

Land 4-F Members Are Ottawa Visitors

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA (Special) A group of 44 club members from Prince Edward Island, along with two leaders, were visitors in Ottawa last week on their way home from a national 4-F club conference in Toronto.

They left the capital Friday morning to fly back to the island after a full day of activity in Ottawa. The first of the group, Minister Paul Martin, was the guest of the department of agriculture at lunch, attended part of the sitting of the Commons, toured the Parliament buildings and visited the Government House where they were greeted by Governor-General Vanier. On Thursday evening they were the guests for dinner in the parliamentary restaurant of John Mulhally, MP for Kings.

The leaders were Miss Theresa MacLeod, director of Women's services, Charlottetown and Debra S. Peacock, agricultural representative, Charlottetown. The club members were Glen Kilson of Charlottetown, Hilda Dixon of Clyde River, Gloria Heighly of Cornwall, Audrey Kennedy of New Perth, Genma Dunn of Morell, Anne Walsh of Elliotville, Patsy McEwen, of North River, Heather Jones of New Brunswick, and the Hon. Robert Thompson of North River, and Ronnie MacKenney of North River.

Mr. Martin was reported to be in the House last week in connection with the Paris meeting of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development.

On credit guarantees, he said Canadian policy is to limit government guarantees to private credit to five-year terms. "This policy is maintained on non-discriminatory basis and of course applies to guarantees of private credits for Canadian sales to Communist countries."

Mr. Martin also indicated that Canada supported the British government's proposal to take in opposition to a United States proposal to restrict credit guarantees on trade with Communist nations. No decision was made at the meeting on the question of trade credits, he said.

SAYS OECD PLEASED
 Mr. Martin said Canada's recent pledge to boost foreign aid commitments to about $100,000,000 in the 1964-65 year was warmly received by OECD member countries.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker urged the government to consider extending the five-year restriction on government guarantees of credits on trade with non-Communist nations.

"We did our part when in

Martin Reports To Commons On East-West Trade Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Paul Martin said here that Canada favors East-West trade in non-strategic goods on a mutually advantageous basis but has not extended government-to-government credits to any Communist countries.

Mr. Martin was reporting to the Commons on his mission early this week to the Paris meeting of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development.

On credit guarantees, he said Canadian policy is to limit government guarantees to private credit to five-year terms. "This policy is maintained on non-discriminatory basis and of course applies to guarantees of private credits for Canadian sales to Communist countries."

Mr. Martin also indicated that Canada supported the British government's proposal to take in opposition to a United States proposal to restrict credit guarantees on trade with Communist nations. No decision was made at the meeting on the question of trade credits, he said.

SAYS OECD PLEASED
 Mr. Martin said Canada's recent pledge to boost foreign aid commitments to about $100,000,000 in the 1964-65 year was warmly received by OECD member countries.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker urged the government to consider extending the five-year restriction on government guarantees of credits on trade with non-Communist nations.

"We did our part when in office to provide credit, but I feel that what we did will have to be extended in order to meet the stronger and the ever-more strong competition in other countries in order to compete for world business," he said.

Mr. Diefenbaker also called for a clearer explanation of the Nov. 14 announcement that Canada planned to make available an additional $70,000,000 in foreign aid loans and grants to underdeveloped countries.

He said the statement by Mr. Martin in the House last week is an "economic conundrum."

T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democrats, expressed disappointment that OECD has not become an agency through which Western nations would assist underdeveloped nations.

Mr. Douglas said Canada should extend its trade to all countries—Communist or not. "Good trading relations are the basis of good international relations."

Social Credit Leader Thompson said Canada should give leadership in developing trade with the underdeveloped countries "on the basis, not only of a completely new approach to some of the economic problems involved but also of new policies with regard to aid."

NOW SHE'S A WIDOW TOO

Mrs. Marina Oswald, Russian wife of Lee Harvey Oswald, was being moved from the Dallas city jail, Jack Ruby, Dallas nightclub owner, was charged with murder in Os-let wound inflicted while he was being moved from the Dallas city jail, Jack Ruby, Dallas nightclub owner, was charged with murder in Os-ward's slaying.

A SOLEMN SCENE

The statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Capitol rotunda looks down on the flag-draped

Johnson Enjoyed Kennedy Esteem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, sworn in as president of the United States after the assassination of John F. Kennedy Friday, enjoyed Kennedy's high esteem and confidence.

From old political foes—within the Democratic party—they became a close-working team.

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

Johnson tried in 1960 for the presidential nomination. When Kennedy won, Johnson accepted second place on the Democratic ticket.

Accepting, too, the Kennedy leadership, he became extraordinarily active in behalf of the Kennedy policies. This activity included work for the civil rights program Kennedy laid down—something that lessened Johnson's popularity in the U.S. South—and there was some talk this year that Johnson might be dumped from the ticket next year.

But on Oct. 31, Kennedy was asked whether, if he ran in the 1964 U.S. election, he would again want Johnson as the vice-presidential nominee, and whether he expected Johnson to be on the ticket. He replied: "Yes, to both of these questions. That is correct."

EAST BALTIC

Miss Margaret MacLean left on return to Cambridge, Mass., after visiting her mother, Mrs. Joseph MacLean, and sister, Mrs. E.D. Fraser returned to her home in North Lake having been a patient in the Souris Hospital for several days.

