Charlottetown and Queens County

The Guardian, Charlottetown, Wed. April 3, 1963. 5

347 Give Blood But More Needed

Yesterday's opening session of this week's three-day series of Red Cross blood donor clinics were somewhat disappointing with just 347 registering on the day's quota of 375.

The prevalence of 'flu was responsible for the decreased numbers at St. Dunstan's University where there were 195 donors on the 225 objective. However, only 144 of these 195 could actually give blood — the other 51 had recently been the victims of 'flu and colds.

Lee Gillis, a senior student who is this year's chairman of the Red Cross blood donor committee for the students' council at St. Dunstan's had an excellent group of student volunteers on hand to carry out the various duties in connection with the clinic. In addition, several of the boys accompanied the mobile Red Cross blood donor team to Charlottetown and helped to set up the clinic equipment at Zion hall where the clinic opened last evening and will continue today and tomorrow.

Mr. Gillis stated last night that he hopes to be able to announce the winners of the inter-class blood donor competition before the end of the week. The sophomore class won the trophy at last October's clinics.

Fremont Archer, chairman of the Red Cross blood donor committee for Charlottetown, said last night that he was very pleased with the attendance at the opening session at Zion hall when 152 registered on the evening's 150 objective. He expressed the hope that there would be an overflow attendance at all sessions in the next few days in order to make up for the serious losses on the first day's operation. Today's times are between 9 and 11 this morning, and from 5-9 this evening.

HELPERS ON HAND

Excellent volunteers were on hand last night from the following groups to assist in the smooth functioning of the clinic; Zion Ladies' Auxiliary headed by the president, Mrs. Percy Cameron; the Earl of Hillsborough Chapter of the IODE, the St. Pius X Parish Council of the CWL, the P.E.I. Association of Nurses, as well as members of the Red Cross blood donor committee for Charlottetown.

It was learned last night that a very extensive canvass for donors will take place in the different departments of Canada Packers this morning. The blood donor trophy for the interdepartmental competition at Canada Packers is now held by the carload shipping department. James Coles, the overall chairman of the blood donor committee for Canada Packers is urging as many as possible of the employees to attend this evening's clinic which opens at 5 and continues until 9.

Clinic officials have been asked to keep an accurate record of all donors from Prince of Wales College as the committee there plans to have a "Blood Donor Dance" at the college on Thursday night for all those who attend the clinic.

Sherwood School Principal Is Honored On Retirement

Daniel J. MacArthur, retiring after 53 years as a teacher, 17 of them as principal of Sherwood School, was honored last night by the Home and School Association and board of school trustees at a ceremony in the school hall.

Through his years as a teacher in Sherwood, Mr. MacArthur has seen the two-room school grow to four, then to seven, to 10, and finally to 16 rooms. In 1945, there were 75 pupils, and now 475 students attend classes.

Hon. George Dewar, MD, minister of education, was present at last night's ceremony which saw the presentation of gifts to Mr. MacArthur from the teachers, Home and School, residents of Sherwood school district and school trustees.

Total of two purses from the district and school board was $785.

On behalf of the district, Dr. James Stahr, president of Sherwood Home and School, presented portraits of Mr. MacArthur to the former principal and one to Michael Campbell, chairman of the trustees. The latter portrait is to be hung in the school.

Mr. MacArthur was presented with a lawn chair, and Mrs. Hugh MacLeod presented Mrs. MacArthur with flowers on behalf of Sherwood Women's Institute.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the Women's Institute.

Mac Pins Hopes On Budget

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative party is pinning its hopes for a return to public popularity on today's 1963 budget.

It is the first budget ever presented by treasury chief Reginald Maudling and political observers say the 46-year-old politician faces one of the toughest tasks of any chancellor of the exchequer in recent years.

With Macmillan's government forced to go to the people in a general election by October, 1964, Maudling's budget is the most important factor in any campaign to reverse the slump that has plagued the Conservatives for the last 18 months.

This may mean good news for the taxpayer.

With a stagnant economy and a high rate of unemployment among the chief problems jogging the government, Maudling is expected to produce an "expansionist" budget and this could mean tax relief for both industry and individuals.

There have been a multitude of forecasts but informed observers believe Maudling will propose tax cuts totalling about £250,000,000 ($750,000,000) in an effort to get more money circulating.

Many observers expect Maudling to make special tax concessions to the family man by increasing allowances for his wife and children and they say he may also relieve still more of Britain's lowest-paid workers by freeing them from income tax altogether.

This would be done by raising the level at which income tax starts.

Not as eye - catching but equally important to the general economy would be measures to fight unemployment in areas where it is high—northern England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Milton Man Dies At 79

A well known Milton resident, D. Herbert Matheson, 79, died at the Prince Edward Island Hospital, Tuesday morning. He was a well known farmer and cattle dealer. Death came following a few months serious illness.

