

Try Everywhere
E. S. C. ...
16c PER LB.
TELEPHONE 93
D. STEWART
ECLIPSE BAKERY
BAKES BEST BREAD

PHENIX of Hartford
FIRE INSURANCE CO.
Cash Assets Over, $5,000,000.00
A share of your patronage is solicited for this old Reliable Company
PLEASING CONTRACTS,
GENEROUS SETTLEMENTS,
LOWEST RATES.
E. H. BEER,
GREAT GEORGE STREET
Authorized Agent for P. E. I.
Also representing other, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Companies.

Dutch BULBS
DIRECT FROM HOLLAND.
Our shipment of BULBS has arrived. They are the finest we have ever seen.
Hyacinth, Narcissus, Tulips
CHINESE SACRED LILY, CATTIA LILY, FREESIA.
Haszard & Moore

How Many Grown People
How Many Puny Youngster
Have become well and strong by the judicious use of Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.
Our own
PERFECTED EMULSION WITH GUAIACOL
Is one of the best on the market. Guaranteed 50 per cent. pure oil, with hypophosphites and Guaiacol. We sell it cheaper than most. We recommend it to you. Money back if not as represented. Prepared and sold by
A. W. Reddin, Phm. B.
Central Drugstore
Sunnyside.

Large Auction Sale
... IN ...
The Lyceum
... ON ...
WEDNESDAY, 15th NOVEMBER

Excellent household furniture belonging to Mr. Wm Brown, comprising Parlor, Dining and Bed Room Sets, beautiful Mirrors, Dinner Sets, Tea Sets, Carpets, Sideboard, Curtains, Beds, Hand some Lamps, Ornaments, Kitchen Utensils, &c.
All to be sold without reserve on Wednesday, 15th November, at 11 o'clock.
ROBERT BEARISTO,
Auctioneer

DR. CLIFT.
Joints, BRONCHITIS, RHEUMATISM and RUPTURE
by a special treatment. Send stamp for information, or call at 1111, Nova Scotia Merchants Bank of Halifax Building. Office

THE DAILY EXAMINER
NOVEMBER 9, 1899.
QUESTIONS FOR SIR LOUIS,
Did you promise at Middleton, N. S., in 1893, that if your party came to power they would remove every vestige of protection from the tariff?
Has that promise been performed?
Did you say in Parliament in 1896: "We are prepared to go to the country on that statement on which we pledge ourselves that very large and important reductions can be made in the expenditure of the country without impairing the efficient administration of its affairs?"
Have you fulfilled that promise?
Did you promise solemnly at sundry times and places that the number of Cabinet Ministers would be reduced if the Liberals were returned to power?
Has any reduction of Ministers been made?
Did you promise that a reciprocity treaty with the United States, on the basis of unrestricted Reciprocity and Commercial Union, would be secured as soon as the Liberal party assumed office?
Have you secured such a treaty or have you tried to secure it?
Did you promise the electors at Caledonia in 1891 that if you were returned you would advocate in Parliament the construction of a railway from Southport to Murray Harbor?
Did you open your mouth in favor of said railway during the sessions of 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894, and was your reference to the subject in 1895 only made after the matter was taken up earnestly by other representatives of the province?
Did you admit in Parliament in 1895 that you had advocated a railway for Belfast running from Peake's Station to Wood Islands breakwater, and that you did so because you wanted to avoid building a bridge over the Hillsborough?
Had you any thought of Murray Harbor at that time?
Did you, on the 27th of May, 1897, in a letter to the Governor-General in Council, enclose for "favorable consideration" a letter from ex-Premier Peters proposing arbitration between the Government of Prince Edward Island and that of Canada, said arbitration to settle an amount to be paid to the Provincial Government in lieu of railway construction in P. E. Island?
—The Farmers' Binder Twine Company, of Brantford, an institution formed to save the poor agriculturist from the grasp of the cordage monopolists, it is announced, has declared a dividend of 100 per cent. on last year's business. The Montreal Gazette remarks that it is not known how far the farmer was saved, but the monopolists have been made envious.

It's on MONDAY.—The football match between the St. Dunstan's College and the Abegweit-Crescent teams takes place at the C. A. A. grounds on Monday. The game will surely be an interesting one. The Saints are practicing hard, and are said to have an especially powerful forward line. The Abegweits play without three of their men who played at Halifax—Dunahoe, who is with the St. Dunstan's and McGonnell and Foley. Everyone who takes an interest in this splendid game—and who doesn't—should see the match between St. Dunstan's and the Abegweit-Crescent teams on Monday next.

