BIS Makes Most Of Irishmen's Day

Yesterday was the day for the wearing of the green and the Benevolent Irish Society made the most of it with one of the grandest parades seen in recent years. The Irish were up bright and early on yesterday's clear morn and formed up with shamrocks and top hats to honor the patron Saint of Ireland. And it was indeed a big parade, one of the swankiest the shamrock wearers ever put on the streets of Charlottetown. Dark coats, top hats, flashy regalia, white gloves and of course a shamrock made every one of the 126 on parade look smart as could be. The Edge Edward Island Regiment in charge of Lt. Charles MacGregor rendered stirring Irish music all along the parade route and large numbers of citizens watched from every vantage point. After leaving the society's rooms on Grafton St. at 10 o'clock the parade paused at the cenotaph where a wreath was laid by Alfred Doyle and A. A. Dowling. Following this short ceremony which honored Benevolent Irish Society members who died in the last two world wars, the parade proceeded along Grafton to Queen to Richmond to Great George and then to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. William Simpson who also delivered a sermon suitable to the occasion. Following the Mass the parade re-formed and before members returned to the society's rooms on Grafton St. several of the city's main streets found the St. Patrick's parade taking over. Ambrose Smith was chief marshal and his three assistants were W. W. McCarron, Leo Dowling Sr., and Everett B. Beagan. Flag bearers were Joseph Thistle and Leo Dowling Jr.

Following the parade a short meeting of the society was held in the clubrooms where congratulatory messages were read from other Irish societies across Canada. President John Walsh presided at this meeting.

A spokesman said the cases of plague were concentrated in eight provinces, most of them in the central part of the country or in coastal areas.

Resisting Arrest Nets Jail Term

SUMMERSIDE — For obstructing police while on duty and resisting arrest, Joseph Godfrey Sonier, 17, of Summerside was sentenced to two months in Prince County jail by Magistrate R. S. Hinton, QC, in town police court Wednesday morning.

Sonier, who had pleaded guilty to the charges Tuesday was sentenced to one month on each charge. Both sentences are to run concurrently. The youth interfered with Constables George Arsenault and Tom Gladney who were arresting two people involved in a fracas at Civic Stadium Monday evening.

Sonier wasn't concerned with the incident but resisted arrest from Arsenault. The two prisoners escaped. The Magistrate originally fined the youth $25 and costs on each charge plus a one-year suspended sentence. But when the accused's father asked why handcuffs were not put on him if he was causing trouble, Hinton quickly answered "you've been pampering this boy too long", then promptly gave Sonier the two months. "If you are in here again you'll really find it hard", the Magistrate told Sonier. "It is time you wised up. Don't come back here again". Hinton warned the boy. George R. MacMahon was the crown prosecutor. A Freetown resident was fined $20 and costs or 10 days when he appeared on a drunk charge.

Break Accused Gets Two Years

A two-year sentence in Dorchester Penitentiary was imposed upon Stuart Gayland Ferguson when he appeared before Magistrate James B. Johnston, QC, in Queens County Magistrate's Court Wednesday morning. Ferguson, charged with break, entry and theft at MacKay's Store, Stanley Bridge on July 12, elected trial by magistrate March 12 and pleaded guilty to the charge. John Daniel MacPherson, 286 Grafton Street, charged with fraud, had his case adjourned until March 24. Charged with theft of a cheque valued at less than $50, William Kier MacKay, Long River, had his case adjourned to March 19. The crown requested the additional time to allow the probation officer to complete his investigation of the case.

Plebiscite Question Is Approved

The provincial cabinet has approved the question that registered potato growers will answer in the April 21 plebiscite. Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae said yesterday in question, whether or not growers are in favor of the temporary plan regarding potatoes as contained in the Marketing Act, can be answered by a straight "yes" or "no." Mr. MacRae said an educational program on the implications of the vote will be carried out by his department, the provincial federation of agriculture and the potato producers' association.