Mr. Matheson was a Presbyterian by faith, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Matheson, Oyster Bed Bridge. He was a keen lover of horses, and always interested in sports, especially hockey.

On August 25, 1909, he married Lavinia MacDonald who survives him, along with three daughters and one son; Helen, Mrs. Fred C. Younker, Charlottetown; Chester on the homestead, Milton; Florence, Mrs. Milton MacLaine, Nine Mile Creek; Esther, Mrs. Roy Dickieson, New Glasgow; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral is to take place Thursday, April 4, from the MacLean Funeral Home to Glasgow Road Presbyterian Church with service at 2.30 p.m. Interment will be in Portage cemetery.

Queens Has 26,418 Voters

When election day rolls round on Monday there will be 26,418 voters eligible in Queens County, returning officer A. Walthen Gaudet said yesterday.

The preliminary list for Queens, based on returns from the teams of enumerators who travelled through the county, showed 26,332 men and women eligible. However, changes made in the revision of last week added 166 to this number to bring the total to 26,498. Of these, 80 people voted in the three advance polls held Saturday and Monday.

ADVANCE POLLS

In the advance polls nine people cast their ballots at the Parkdale poll set up to handle voters from First and Second Districts of Queens; another six voters appeared at the Sherwood poll for voters in Third and Fourth Districts; and the remaining 65 voted in the advance poll at City Hall set up for 5th Queens, minus the villages of Sherwood and Parkdale.

To handle the balloting on Monday, there will be 127 polling stations in the county open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. These include special polls at Beach Grove, the Sanitorium and the Sacred Heart Home for the benefit of patients in the three institutions.

Returns from the polling stations will be received election night at City Hall under approximately the same set-up as obtained in last June's federal election.

Liberal Sees Threat To Fishermen's Benefit

A warning to Island fishermen to watch out that their unemployment insurance benefits are not abolished as a result of the Gill Report which recommended that benefits to fishermen be taken out of the Unemployment Insurance Fund was given by Allison Gillis, Liberal candidate in the federal election, when he spoke to a gathering at Winsloe last night.

Mr. Gillis stated the Progressive Conservatives have said if the Gill report is implemented by their government fishermen's benefits will be transferred to another department. He suggested fishermen "beware they are not abolished altogether on you".

RECALLS UNITY

Recalling one of the great battles of the Italian phase of the Second World War he reminded his hearers the victory was won there by complete cooperation of British, United States and Canadian forces. While those nations worked together then today there was only disunity and maintained the old feeling of mutual trust and cooperation could only be brought back if Lester Pearson were the head of a Canadian government.

The speaker said there was a big question to be asked next Monday and only the people could answer it. He said he noted a new feeling and confidently predicted the election of all four Island Liberal candidates.

DISCUSSES CAUSEWAY

Expressing solid approval of an editorial in Tuesday's Guardian dealing with the unavailability of reports on the proposed causeway Ira Lewis, noted that the government had been unable even to build the small causeway at Rustico and wondered what hope there was of one across Northumberland Strait.

Speaking of the ARDA program Mr. Lewis asked, "What is it?" He said he observed the Federation of Agriculture had been criticized for making "some sensible suggestions for ARDA in their brief" and added that the program appears "to be a big catch-all — a garbage can — for the Conservative government to hide behind when anything goes wrong in agriculture."

He said the ancient markets enjoyed here before Confederation were the natural markets of Eastern Canada and a new Liberal government would reopen them through proper trade agreements. First thing to be done by them he said would be establishment of a revolving fund to finance farm exports on credit sales the same as the government has done for western wheat. "Maritime products should have the same treatment", he stated.

One of the methods to be used to aid Eastern Canadian farmers would be through appointment of an associate minister of agriculture.

Mr. Lewis said both the people and the politicians were tired of politics from too many elections and urged the voters to elect a majority government and "keep us from having to do it all over again in the fall".

Youths Are Sentenced On Joyriding Charge

A large docket went before Magistrate A. J. Hoslam in city police court yesterday morning.

Three youths, Richard Evans, 18, Charlottetown; Barry MacLeod, 16, Charlottetown, and Douglas Strickland, 21, Marshfield, were all convicted on a charge of joy-riding, to which they had pleaded not guilty earlier.

Because of their past records, MacLeod and Strickland were given the maximum penalty for this offence, six months, Evans was given three months.

Crown prosecutor, Alan K. Scales called four witnesses to the stand in each case. They were Mrs. Clara Dunsford, the owner of the car which was taken by the boys; Miss Joan Dunsford, who had left the car parked when it was taken; Cnst, William Ford, who had seen them driving the car and who later arrested them; and Cnst. William MacKenzie, who had also seen them driving the car.

Donald Waddell, Victoria, charged with drunken driving, was remanded to April 6, in order to give the magistrate time to review the evidence presented. Counsel for the defence was Lester O'Donnell.