—The Elder Dempster Company's steamer Lake Ontario will not be able to make a trip to Charlottetown this fall. But the company are making an effort to charter a steamer in England for this port.
—A correspondent of the Mail and Empire asks the following pertinent question: "Would it not be advisable for Mr. Tarte to change his name from 'Israel' to 'Ishmael,' whose hand was against every man?"
—Those who persist in talking about Great Britain's "lust for gold" as the cause of the trouble with the Transvaal might ask themselves what caused British annexation of the Transvaal in 1877, says the Ottawa Journal. All that was offered to the British in 1877 was a bloody war with the Zulus, who were threatening to exterminate the Boers. She took the offer and saved the Boers, believing that it meant the preservation of South Africa for white men's equal rights. For the same cause Great Britain fights now. There was no gold then. The gold was counted for no more since, save as it increased the number of white men in the Transvaal to whom equal rights were denied, and to a proportionate extent increased the howl of those who felt hurt.
—This is not the first time that Lady-smith has been the centre of military preparations. In the Zulu war a part of the English troops were quartered there for several months. Again in 1880 it was an active military centre, but never have so many troops been there as Sir George White has now. It is a pretty place in its normal conditions, pastoral and simple. Some good-sized stores, a few hotels, a good many saloons, a rather imposing railway station and a big bare market place where the Indian traders congregate, make up the business portion. It has been a favorite place of residence for the families of the English officers quartered in South Africa, as the air is clear and all the conditions most favorable for the raising of children.
—Mr. James McDonald, of H. M. Customs, Charlottetown, received this morning the particulars of a severe accident suffered two months ago by his son, D. J. McDonald, who has been for fifteen years a conductor on one of the local railway lines of Wisconsin. Mr. McDonald had the misfortune to lose part of his foot in the accident mentioned. The brave fellow, instead of writing home at once, waited till he had recovered from the operation required to amputate the injured member. He is now convalescent, though still an inmate of St. Mary's Hospital, West Superior, Wisconsin.

SIR C EARLIETUPPER.
The Richmond Guardian says of Sir Charles Tupper's recent visit to the Eastern Townships:
"Sir Charles has captivated the electorate as no one has done since Sir John Macdonald's time.
"He has impressed them much as Gladstone used to do in England by his frankness, his broad statesmanlike utterances, his lucidity of statement, and the logical completeness of his arguments.
"The vast audiences that he addressed have been charmed.
"He is the 'grand old man' of the day; vigorous as a man of 40 might be expected to be, and the wonder is how a man of 79 stands the enormous strain he is subjecting himself to.
"He is not like Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a man of phrases, but gives strong meat to his hearers, and his long and wide experience and evident earnestness are factors that impress in a way that Sir Wilfrid's evanescent platitudes can never do.
"There is nothing petty about Sir Charles, and a pleasing feature in his speeches is the utter absence of vindictiveness towards an opponent.
"The Conservatives are going to win."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
—The Elder Dempster Company's steamer Lake Ontario will not be able to make a trip to Charlottetown this fall. But the company are making an effort to charter a steamer in England for this port.
—A correspondent of the Mail and Empire asks the following pertinent question: "Would it not be advisable for Mr. Tarte to change his name from 'Israel' to 'Ishmael,' whose hand was against every man?"
—Those who persist in talking about Great Britain's "lust for gold" as the cause of the trouble with the Transvaal might ask themselves what caused British annexation of the Transvaal in 1877, says the Ottawa Journal. All that was offered to the British in 1877 was a bloody war with the Zulus, who were threatening to exterminate the Boers. She took the offer and saved the Boers, believing that it meant the preservation of South Africa for white men's equal rights. For the same cause Great Britain fights now. There was no gold then. The gold was counted for no more since, save as it increased the number of white men in the Transvaal to whom equal rights were denied, and to a proportionate extent increased the howl of those who felt hurt.
—This is not the first time that Lady-smith has been the centre of military preparations. In the Zulu war a part of the English troops were quartered there for several months. Again in 1880 it was an active military centre, but never have so many troops been there as Sir George White has now. It is a pretty place in its normal conditions, pastoral and simple. Some good-sized stores, a few hotels, a good many saloons, a rather imposing railway station and a big bare market place where the Indian traders congregate, make up the business portion. It has been a favorite place of residence for the families of the English officers quartered in South Africa, as the air is clear and all the conditions most favorable for the raising of children.
—Mr. James McDonald, of H. M. Customs, Charlottetown, received this morning the particulars of a severe accident suffered two months ago by his son, D. J. McDonald, who has been for fifteen years a conductor on one of the local railway lines of Wisconsin. Mr. McDonald had the misfortune to lose part of his foot in the accident mentioned. The brave fellow, instead of writing home at once, waited till he had recovered from the operation required to amputate the injured member. He is now convalescent, though still an inmate of St. Mary's Hospital, West Superior, Wisconsin.

