Mr. Thomas E. Baker received the Maurice Hill trophy awarded to the contestant whose home and grounds were adjudged to be the best kept home in Summerside. Mr. G.F. Cameron was a close second in the competition and received special mention.

MacDonald, M.J. Seovell, and Mrs. Ira Hickey.

Cash awards presented by the Summerside Lions Club for the greatest degree of improvement, were awarded as follows: Zone 1, Parker Crockett, Allie Harris, J.

I.O.D.E. Presents Pictures To S'side School

Historical pictures reprinted especially for the I.O.D.E. from original paintings by eminent Canadian artists have been presented to the Summerside school. The presentation was made by Miss Wanda Wyatt, regent of Abegweit Chapter, and Mrs. W.A. Currie, educational secretary.

The December meeting of the chapter was held at the home of Mrs. Eric MacKay. It was reported that $250.00 worth of clothing and hand knitted articles had been sent for overseas relief.

It was stressed that there is great need of all kinds of clothing for relief at the present time. Cash donations were also made to the League of Mercy, the dental clinic, the Canadian Welfare Council, British and European relief, the Korean project, and the I.O.D.E. shipping fund.

Mrs. Claude Ives reported on the progress made in the sale of tickets for the Christmas hamper which will be drawn on Friday, December 14th.

Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. M.J. Seovell and Mrs. J.S. Wright.

The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W.A. Currie.

ALBERTON

Mr. Fraser of Alberton South is a surgical patient in a Charlottetown Hospital.

Resident of Tignish, he is confined to her home by illness last week.

Mrs. LePage, aunt of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon, is ill at their home in Alberton.

Mrs. H.J. Larkin is confined to her home with a minor illness.

Dr. O.H. Phillips, Progressive Conservative candidate for Prince County in the next Federal election leaves today for Ottawa where he will attend the Progressive Conservative convention.

At the C.W.L. card party in Alberton parish hall Thursday evening there were five tables of auction in play. Mrs. Michael Ahearn won the ladies' first prize, while Vernon Gallant and Edlow Albert tied for the men's. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Gordon Jeffrey and Joseph MacDonnell.

The Presbyterians Sunday School party held at the Church Friday evening was one of the first in a number of happy events to which the young folk look forward at this season of the year. Games and carol singing were followed by the showing of three films, "Christmas Carols" with the Leslie Bell Singers, and "Eye Witness No. 63" which portrayed bookbinding, Eskimos gathering coal off the cliffs, and an army motorcycle corps.

Then Santa arrived with gifts and treats for all. At the close of the evening refreshments were served.

Christmas carols from the store of Cyril and Roy Leard pealed out joyously over the air on Saturday contributing richly to the spirit of joy and festivity which prevails among boys and girls exulting with husbands and excitement the wonderful things to be seen in shops, and adults do their shopping as it is done only at the Christmas season. The beautiful tones of well loved carols also serve to turn the thoughts of all who hear to the real meaning of Christmas. It is well that the thoughts of those who seek gifts for their friends and loved ones, should remember the great gift which came to men on the first Christmas and that his spirit should abide in their hearts at this joyous season.

PROTECTIVE COLOR
The Rocky Mountain sheep's usual coat of brown turns a blue-grey in winter time.

Migratory Game Birds Said Scarce

The hunting season for migratory birds which closed yesterday, with Saturday the last legal day for shooting, was far from a good one for West Prince Gunners. Those who failed to get out for the first several weeks of the season when a fair number of black and teal ducks were on the move, were out of luck this year as ducks of all kinds were reported to have disappeared from the area about a month ago. Those who shot the limit of eight in the first few days of the season bagged a larger percentage of blue and green wing teal with blacks, greys and mallards in the minority. Only a small number of sportsmen reported bagging a goose from a fairly large concentration lying well offshore in the Alberton area. There were no reports of anyone getting brant.

