

A Business Melody.

Air:—"Yankee Doodle."

There was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise, for when he marked his prices down he then did advertise.

And when he saw his trade increase with all his might and main he marked still lower every price and advertised again.

And when he advertised again his rivals loudly swore, to see folks rush with might and main to patronise his store.

And while they sat in solitude and saw him custom win that man behind the counter stood and raked the shekels in, and as he raked the shekels in and saw his fortune rising, he took a lot of tin and kept on advertising.

Each day a generous sum he'd sink and demonstrate full plain the more one pays for printers ink the greater is his gain.

Aphorisms.

She neglects her heart who studies her glass.—L'water.

I consider that man to be undone who is insensible to shame.—Plutus.

The history of all the world tells us that immortals means will ever intercept good ends.—Coleridge.

No action will be considered as blameless unless the will was so, for by the will the act was dictated.—Seneca.

Take care to be an economist in prosperity; there is no fear of your being one in adversity.—Zimmerman.

They who do speak ill of themselves do so mostly as the surest way of proving how modest and candid they are.—Sterns.

I look upon indolence as a sort of suicide; for the man is efficiently destroyed, though the appetite of the brute may survive.—Chesterfield.

Money and time are the heaviest burdens of life, and the unhappiest of all mortals are those who have more of either than they know how to use.—Johnson.

How to Spoil.

To spoil steak—try it.

To spoil tea or coffee—boil it.

To spoil custard—bake it too long.

To spoil house plants—water them too much.

To spoil butter—do not work out all the milk.

To spoil a carpet—sweep it with a stiff half-worn broom.

To spoil pan-cakes—bake them on a luke warm griddle.

To spoil a breakfast—grumble all the while you are eating.

To spoil potatoes—let them lie and soak in water after boiling.

To spoil scissors—cut everything from a sheet of paper to a bar of cast iron.

To spoil bread—use poor flour and sour yeast and let it rise until too light and it runs over.

To spoil garments in making—cut them out carelessly and run all the seams.

To spoil a school—exchange teachers every time some one in the district finds fault.

To spoil children—humour them to every thing they happen to think they want.

MRS. SOPHIA POTTER'S Bone Rheumatic Liniment

IT is a fact worth knowing that Mrs. Sophia Potter's Bone Rheumatic Liniment cannot be excelled for removing pain and soreness. It is no worthless trash, as some may suppose, simply because they have been imposed upon by others, but is positively the "King of Pain." Sore throat cannot stand before its power.

All we ask is a trial that you may be convinced of the truth of our statement. Our experience is that one bottle tried also sells many more.

See circular for particulars and testimonials, and try a bottle—it will not fail to do all that is promised.