ESTEMED EXCHANGES
Toronto Star: Those who talked of the Canadian volunteers having a nice trip and getting there in time to see the conquering heroes come, are now some distance in the background.
Ottawa Journal: It may be that Sir Redvers Buller is not hustling himself at Cape Town, and it may be that the censored despatches are not permitted to remark about what he is doing.
Victoria Times: So clear is the air of the Cape that strangers who try to shoot game or other objects for the first time find it impossible to hit the mark. Things that appear to be only a hundred yards away are in reality from three to four hundred. It is therefore not surprising that our troops should sometimes find it difficult to find the range of the enemy. But the difficulty does not apply to the bayonet.
Montreal Gazette: The Tarte boast that only six Conservatives will be returned to Parliament at the next election from this province is not so empty as it might be. It may be intended to use for Laurier in the Parliamentary contest the machine that fixed up the anti-prohibition majority in the plebiscite vote.
Montreal Gazette: Hon. David Mills, it is intimated, may not accept the Liberal nomination for his old constituency of Bothwell, which has been tendered him. At Mr. Mills's age the security of a seat in the Senate appeal quite as strongly to the feelings as the excitement that is found in a contest for the more lively House of Commons. And Mr. Mills has the Senate seat.

While we are glad to learn of his recovery we sympathize with his father who must be deeply grieved at the misfortune that has befallen his son.
—The Philadelphia Inquirer has taken the Premier's measure correctly. "When Sir Wilfrid," it says, "upon a memorable occasion spoke of war, when he intimated that the Alaskan boundary dispute unless settled as Canada desires might be expected to precipitate hostilities between this country and Great Britain, he knew that he was talking nonsense, and most of those who heard him were similarly well informed. But the Liberal party in Canada, the party which is now in power, and of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the head, has in a large measure disappointed the voters whose support placed it in control. It professed an ability to bring about closer trade relations between Canada and the United States. Sir Wilfrid Laurier in particular told his constituents that he was so well regarded in Washington as to be in a position to accomplish in that direction what would be impossible to anyone else, and it was chiefly upon that understanding that he attained to the office which he occupies. As he has not been able to redeem the promises which he made with great eloquence and profusion in the premises he has naturally suffered a serious abatement of popularity, and it is the prevailing opinion of disinterested observers of the situation that were a general election to take place at this time the Liberals would be defeated."

Now is the time to get a photo of the noble chaplain who represents P. E. Island in the Canadian Transvaal contingent. You can get one at Johnson & Johnson's down town drugstore or at THE EXAMINER office. Prices 30, 40 and 45 cents.
DIED.
At Brandon, Man., Oct. 20th, 1899, Margaret Gill, of Little York, P. E. Island, wife of the late Donald McLaughlin, aged 69 years, leaving three sons and two daughters to mourn their loss.
At Worcester, Mass., on Saturday the 4th inst., of heart failure, Andrew P. McCarron, painter, formerly of this city R. I. P.

BUYING A HAT.
Mrs. Whittaker had called down at the office to take Mr. Whittaker out to buy him a hat.
"You're looking a perfect sight," she said.
"Wha's the matter with me?" asked Mr. Whittaker.
"It must be your hat!" said Mrs. Whittaker.
"But I haven't got my hat on" said Mr. Whittaker.
"I don't care," said Mrs. Whittaker. "Your looking an awful guy. It's time you had a new hat anyway."
"I'm awfully busy," Mr. Whittaker said. "You come along," said Mrs. Whittaker. Mr. Whittaker sighed and came along. "They're wearing them small, sir," ventured the clerk.
"Let him see a size large," said Mrs. Whittaker.
"This is the hat th'y're wearing in London," said the clerk.
"It doesn't fit him," said Mrs. Whittaker.
"Here's a seven and a quarter," said the clerk.
"What's your size?" asked the clerk.
"Six and seven-eighths," said Whittaker.
"Latest thing from New York, sir. Just your size."
Mr. Whittaker tried it on. It sat high and dry on three hairs of Mr. Whittaker's head.
"Too small," said he.
Seven and a quarter was too small and seven and five-eighths had to be put on with a jack. But they bought a hat at last, and Mr. Whittaker was led forth resplendent.
"Alas! Next day the new hat came down to his ears. Mr. Whittaker was hopping.
"You'll never by a hat for me again," he said to the wonder-struck Mrs. Whittaker.
But it wasn't Mrs. Whittaker's fault, nor the hat's fault. It was Mr. Whittaker's fault for not taking a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet on coming home from the club the night before the hat was bought. Then his head would have been at its natural size.

