BALKAN AREA — Moslems form the largest portion of the population of Albania, mountainous republic on the Adriatic.

A recent visitor here was Mr Alfred Sinnott, to his old home, where a brother Joe and his wife reside. Alfred left this vicinity thirty-five years ago and after a long term in the U.S.A. returned to Emerald Junction to take up farming and make his home. The younger people don't even remember Alfred Sinnott, and as he says, many old faces are gone.

Mr. Frank Dunn and his two brothers, Anthony and Clifford, have returned from a motor trip to Boston. Frank has been manager of the Co-op store here since it was opened, while Clifford is a carpenter and builder who came back here after thirty-five years at the trade in the west, while Anthony is on the old homestead.

It has been reported that Mr. and Mrs. Willard MacDonald, Mt. Stewart, are looking for a property to buy in the village. Mr. Mac-

Miss Catherine Kelly, City, spent the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly. Two brothers, Owen and Joe, also arrived for the holiday season.

The Misses Norma and Phyllis Sinnott arrived from the City along with their sister Lorraine and two brothers, Clement and Ralph, to spend Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Sinnott.

Another recent visitor here was Mr. Stephen MacDonald from Farmington, with his old friend, Mr. John T. O'Brien.

Mr. John R. O'Brien has arrived from Halifax, N.S., to spend the holiday season with his wife and family here, and one daughter Lila, Mrs. Stewart, in the City.

Mr. Edgar Hawbolt, who is a patient in the Sanatorium at Charlottetown, was allowed home for the Christmas holiday, like many others who are not too seriously ill.

Mr. Barney MacDonald was a Christmas day visitor here from the City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. MacDonald.

With the mild open weather nothing has been done about the rink here, and prospects of hockey are slight right now. The big dream of closing in the rink that has been open for some years has drifted away, and most of the village thoughts are on bowling right now.

Reports that Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Brien and family would not spend any more summers here are not true, says Mr. O'Brien. "We plan to spend our summers in the country as usual," he says, "after school closing."

It is pleasing to learn that Miss Teresa O'Brien, who spent almost three months in hospital following an attack of polio last September, is home again, and the doctors say she will be off to her school class at Notre Dame Convent after the Christmas holidays are over.

Friends and patients here of Doctor T. L. Farmer, City, will be pleased to learn he is back at his office again and on the hospital staff after suffering from a sore leg for several weeks. Dr. Farmer practised here for several years while residing at Mount Stewart.

Friends here of Mrs. Evelyn Cudmore, City, will be pleased to learn she is enjoying good health now after a lengthy stay in the Sanatorium. Mrs. Cudmore is well remembered here by her schoolmates as Evelyn McEwen. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McEwen, who resided near the old Bristol Hills, are both dead.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 26—(CP)—At the box office, where money makes the music that Hollywood loves, the favorites are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

The story is the same in both Canada and the United States, shown in the annual poll of movie exhibitors by the trade magazine, Motion Picture Herald.

In addition to Canadian and U.S. exhibitors, the operators of British film houses were polled. It was found that Bob Hope was the top draw there.

Hope was rated second by Canadian exhibitors and the other top box-office draws in Canada follow in this order:

Doris Day, Bing Crosby, John Wayne, Stewart Granger, Gary Cooper, Robert Williams, Betty Hutton and Humphrey Bogart.

In the U.S. Wayne, who led the parade for 1950 and 1951, slipped to third place behind Cooper, Crosby in fourth.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28—(AP)—Some analysts feel the steel industry won't need to run at 100 per cent of capacity through 1953, but an ease in demand is unlikely to bring price reductions. Steel magazine says today.

"Good business for the steel industry for the first half of 1953 is in the bag," the weekly magazine of metal-working reports.

But recent plant expansions will send the industry into the year with around 116,000,000 net tons of capacity, compared with an estimated 93,000,000 tons produced during 1952 when two-month steel strike cut output to 86 per cent of capacity.

Before the year ends another 4,000,000 tons of capacity will be added to steel-making plants, and the experts think next year's needs should be filled by about 105,000,000 tons, a 90-per-cent rate of operation, Steel says.

Any easing of orders, the magazine says is "not likely to bring outright reductions in the standard price of steel. What first would happen is this: Premium prices would disappear; qualities would go up; freight absorption by steel producers would become increasingly apparent."

Last week, in spite of the Christmas holiday, production of ingots and castings dropped only 2.5 points to 103 per cent of rated capacity.

Vote of Thanks To Harbor Pilot For Rescue Work

(Editors note: The Lebanon Parliament passed a vote of thanks Wednesday to Harbor Pilot Radwan Baltaji, whose heroism and skill rescued from death most of the 328 persons on the grounded liner Champollion after she had broken up in angry seas 200 yards from land. Here is his account of the rescue.)

By Radwan Baltaji BEIRUT, Lebanon, Dec. 26—(Reuters)—I don't want any reward for what I did, which was only my duty. After all, God has already given me my best reward—a clear conscience that I did what I should have.

The idea of how to get in near the Campollion—came to me as I was piloting the cruiser Kenya out to it. I could see the British ship, big as she was, could never get close enough to do any good.

The trouble was the strong permanent currents had formed a barrier all around the Champollion. These had frustrated all the attempts.

I decided that if a small boat like mine would get going full tilt, head on into the inside of the current, and still have time to turn parallel before crashing into the Champollion, we could go where the big ships couldn't.

My comrades on the launch, three sailors who are refugees from Palestine, set the engine at full pressure. Then we prayed to God, asking Him for His help if we succeeded and His mercy if we did not. We know that if our boat overturned nobody could save us because we were so far from the coast.

But my blood was boiling inside me. I gave orders to go, and took over the steering myself.

I went parallel to the current barrier until we were close to the ship. We crossed the current so swiftly that we had escaped before it could engulf us.

But we had tears in our eyes when we realized we had done it.

early yesterday morning, and continued throughout the day and late Sunday night. Roads throughout the whole county were completely blocked from Murray Harbour to St. Peter's and Souris. The snow fall of over one foot was piled in drifts of over three feet by strong north and north west winds. In Montague traffic came to a stand still until the plow cleared a path in the early afternoon to permit usual traffic to resume. However the street did not remain clear for very long but filled in rapidly.

The road to Murray River was also cleared but it also filled in rapidly following the passage of the plow. On return it left to clear the main highway to Charlottetown, and the plow dispatched, Mr. Leroy White, reported that he expected that the road would be cleared late last night or early this morning.

It is understood that the plow which left Charlottetown went into the ditch near Tea Hill which delayed the opening of the highway to Charlottetown, other main roads will then be opened. It is understood that should no new storm break that all roads will be cleared in the matter of a few days.
