The Boot Language. Some cities of which the Saunterer knows lay claim to pre-eminence in cosmopolitanism. But in proportion to population they do not compare with a vessel that steamed into Philadelphia the other day. Included in the list are Turks, Arabs, Peruvians, Chileans, Chinamen and Filipinos. Naturally, with such a conglomeration, any attempt at a language is useless—that is, a spoken language. An officer of the vessel, which is a tramp steamer, engaged in the sugar trade, by the way, told the Saunterer about it. "We have only one language on board the boat in time of emergency," he declared, "and that is what we term the boot language. It never fails. When a storm arises or anything else happens to cause speedy action on the part of the crew, the officers of the ship don't try to talk. They make a few motions with their hands, and if these don't suffice, they employ the boot language. As you may readily guess, this is simply a series of kicks. One kick, well administered, beats a whole encyclopedia with men who don't understand the language in which the encyclopedia is printed, and so we manage to get through. But I've often wondered what would happen to the ship if paralysis of the lower limbs should happen to set in among the officers."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Slight Misunderstanding. "Smithkins," said the employer, "you may take a month off." "Oh, sir," replied the clerk as soon as he could command his voice, "it is so good of you to suggest it! I have felt the need of a rest for some time, but have hesitated to ask for it, knowing how busy we are. But it will do me no end of good, and I thank you most heartily for your consideration." "Smithkins," said the employer, "are you crazy?" "Why, no, sir. Didn't you say I might take a month off?" "Certainly that is what I said. This is the first of the month, while last month's calendar remains over your desk. Take last month off and keep up to date. That's what I meant."

Willing to Qualify. A few days ago a recruit was taken to be sworn in by the magistrate. Everything was going on swimmingly till the magistrate asked the man the following question, "Have you ever been in prison?" At this the man looked startled, but quickly recovering himself, he blurted out, "No, sir, I have never been in jail, but I don't mind doing a few days if you think it necessary."—London Telegraph.

An Uncomfortable Answer. In one of Sir George Colley's letters he says: "Lord Lytton had a good story about poor Lord Leitrim, who, shortly before his murder, talking with a countryman about some cases of landlord shooting, asked, 'Why don't the rascals shoot me?' 'Ah, thin, yer honner,' said the man, 'it's just this—what's everybody's business is nobody's business!'"

A VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR. American Visitor Who Fought at Gettysburg

MONTHS IN LIBBY PRISON.

Captain Rulon, of the Munyon Company, Tells Some of His Varied Experience.

The Elliott house has had as a guest during the last week an ex-American military officer who has had an experience in the United States army such as any man might well be proud of. The gentleman is Captain Rulon, who has been here looking after the sale of Munyon remedies, he being the travelling representative of the Munyon Company. No finer specimen of soldier could one wish or expect to see than this traveller. He is but middle aged, with an erect carriage, showing to advantage the well-built form of more than six feet. He comes of an old French Huguenot family, his forefathers having gone to the United States to settle in 1682.

Starting as a private in the 114th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, at the outbreak of the war between the North and South, he was three times promoted for gallantry on the field of battle during the war, holding in turn the offices of sergeant, 1st lieutenant, 2nd lieutenant, and captain. One of the most distinguished prizes which Captain Rulon has is the following letter, written on parchment, but now faded, which was given to him the day he mustered out of his regiment:—

Philadelphia, June 25th, 1865.

To whom it may concern: Capt. Harry E. Roulon, of Co. B., 114th Regt. Pennsylvania Vols., is an officer known to me as one of worth and merit. He enlisted in my regiment as a private soldier, and was three times promoted for distinguished gallantry, viz.: Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg, and always bore an irreproachable reputation. I know no officer of my command whom I can recommend more highly or with greater pleasure than Captain Rulon.

CHARLES H. T. COLLIS, Col. 114th Penna. Vols., Brevet-Maj.-Gen Vols.