The chorus from Q.C.H. consisting of Margaret Parker, Diane Rupert, Jennifer Graham, Sandra Sutherland and Elizabeth Anderson sang beautifully "The Christ Child", "Dancing Day", and "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

Mr. Parker, formerly a teacher in Japan and Headmaster of the Mount Allison Academy has done remarkable work in Charlottetown and has spoken on education from time to time to different groups. He congratulated the Town of Summerside on its fine school and auditorium. He said that he hoped the school students realized how lucky they are in comparison to young people of other countries of the world, such as Hungary. He gave the following freedoms as ways in which we could better ourselves and contribute towards a better world. The freedoms he stated are: 1. Freedom from Ignorance, 2. Freedom from Selfishness, 3. Freedom from Prejudice, 4. Freedom from Unbelief.

The final assembly will be held next week with students of the elementary school attending and joining in the singing of Christmas Carols.

On Dec. 17 the first of the Christmas exams will be written by the High School students. These exams will count 30 per cent on the year's total marks, so it is hoped that everyone will work hard and do his best.

SPORT
In school sports this week, basketball is "the" game with students of grades ten to twelve playing faithfully against one another every afternoon. The game is quite popular with the students and when the play-offs arrive, much enthusiasm should be shown if one can judge by the interest in the game now.

About thirty six girls from the High School appeared at the Curling Rink last week and were introduced to the game of curling by Mr. Harold Gaudet, Mr. Jerry Hayes, Mr. David Morrison, Neil Henthorn and Arthur Morrison. The girls all enjoyed their first try at curling and this Saturday morning may go again to the rink at 10:00 a.m. where teams will be formed, or if this doesn't materialize the girls will get more practicing around at home.

Anyone else wishing to join the teams can do so by coming along on Saturday.

A "Tartan Twirl" Hi-Y Dance will be held in the Y Centre on Saturday night by "Beta" Girls Chapter of Hi-Y.

Remains are resting at the Doyle Hotel, Tignish. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

BURTON

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Reilly, Glengarry, were Mr. Reilly's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Reilly who were recently married in Fredericton, N.B. Also visiting were Mr. Reilly's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reilly of Fredericton, N.B.

The many friends of Miss Phyllis Reilly, Cape Wolfe, are pleased to learn she has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Raymond Dumville and family, Cape Wolfe, left recently for Toronto, Ontario, to join her husband who is employed there.

James Reilly, Raymond O'Halloran, Melvin and Edward Cooke, Cape Wolfe, recently left for Toronto, Ontario, where they will be employed.

A large crowd attended the annual Halloween Masquerade dance at St. Mark's Hall Lot 7 Wednesday, October 24. The many and varied costumes gave the judges a difficult task. Ladies prize was awarded to Miss Leona Howard and gentleman's prize was awarded to Mr. Clem O'Connor. The evening was pleasantly spent in modern and square dancing, excellent music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Cairidge Rogers. Refreshments were served by the ladies. As this was the last dance to be held at St. Mark's Hall this season, the evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne".

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Reilly, Cape Wolfe, recently visited their daughter Eileen who is a novice in the Order of St. Martha, Mount

TIMELY NOTES ON FUR TOPICS

Years ago it was fox furs that had to be guarded carefully in fur warehouses. Now the thieves' taste in furs has changed and it is mink, as will be noted by the following: Some 100 fur garments, including a white mink coat valued at $20,000, were stolen from A. J. Alexander Furs, Regd., here, this week-end. Tentative estimate by Montreal Police puts the total value of the garments taken at around $150,000. A night watchman at the store told police that hooded thieves entered the premises Sunday evening at 8 p.m. After having bound and gagged him, they emptied racks and stripped the display mannequins.

