposition, is still very active and enjoying the best of health. The dining room table was centered with a beautiful birthday cake and inscribed on it were the words "happy birthday, father, 1864-1950". It was decorated with mums and roses and lighted with 86 candles for the occasion. The remainder of the evening was spent in chatter, violin solos, vocal solos, and dancing. The violin solos were given by his grandson, Alfred Kelly, and the vocal solos by his grandsons, Raymond Kelly, Alfred Kelly and Earl Carr. After a very enjoyable evening the various members of the family dispersed to their homes.

WARM RECEPTION

daughter, Mrs. Fred Gates of West Royalty.

Mrs. C. T. Hynes, Parkville, Vancouver Island, had crossed the continent to P. E. I. and was met by the brother, Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan. Mrs. Hynes is formerly of Clermont, P.E.I., and stated that she was very happy to be returning for the first time in twenty-five years.

Professor H. Blanchard was also at the station to meet his sister Mrs. D. Donovan, Riviere Qui Barre, Alta. Mrs. Blanchard, the former Donithilde Blanchard, was returning for the first time in thirty-four years, and was extremely anxious to visit her old home in Duvar, P.E.I.

Older Islanders returning on the excursion was 74-year-old Mr. R. L. Ramsay who with Mrs. Ramsay was intent on getting to Malpeque again. Travelling from Lacombe, Alberta, they had both enjoyed the trip immensely, and Mrs. Ramsay said it was good to see the old island again after thirty-eight years. Mr. Ramsay had returned for a visit in 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay had left this Province in 1906, and are to be guests of relatives in Malpeque. Mr. Ramsay's only lament was that he had been unable to use his electric razor on the train, but the sleeping car conductor had very kindly given him a couple of close shaves.

Came Longest Distance

Travelling the longest distance was Mr. John MacKenzie, 70 years of age, from Sunnyside, forty miles south of San Francisco. Mr. MacKenzie had driven by car to Victoria, B.C., and had left his wife with relatives there. Catching the train in Vancouver he had been looking forward for the past five days to seeing "Spud Island" again after thirty-seven years. Mr. MacKenzie will visit his two sisters and brother at Canoe Cove.

Mr. Albert M. Shepard of Kelso, Wash., had driven by car to Edmonton in order to make the excursion. He was met at Emerald by Mrs. Shepard, the former Elsie Gardiner of Miscouche, who had flown to this Province in June to see her mother who is ill in hospital.

Mr. T. G. Kelly had left his farm at Trochu, Alberta, to make the trip to Donaldson, P. E. I., which he had left some forty-four years ago. Mr. Kelly said that it was thirty-one years except for one day since the last time he had set foot on Island soil.

"It has been a wonderful experience, and Island people are very pleasant to travel with," was the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tangdahl of New Westminster, B. C. Although it is the first visit to the island for Mr. Tangdahl, Mrs. Tangdahl is well known in the Bedouque district as the former Harriet MacFarlane.

Mrs. M. A. Chudleigh, Calgary, the former Annie McCarthy of Morell, is another of the long absent Islanders, and is returning for the first time in thirty-six years. She is to visit her brother Frank McCarthy, Morell.

Mrs. Margaret and Irene Smith, Calgary, were on their way for a long awaited visit with Mrs. Smith's brother, R. J. McCormack of Monticello, P. E. I. Irene had not visited the Island before, and laughingly declared she hoped the men here were more attractive than the ones she had left behind.

Also making the trip from the West was four-year-old Fernie Hougau, of Swift Current, Sask., who is on a visit to Freetown, P. E. I. to see her great grandfather, Mr. James Holmes, who is 87. She was accompanied by her mother and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Holmes of Saskatoon.

During the trip, bingo, chess, cribbage, bridge and canasta games had been played in the recreation cars, and Mrs. Lem Mellett, formerly of Charlottetown, played the organ and led the sing-songs. The entertainment committee included Miss Margaret Chisholm, Halifax; Mr. T. R. Smith, Saint John, N.B.; Lorraine Evans, Truro, and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Waller of Moncton.

Of the total 170 passengers leaving Edmonton on the special, fifty-nine were bound for Prince Edward Island, seventy for Nova Scotia, and forty for New Brunswick and one for Newfound.

The postmaster was Dr. A. H. Hodgwin, retired dentist of Kindersley, Sask., who was born at Baie Verte, N.B. He is a graduate of the Baltimore Dental College class of 1889.

Also on board was a honeymoon couple, Lac. A. T. Bates of the R. C. A. C., Edmonton, and Mrs. Bates. They were married on the day before the special left Edmonton and were en route to Digby, the groom's former home.

This is the second of these special trains, which are organized under the auspices of the Maritime Association of Edmonton, and are in charge of Mr. J. V. Dodds, secretary of that Association. The first, known as the "Bluenose Special", was organized last year and brought a number of former Maritimers from Western Canada to the Atlantic Provinces.

Following is a list of P. E. Island passengers: From Edmonton: Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon, Union Corner; Mrs. B. M. Bearstow, Charlottetown; Mrs. C. Bradshaw, Charlottetown; Mrs. E. Fisher-Smith, Summerside; Miss Vera Horner, Charlottetown; Mr. L. B. Howatt, Charlottetown; Mrs. E. M. Mutiar, Summerside; Miss Irene MacKillop, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stewart, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stewart, and Miss Mary Stewart, Charlottetown.

New Mobilization

He gave no indication of intention to call Parliament at this time.