The brave actions of the captain at Fredericksburg were fully repeated at Gettysburg, where, on the second day of the battle, he was wounded, and, with other Federals, captured. He was but a lieutenant then, but in order to forego the humiliation of surrendering his sword he threw it away, and broke his revolver, the only other arms he had, the remnants of which were handed over to a Confederate officer who had seen him, and who afterward proved to be Lieut. Col. Jas. Fairfax, of General Longstreet's staff, who showed great kindness to Captain Rulon, when, by accident, he found the latter was a brother Mason.

Following the capture, the captain was taken to Libby prison, and while in captivity he was, unaware to himself, promoted to captain, which news he learned ten months after, when he was released.

Capt. Rulon's many other war experiences are quite as interesting as the one related, and he is a man with whom it is a decided pleasure to have a talk. As a raconteur he could scarcely be beaten, and when a Mail and Empire reporter ran across him on Saturday, it was with pleasure that the genial captain's narratives were listened to. In peace he seems to have been quite as successful as in war, but success to a sociable, intelligent and warm-hearted man like Captain Rulon is only what is his due.

TANSTEAD JUNOTON, P. Q., 12th Aug. 1893. MESSRS C C RICHARDS & Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I fell from the bridge leading from a platform to a loaded car while assisting my men in unloading a load of grain. The bridge went down as well as the load on my back, and I struck on the ends of the sleepers, causing a serious injury to my leg. Only for its being very fleshy, would have broken it. In an hour could not walk a step. Commenced using MINARD'S LINIMENT, and the third day went to Montreal on business and got at well by the use of a cane. I can sincerely recommend it as the best liniment that I know of in use.

Yours truly, C. H. GORDON.

Broke His Heart and His Purse.

Mrs. White told the following story on her husband: Some years ago Fred Harvey gave Mr. White a pass, good at the Harvey eating houses along the Santa Fe, and Mr. and Mrs. White started on a trip to Colorado to take advantage of Mr. Harvey's generosity. At every eating station Mr. White ate enormously and then proudly produced his free ticket. He had had it a year and never before found opportunity to use it. Mrs. White, who was compelled to pay for her meals, ate very sparingly, and some of the other passengers remarked how much the husband ate and how daintily his wife nibbled.

When they reached the last station where the free ticket was good, Mr. White ordered everything in sight and simply stuffed himself. Mrs. White remained in the car and nibbled a little lunch she had brought along. When Mr. White returned to the car, his wife noticed that he looked mighty unhappy considering that he had previously been enormously enjoying the Fred Harvey free ticket. He continued looking unhappy, and his wife feared that possibly he had foundered himself and pressed him for an explanation.

"Well, Sallie," he finally said, "I might as well make a clean breast of it. That last one wasn't a Fred Harvey eating house, and I was compelled to pay $2.75 for my breakfast."—Acheson Globe.

At Last!

A Remedy has been Discovered that will Permanently Cure Catarrh. JAPANESE CATARRH CURE CURES.

This is not merely the words of the makers of this remedy, but the assertion is backed up by leading physicians and the honorable testimonials of hundreds of cured ones. And more, there is an absolute guarantee to cure in every package, or money will be refunded. We will also send a two weeks' trial quantity free to any person suffering from this dangerous disease. Japanese Catarrh Cure is a new discovery, being a prescription perfected by one of America's most successful specialists in treating this disease. It is a soothing, penetrating and healing pomade, prepared from stainless compounds of Iodine and Essential oils, to be inserted up the nostrils. The heat of the body melts it, and the very act of breathing carries it to the diseased parts. It reaches, soothes and heals every part of the mucous membrane, curing invariably all forms of catarrh of the nose and throat, and all forms of catarrhal deafness. Mr. Joseph Little, the well-known mill owner of Port Essington, B.C., writes: "Japanese Catarrh Cure completely cured me of catarrh, which had troubled me for 25 years, during which time I had spent over $1,000 on remedies and specialists in Toronto and San Francisco. About two years ago I procured six boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure, and since completing this treatment have not felt the slightest symptoms of my former trouble. I can highly recommend it. Relief came from the first application. We always keep a supply in the mill for cuts and burns, and consider it superior to any other remedy for healing." Sold by all druggists, 50 cents. Sample free. Enclose 5 cent stamp. Address, The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church Street, Toronto.

Sold by Geo. E. Hughes.