Among those from the area attending the Rural Beautification dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Jardine, Mr. and Mrs. George Bruce, Kingsboro; Mrs. Robert Cameron, Kingsboro; Mrs. Rhoda Morron, Mrs. Charles MacComack, North Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, Red Point; Miss Annie Townsend, South Lake; Mrs. Edward Robertson, Kingsboro, for the winter months.

Miss Rose Nordstrom, Waltham, Mass., visited recently with Mrs. E.S. Rose, East Baltic.

Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Gunn left recently for Wakefield, Mass., having spent the past six months at their summer residence in Bothwell.

G.E. MacDonald, Charlottetown, attended the funeral of his cousin, Louis Melnick at St. Mary's Church, Souris.

Mrs. Jennie Cameron, Charlottetown, was a recent visitor with her friend, Mrs. Rhoda Morrow, North Lake.

Mr. Albert Maynard, Red

Point, Maine, attended the funeral of her brother, Louis Melnick at Souris.

Mr. and Mrs. Leith Robertson, East Baltic, had with their weekend guests, Mrs. Robertson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Maxwell of Grand Bay, N.B.

Mrs. Essie Stewart, Kingsboro, has taken up residence for the winter months with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bryerton, Red Point Bay.

Ed Clark, Mr. Stewart, visited with friends in Red Point during the past week.

Owing to the death of Miss Helen Stewart, telephone operator, South Lake, the telephone office has been moved to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Massey, Bothwell, and the operator in charge will be Mrs. Vincent Massey, a former employee with the Charlottetown Telephone Office.

Mrs. L. C. W. L. Ching, Kingsboro, is out again, having been confined to the house for several days.

Mrs. Roger Bennett, North Lake, is at present receiving treatment in the Provincial Sanatorium.

Miss Rose Garrett, Charlottetown, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Garrett, East Baltic.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, Canaboy, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Neil McElmura, Red Point.

Mrs. John Ryan left on return to Boston, Mass., having spent the summer months at her home in Lakelville.

Alfred Rose returned to his home in Lakelville having spent a month visiting with his brother in California.

The East Point choir presented a program at St. James United Church, Souris, Thursday evening. There was a large attendance.

Miss Joyce Bruce, student nurse at P.E.I. Hospital, spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bruce, Redwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Jamieson

CENTRAL BEDEQUE

Mrs. Melbourne Craig of Bedeque is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.

The Middleton Women's Institute members held a turkey dinner in the Middleton newly-built, two-classroom school Saturday evening. This school has all modern conveniences. The tables were well patronized throughout the evening. A delicious turkey dinner with Plum Pudding was served and a substantial sum realized.

DIE IN LEVEE

STANTON, Tenn. (AP)—Three teenagers were killed Friday when a tanker truck rumbled in the Middleton newly-built, two-classroom school Saturday evening. This school has all modern conveniences. The tables were well patronized throughout the evening. A delicious turkey dinner with Plum Pudding was served and a substantial sum realized.

IT'S FOR CHRISTMAS

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

NEWSON ELECTRIC

161 Queen Street Dial 894-8325

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

ATTENTION

Annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Drama Festival Association, Dec. 3, 8 p.m. at the Little Theatre, Willow Street, Charlottetown. A full attendance of members is requested.

Mrs. M. F. Rodd, Coventry Publicity and Adv.

MR. FISHERMAN!

Are you thinking of overhauling your gas or diesel motors. Now is the time to have them repaired. We have installed the latest new diesel equipment this side of Montreal. Check with us for prices before going elsewhere. All work guaranteed. With a dial of the phone we will pick up your motor.

G. & C. SUPPLIES 153 Kent St. Dial 892-1651 Charlottetown

ADAM'S OF P.E.I.

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

IT'S FOR CHRISTMAS

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

NEWSON ELECTRIC

161 Queen Street Dial 894-8325

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

Mr. Clements at the Kirkwood Motel Telephone 4-8527 or 4-5147

KENNEDY'S
 Early Bird Gift Buys

- COATS
- DUSTERS
- DRESSES
- SPORTSWEAR
- STRIDES
- CAR COATS

Kennedy's Ladies' Wear 166 Queen St.

ADAM'S OF P.E.I.

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

IT'S FOR CHRISTMAS

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

NEWSON ELECTRIC

161 Queen Street Dial 894-8325

ADAM'S OF P.E.I.

General Electric tree lights are individual lights. If one light goes out the others will glow. We will check and inspect your present sets free of charge.

LOTS OF THINGS GOT STARTED IN 1963

The ignitions of brand-new family cars, for instance, and neighbours' lawnmowers. You helped start lots of both this year if you saved money at the Bank of Montreal. You can chalk up an assist, too, for starting new farm tractors working in the fields and moving earth-shaking construction equipment into new building projects... for arterial highways steadily advancing towards completion... for bridges moving out across rivers... for new business enterprises of all kinds getting under way.

In virtually every community across the nation, important things were moving because your savings dollars made it possible for the Bank of Montreal to make hundreds of thousands of loans for all kinds of worthwhile purposes. At the Bank's year-end, our customers had $3,961,675,039 on deposit. Loans totaling $2,419,627,136 were reported. That's why a whole lot of things got started in 1963.

MY BANK B.M.

BANK OF MONTREAL
 Canada's First Bank

TOTAL ASSETS $4,275,269,201