BUYING A HAT.
Mrs. Whittaker had called down at the office to take Mr. Whittaker out to buy him a hat.
"You're looking a perfect sight," she said.
"Wha's the matter with me?" asked Mr. Whittaker.
"It must be your hat!" said Mrs. Whittaker.
"But I haven't got my hat on" said Mr. Whittaker.
"I don't care," said Mrs. Whittaker. "Your looking an awful guy. It's time you had a new hat anyway."
"I'm awfully busy," Mr. Whittaker said. "You come along," said Mrs. Whittaker. Mr. Whittaker sighed and came along. "They're wearing them small, sir," ventured the clerk.
"Let him see a size large," said Mrs. Whittaker.
"This is the hat th'y're wearing in London," said the clerk.
"It doesn't fit him," said Mrs. Whittaker.
"Here's a seven and a quarter," said the clerk.
"What's your size?" asked the clerk.
"Six and seven-eighths," said Whittaker.
"Latest thing from New York, sir. Just your size."
Mr. Whittaker tried it on. It sat high and dry on three hairs of Mr. Whittaker's head.
"Too small," said he.
Seven and a quarter was too small and seven and five-eighths had to be put on with a jack. But they bought a hat at last, and Mr. Whittaker was led forth resplendent.
"Alas! Next day the new hat came down to his ears. Mr. Whittaker was hopping.
"You'll never by a hat for me again," he said to the wonder-struck Mrs. Whittaker.
But it wasn't Mrs. Whittaker's fault, nor the hat's fault. It was Mr. Whittaker's fault for not taking a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet on coming home from the club the night before the hat was bought. Then his head would have been at its natural size.

SUPREME COURT.
THURSDAY, Nov. 8.
Allen vs. the Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company. The argument was concluded yesterday afternoon and the Court reserved judgment.
The Court stands adjourned until the 21st Nov.
Now opening a very pretty line of flag stick pins at W W Wellner's.
C. L. and see our new stock of fancy oak and mahogany finished screens. Oak book racks, music racks. Prices right. See ad.—John Newson. 1 wk.
Men's Fashionable Linen Collars, 10c each—J B Macdonald & Co.
Buy a flag stick pin at W W Wellner's.

Matchless Blend
It blends all the peculiar niceties of India, Ceylon and China Teas.
Quality, Flavor, Strength, Purity.
With price, 25c.
A fresh, pure, stock of Groceries.
Jenkins & Son.

Something Nice...
are our Fancy Oak and Mahogany finished Screens with nice Draperies. Your choice of woods and draperies for $2.25.
ALSO
Fancy Oak Music Racks $2.60
Oak Book Racks $3.40
These are good goods and the prices are right.
JOHN NEWSON

IN YE ... OLDEN ... TYME
You had to buy any old stove that the dealer choosed to sell you, and it was always the one he made most profit on, because there was no competition. To-day you have a choice of the best stoves made.
See ours before you buy.
Tortise Heaters, Cooking Stoves
FENNELL AND CHANDLER

The BRITANNIA
MINING CO. OF ONTARIO, LIMITED
CAPITALIZATION:
$300,000.00 fully paid and non-assessable
Par value of shares, 30c each.
Owning and operating the celebrated "Gold Hill" property which comprises 1,308 acres of valuable location situated near Ra: Portage, Ontario, Lake of the Woods, between Suliana and Regina mines. Vein filling sufficient to supply 30 stamps. Controlled by strong Montreal syndicate.
Several hundred of feet of work done.
Equipped with steam hoists, pumps, and 10 stamp mill.
All necessary buildings (about 20 in all) are in good repair.
A working property now producing bullion.
Assays are usually satisfactory running from $3.00 to $400.00 per ton.
Mill runs show the ore to average $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. Last mill run (August 21, 1899), of 38 tons gave $579.55 or $15.25 per ton. The next run is expected to exceed this value per ton.
For shares and reports by engineers John E. Hardman, S. B. and Capt. Z. J. S. Williams.
LOCAL AGENTS WANTED
THE SAWYER COMPANY, Temple Building, Montreal, Can.
OR JOHN SUTHERLAND, Broker, 48 Sparks St., Ottawa, Ont

Side Boards
in this line our stock is very complete.
PRICES RIGHT
MARK WRIGHT AND CO
HomeMakers