The Prime Minister left shortly after the four-hour cabinet session to renew his holiday for another two weeks on the St. Lawrence river at St. Patrice, Que.

In his 650-word statement, he called the Communist aggression in Korea "a breach in the outer defences of the free world" and said "the nations of the free world must examine urgently and carefully where each can make its weight most effectively felt in the over-all defence pattern."

He said cabinet gave "full and earnest" study to the call of Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary-general, for further military aid in Korea but that the study also embraced Canada's "other interests and responsibilities." It had concluded that Canada's military chiefs as well as American civil and military authorities.

What he went on to say, later elaborated by officials, added up to this:

Korea Air transport for the Korean war "is an immediate need" One of two regular R. C. A. F. transport squadrons will go "at once" to serve in the Pacific air lift. The North Stars flown by No. 426, commanded by Wing Cmdr. C. H. Mussels, 30, of Montreal, can carry six tons apiece. The squadron has about 300 men, air and ground crew. It will have to establish its own supply bases across the Pacific from San Francisco via Hawaii and Wake Island to Japan.

The planes will come under American command but will have their own ground crew.

Mr. St. Laurent placed no final bar against dispatch of ground troops to Korea when he said that "having in mind the other obligations for the employment of Canadian ground forces, the cabinet has reached the conclusion that the dispatch, at this stage, of existing first line elements of the army to Korea would not be warranted."

He added: "Should a decision be taken by the Security Council of the U. N. to recruit an international force for service, under the U. N. command, in Korea, the Canadian Government will give immediate consideration to Canadian participation in such an undertaking."

Any such step would require approval by parliament on the basis of his pre-arranged statement.

The two contributions, naval and air, will raise Canada's manpower for Korea to about 1,000.

Forces The existing manpower ceiling of 50,434 is being lifted to undisclosed heights.

No mention was made of the number of men to be sought but Mr. St. Laurent said that after 3,000 to 4,000, the navy less than 1,000, the air force 2,000 to 3,000. Total present strength is about 47,000 including 9,300 in the navy, 20,400 in the army and 17,300 in the air force.

Lowering of the present tough admission standards is being considered.

Navy "To be prepared for other eventualities, including the requirements for supporting the ships now in the Far East, authority has been given for the navy to place additional ships in commission to bring others up to full complement and to recruit whatever additional men are needed."

The manpower on all commissioned navy ships will be brought up to full complement. They now are at peacetime training complements. This means that a destroyer now has about 215 men but will be brought up to around 280. This has already been done for the three destroyers heading for Korea.

Four warships will be brought out of reserve. This step will increase the home force and make ships ready to replace the three ships in the Pacific after a certain period of time. Naval sources said it might take from two to six months to get enough men and to make the other arrangements to put these ships into service.

seventeen from St. Vincent's Orphanage comprised the group. The boys crossed on the 11 o'clock boat, and returned on the 4 o'clock boat; the transportation being willingly provided free of charge by the Department of Public Works.

The majority of the youngsters from town had been on expeditions of a similar sort before, but for the boys from the Orphanage it was a decidedly new experience. All shared equally in the thrills and spills of the day, but the banner goes to the Orphanage boys for "the best in entertainment." A concert was not planned as one of the events of the day, but during the afternoon, the boys from St. Vincent's, through their own initiative, provided an open air facsimile of same, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The playground boys picked up the boys from town and joined with their new found friends in the final chorus. The remainder of the afternoon was a half and half affair—half in the water and half on the ball field. There is just one little request this writer would like to make. "Whenever in charge of boys, lighthouses, and the numerous odds and ends on the Rocky Point boat, would you please mark them with their proper name, in huge letters, together with all additional information required by interested six year olds? Thank you, I. E. I. main—indebted to you for life. The next hike for boys will be on Thursday July 27th at 10:30 a.m. and will also be to Rocky Point. Incidentally the girls from King Square will leave their square for a picnic to Rocky Point on Friday of this week at 10:30 a.m.

Readers may judge the accuracy of this statement as they see fit. It seems two wire haired terriers were heard barking at each other on the corner of Kent and Hillsboro the other morning, and the text of the conversation ran as follows: First dog: "Why were you rushing up Kent St.?" Second dog (as he passed the front door of the Naval Barracks, headed for the bus stop, and barking over his shoulder): "If you saw the sign did you see King Square?" "Now, you'd rush too," I. E. I. says. "Pet show and doll carriage parade Thursday night." "What difference does that make?" replied the first dog, evidently a bit younger than the other. "Look chum", barked the other dog (now at Old Spain) "last year I placed second in the class for large cats, and this year ago the judges elected me the cutest doll on parade. Even a dog has his pride, I'm heading for the Abegweit ferry." "Alright kids, that's what one dog has to say about the show, and probably more concerns, the kittens and their pets are in mutual agreement. There's just one thing to do and one thing to remember. First of all get a leash on that pet animal or domestic one that isn't a pet and secondly, remember when you arrive at the show at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening, with your pet tied up in ribbons, be sure that he is entered in the proper class. The judges will have enough to do trying to pick a winner without first having to decide whether it is a dog or a cat. See you at the show."

The Hillsboro Pet Show and Doll Carriage Parade will be held at 6 o'clock on Friday, July 28th.

Playground supervisors do not like to be considered as dictators so if you are requested or rather ordered by your supervisor to "put out that cigarette" or "put a penny on that unclean tongue," do not make such a grimace of disapproval. Those rules are not new. They have been in force on the playgrounds for a long time, and also carry with them the penalty of expulsion from the squares. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Until next week—good playing.
