The Occupational Therapy Department, Falconwood Hospital

To many people, the words occupational therapy are new and often misunderstood. The definition for occupational therapy is: the specific adaptation of activity as treatment of specific physical and mental disability. To put it simply, work and recreation specially selected for the individual patient as a form of treatment. It is the aim of occupational therapy to restore function whether of the mind or body.

Falconwood is fortunate in having a separate building for occupational therapy. Two studios, each with its own bathroom, house the various craft activities. The recreation room with its library, pool table and games, give much enjoyment to the patients. The beauty salon and kitchen, so modern and efficient are the pride and delight of all the patients.

Mrs. E. G. Nichols, director of this department, is a graduate in occupational therapy from the University of Toronto. Miss Lorraine MacCormac, and Mr. Basil Irving, assist her in carrying out the O. T. programme. Mrs. Gladys Praught, a registered beautician, spends four afternoons a week in the beauty salon giving permanent, manicures and facials to the patients free of charge.

The patients participate in many craft activities, such as rug making, sewing, weaving, knitting, basketry, carpentry, toy making, painting, leatherwork, glove making, etc. The completed articles are then sold at cost price. Lunches are prepared and served morning and afternoon by the patients in the attractive kitchen. There are parties for the patients where there is keen competition in games and wholesome fun. Dramatic play an important part in the O. T. programme. So far two plays have been presented and another play is now in rehearsal. Weekly movies selected from the National Film Board, are shown by the occupational therapy department. So far only indoor activities have been mentioned. Now that summer is approaching we will include gardening, softball, soccer, and various other games to our schedule.

Approximately 65 patients receive occupational therapy daily. This number includes a few patients who attend twice daily. The question may arise, is occupational therapy really necessary? The answer to this is to ask another question. Is it mentally healthy for a patient to spend countless hours in a hospital ward with nothing to do? Occupational therapy arouses interest in being active and creative again, develops initiative, persuades the individual to participate once again in social groups, rehabilitates certain persons for specific jobs, provides hobbies which can be utilized at home, and generally prepares the patient for undertaking responsibility again, after hospital discharge. Briefly stated, work and play are necessary in the life of every human being.

New Ford Plant To Open At Oakville

At 3:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 11, the first car will drive off the assembly line at Ford of Canada's new plant at Oakville, Ontario, signalling the start of production for Canada's newest industrial giant.

The building of Oakville's first car on Monday represents a triumph of engineering and construction ability. The first steel for the 32½ acre building—the largest in Canada under one roof—was erected in May of 1952, just a year ago.

By the end of 1952 the shell of the main assembly building had been virtually completed, and installation of equipment was underway. Throughout the rest of the winter and early spring the other complicated machinery of the assembly lines were set in place, and on Monday the plant will begin turning out shiny new cars.

No large public ceremony is planned for the opening of the plant, but a number of civic officials from the area will be present, among them will be the Reeve, Council and township officials of Trafalgar Township, the Mayor, Council and officials of Oakville, the Warden and clerk of the County of Halton, and the Members of Parliament and the Legislative Assembly from the County of Halton. A group of 25 or 30 representatives of the press will also be present.