The thieves worked thoroughly as would "men of experience," he said, and took mostly mink furs. The vault, however, proved too much of a job as its 12-inch concrete walls could not be bored through in time. The thieves left the store at five in the morning, leaving a $2,500 fur coat in a garbage can in back of the store. Among the garments taken was a $20,000 white mink coat, recently returned from display in Switzerland. No arrests have been made as yet, but the entire detective force of the Montreal police is said to have been put on the case. And the disease is also prevalent in Boston as will be seen from this: "The fur - flew - fur" literally when minkpieces valued around $150,000 became the object of a live cop-and-robbers drama enacted before 6,000 spectators here at the Commonwealth Armory Auto Show this week. Minks temporarily "stole" the limelight from automobiles when a fur fanatic snatched up 13 of the 25 pieces being featured by Kakas of Newbury Street at the show. The backstage robbery was followed in true Hollywood fashion when model Norma Blom heard "paper rustling in the storage room" and ran to the main auditorium for help. She was alerted via the public address system and to cries of "Stop or I'll shoot!" the furs were unceremoniously dumped on the ground outside the Armory. The would-be thief disappeared into the downtown traffic. His views on the affair might well be "mink-Schmink!"

Scandinavian Mink Breeders Association have unanimously called on their producers to cut back production by 20 per cent. The appeal for a production curb came in the form of a resolution which was approved by representatives of all four nations associated with the Scandinavian breeding group - Denmark, Finland, Sweden and Norway. In asking for production curtailment, the Scandinavian leaders at the same time urged their members to concentrate on improved skin quality. "A smaller production" the resolution states, "and better skins will, under all conditions, be much more readily sold than the mass production which now characterizes our industry in all-mink producing countries." The Scandinavians recognize three conditions operating against a healthy mink outlook should production grow at the current rate: 1. "Political unrest," the resolution notes, causes difficulties for the nations such as mink producing. 2. Higher production costs are bound to hamper profitable operation. "This year already," the resolution contends, "many fur farmers have encountered difficulties in securing supplies of fresh feed, and rising costs make the profitability of mink production very doubtful for everybody who does not produce mink of good quality and of the species which are most in demand." 3. Over-production counts as an axiom of business that production must stay within the bounds of demand. "In all countries and in all kinds of production there is a golden rule that one must endeavor to adapt the production to the demand." In all respects quantity as well as quality. This is also true for the mink industry and we hope that all mink farmers will understand the earnestness of this appeal.

Ed Gold writing in Women's Wear Daily, states that a slight decline in opening mink prices at December auctions followed by a fundamental readjustment in the entire mink price structure is predicted by leading dealers, manufacturers and brokers in New York. Because of traditional opening season fill-in needs over-all mink levels are not expected to slip more than 10 to 15 per cent, f that much, compared to December 1955. Small or almost non-existent carry-over in several shades - pastel, silverblu and white - will result in December prices that may run unchanged to firm in those phases.

Definite declines in Sapphire, gunmetal and standard ranch mink ranging from 10 to 15 per cent are anticipated. Very fine merchandise, particularly very dark, heavy-furred standards, will continue firm due to limited supply. One of the reasons for a decline will be tighter credit. Not only have the banks, factors and dealers hardened the credit line but recent transactions have made large manufacturers as well as dealers leary about taking early position this season.

SUM-HI-NOTES

The regular Thursday morning assembly was held Thursday with Mr. Mercer, School Supervisor well coming the guests from Charlottetown, including Mr. Kenneth Parker, supervisor of Charlottetown Schools and five girls from Grade ten of Queen Charlotte High School with their music teacher, Miss Ruth Boswell, all of whom were seated on the stage.

Mr. Mercer then welcomed to the program Miss Wanda Wyatt, regent of the Abegweit Chapter I.O.D.E., who made a presentation to the school on behalf of the I.O.D.E. Miss Wyatt presented three beautiful copies of paintings by famous artists of World War One. The three paintings were of (1) Canadians marching in Paris before the Arc of Triumph (2) Canadian Cavalry and Battalions (3) Landing of the first Canadian Division at St. Nazaire. Miss Wyatt then read a poem by Percival and expressed her happiness in presenting the pictures to the school.

The chorus from Q.C.H. consisting of Margaret Parker, Diane Rupert, Jennifer Graham, Sandra Sutherland and Elizabeth Anderson sang beautifully "The Christ Child", "Dancing Day", and "O Little Town of Bethlehem".