Four witnesses were called to the stand by Mr. Scales, including Charles Walton, Charlottetown; Wendall Hood, Charlottetown; Constables Sidney Hurry and Sterling Williams, of the Charlottetown police force. None was called by Mr. O'Donnell.

LICENCE SUSPENDED

Francis B. Gallant, Charlottetown, charged with speeding, was fined $20 and costs or 10 days along with having his license suspended for 30 days due to the fact that he made an attempt to get away from the police patrol after he was stopped.

Charged with uttering a forged document, David John MacDonald, Charlottetown, was remanded to April 6 without bail.

On a charge of being drunk and disorderly, Borden Edwards of Charlottetown was given a one-year snspended sentence. He also must enter into a recognizance in the sum of $500 and two sureties of $250 each. During his suspended sentence he must stay away from the Island Grill where he was being disorderly.

Vernon Morrison, Sherwood, was fined $20 and costs or 10 days on a charge of speeding.

A man charged with the illegal possession of liquor in a place other than his residence, was adjourned to April 11, while another man on the same charge pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 and costs or 30 days.

DEFECTIVE BRAKES

Albert Dow, owner of Dow's Restaurant, pleaded not guilty to the charge of operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes. The brakes were on the delivery truck and he did not know anything about them, he testified. The magistrate contended, however, that they were his responsibility, so he was given the minimum fine of $10 or five days.

A man charged with operating a motor vehicle without changing the registration to his own name, was fined $10 and costs or five days.

Two drunk and incapables, each given the $20 and costs fine or 10 days in jail option, completed the docket.

Missing Boys Are Located

Two Charlottetown boys, missing since 5.30 Monday evening were located in Little Sands last night shortly before 7 o'clock. The boys, Frederick Byers, 10, and John MacGillivary, 11, both of Spring Street were hitch-hiking at the time they were found.

Descriptions of both boys were broadcast yesterday afternoon with any person having knowledge of the whereabouts of the boys asked to notify the city police.

A police car left for Little Sands to pick up the two youngsters when word came in they had been found.

Impromptu Speech Is Heard At North Rustico PC Rally

A rousing, three-minute impromptu speech by Mrs. Michael Doyle, North Rustico, nearly stole the show at the Progressive Conservative meeting in Rustico last night.

She praised the record of candidates Heath Macquarrie and Hon. Angus MacLean, describing the candidates as men of "character, ability and integrity".

The meeting, held in Stella Maris Hall, featured addresses by Mr. MacLean and Mr. Macquarrie, Lloyd MacPhail, MLA, and Hon. Philip Matheson, minister of highways.

Mr. MacLean, who dealt mainly with the fishing industry, spoke of the contributions made by the federal government to the province in the form of subsidies for vessels, construction of wharves and assistance to inshore fishermen. He said the value of fish produce rose by nine per cent in 1962 over that of 1961.

Stating that the Liberal party was not a "national party", he appealed for the election of a Conservative majority government, and asked support for the four Island PC candidates.

Mr. Macquarrie said the federal election was unnecessary at this time. He chrged the Liberals with "irresponsibility" and said they were guilty of obstructing the last parliament. He also spoke of the attitude of the federal government towards this province, stating it had received "fine treatment" from federal Conservatives.

Contributions of the federal government towards provincial progress formed the bulk of a speech by Mr. Matheson, who said a total of $12,000,000 had been given in two years to the roads to resources program.

He said the government had been generous with aid to the province's educational program, with 75 per cent of costs of the new vocational schools being donated by the federal government.

Mr. MacPhail spoke of the interdependence existing between provincial and federal governments.

The entertainment portion of the program included two original political songs by Inez Deveraux and Pearl Moore, New Haven, and songs by three Doiron sisters.

Chairman of the meeting was Bert Blacquiere.

Tour Slides Are Shown In N. Glasgow

Slides of a tour of southern Europe were shown by Mrs. Philip Matheson at a recent meeting of New Glasgow and District Junior Farmers.

Included in slides of the trip were scenes from the palace of Princess Grace and Prince Rainier of Monaco, as well as those from Greece, Portugal, Spain, Italy, England and France.

Mrs. Matheson also gave a commentary on her impressions of the people, scenery and architecture in the countries visited.

Ralph Dickieson thanked the guest speaker, who was introduced by Jean MacRae.

It was decided to hold a fashion parade of garments made by the sewing class. Each member will model her own work.

Members also agreed to sponsor a card party April 29 in aid of the medical centre.

Two new directors, Sterling MacRae and Charles Chandler, were appointed to fill vacancies in the board. They are to begin duties immediately and act at the next annual meeting.

LIVING COSTS RISE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs in the U.S. returned in February to the record level set last September, mainly because of higher prices for food and clothing. The labor department announced Wednesday that its consumers price index rose one-tenth of one per cent to 106.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This is 1.2 per cent above a year ago.
