ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF PROGRESS

One hundred years of Progress is being celebrated in Prince Edward Island. The opening of The Fathers of Confederation Memorial Buildings by Her Majesty the Queen in October will of course be the highlight of Centennial year. But there is another infinitely larger story to tell of this forward looking province. The Guardian-Patriot is proud to give readers part of that story - to bring it up-to-date with a review of the advances in 1963 - in this special progress edition.
