Summerside RCMP recovered two cars that were reported to have been stolen in Summerside and Kensington that same morning, and at the same time a break into a Kensington store was also under investigation.

A 1963 model station wagon owned by James Little of Summerside was reported stolen to the town police early Saturday morning. It was recovered by a late European model car owned by Charles Kennedy of Summerside.

The RCMP spokesman said Saturday morning that they are investigating a break into the Summerside store. The burglar was unable to determine what was taken until a complete inventory has been made.

It is also believed an attempt was made to break into another store in Kensington.

There were approximately 23 representatives in attendance including the presidents of the P.E.I., Nova Scotia and New Brunswick federations and their executives.

Of special interest was the fact that Mrs. Audrey Van Sicke, executive secretary of the Canadian Home and School and P.E.I. Teacher Federation, was a present at the conference and spent the weekend in Charlottetown to discuss with members of the national meeting of H & S the first time this year.

He considered the changing world and the effect of individual education on youth. It is not change of leadership, he said.

The main address at the evening meeting was given by Dr. Kenneth Parker, superintendent of schools for Charlottetown whose theme was "The Challenge of the 1960s to Home and School".

Mr. Edwards stressed the need of making the general public more aware of the knowledge about Home and School.

There is an overwhelming need for mutual understanding between the parent, the teacher, and the citizen in the community.

Stressed throughout the conference was the need for strengthening relations between the local associations, with the provincial and national federations.

SACKVILLE D.O. W.N.S. (CP) The Dairyman, owned by Angus McRae and J.A. Ferguson of Sydney, Saturday night won the $6,475 Bluenose futurity race here.

The horse won in a race-off with Barbara's Value, owned by Cyril Smith of Hunter River, P.E.I., in 2:30.2 to take the pace, limited to Maritime-bred three-year-olds.

Double winners were Arctic Prince and Scott's Commemorial. Single winners were Meadow Bay and We Bonnie Scott.

The Dairyman's share of the futurity pot was $1,270.68, plus $627 for winning the race-off.

Junior Red Cross Funds Not In UA

The word "funds" was inadvertently omitted from the report in Saturday's Guardian on Junior Red Cross given by Mrs. W.W. Reid at the teachers' convention in Kensington. The report should have stated "Junior Red Cross funds have nothing to do with Red Cross participation in the United Appeal."

Junior Red Cross funds are raised by the pupils in the schools by self-denial and special fund-raising efforts for their own "Fund for Needy Children at Home and Abroad". This is entirely separate from the administration expenses of the Junior Red Cross program which are defrayed by regular Red Cross funds raised by participation in the United Appeal.

By DENNIS NEED LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—The African giant of 40,000,000 people becomes a republic Oct. 1, with a president replacing Queen Elizabeth as head of state.

American-educated Dr. Amadi Azikwe, 59, a former newspaper editor and currently governor-general, is to be the country's first president. He will be a figurehead rather than an executive head of state, however.

For three years, since his freedom from British colonial rule.

Under the republican constitution judges will be appointed by the ruling politician, thereby lessening the separation of executive and judiciary.

TWO VEHICLES BURN AT SOURIS

SOURIS — The RCMP are investigating two very similar vehicle fires which were reported in Souris last evening.

The first fire was discovered around 3:30 p.m. in a '56 Rambler owned by MacKenzie Motors as it was parked in the garage lot on Main Street. The car was completely gutted and the cause of the blaze is not known.

Another fire of unknown origin was reported to have broken out about 12:30 in the evening in a 1964 one-ton truck. The vehicle, which was owned by the Eastern Packing Company and parked next to the plant, suffered considerable interior damage.

These are the second and third fires of unknown cause which have destroyed vehicles in the Souris area in the last week. A truck owned by George Webster burnt last Monday night.
