LARGE FIELD AVAILABLE

Nominations Close Tues. For 'Islander Of Year'

Nominations for "Islander of the Year" have begun to flow in and a pattern of the good qualities of citizens that are looked upon with highest favor by Islanders is beginning to emerge.

Although enough nominations are now on hand to assure that the man or woman named "Islander of 1962" will be chosen from a large field, nominations are still being received and will be until noon of Tuesday, Jan. 8. After this date however, no other letters of nomination can be considered.

Here are some of the people who have been suggested as deserving of the honor by fellow Islanders and the main reason put forward for the choice.

Dr. Malcolm Beck: — He is fully deserving of the honor, according to one letter, because of his fine work with retarded children; his efforts in getting Sherwood Hospital established here and because of his unselfish assistance to "parents of mentally retarded children. . .without Dr. Beck, the situation would be hopeless. With his guidance the future is brightened."

Sister Mary Henry: — A reader says, "She deserves consideration when serious minded people consider an award for Islander of the Year." The letter went on to laud her dedicated and effective work in helping people, particularly in looking after the welfare of homeless children.

Miss Jean Gill: — "Jean Gill," a letter says, "is the Islander of the Years — not just 1962." The writer says, "Miss Gill's accomplishments and contributions to her province are not confined to the year 1962, but cover an uninterrupted span of 44 years in the public service." Another says Miss Gill has spent her entire working life "serving the public efficiently, courteously, cheerfully."

Mrs. Clifford Townshend: — This Rollo Bay West woman, a farm wife and the mother of five children "won her greatest fame in the year under review," a reader asserts. Her prize winning play "For the Love of a Horse" selected for a Dominion drama award "as one of the best out of 200 competitors was a great honor to Prince Edward Island. . .She has brought greater distinction to P.E.I. cultural activities than anyone since the days of L. M. Montgomery."

Roy Smallman: — For his work "beyond health and strength" on behalf of the province's retarded children. He is one of "our finest citizens and is always helping some person or persons out."

Anne MacAulay, is deserving of the honor for the distinction she has brought to Prince Edward Island through winning the world seed potato championship at the Royal Winter Fair last fall.

Premier Walter R. Shaw, for leading his Conservative Party to its second consecutive victory, the first Conservative leader to accomplish such a feat in 47 years.

Brig. W. W. "Bill" Reid, for his role in leading the first United Fund campaign ever held on P. E. I. and because of the leadership he has given youth and the way he has forwarded the interests of youth over the years.

While many have been nominated, it remains true that there are others who seem to be thoroughly deserving of the honor who have not been mentioned in any of the letters of nomination so far received.

BEST METHOD

Although the judges are free to look beyond the list of nominations in making their final selection, the fact remains that a letter of nomination is by far the best way to make sure that a person favored will be considered.

The panel of judges will make their selection following the close of nominations Tuesday. The judges are Richard Henthorn, Summerside; Dr. Kenneth A. Parker, Charlottetown and Keir Clark, Montague.

The board of judges is completely independent and The Patriot, while sponsoring the award regards itself only as an instrument acting in behalf of all Islanders, through which a deserved honor will be paid to an Islander.

The only basis of judging that has been suggested to the panel is that the award should go to "that person who has in 1962 best used the means available to serve a worthy Island purpose."

Airman Found Dead; Inquest Undecided

SUMMERSIDE — It had not been decided last evening if an inquest will be held into the death of an unidentified airman at RCAF Station Summerside whose body was discovered Thursday evening around nine o'clock in his locked barrack room.

Dr. W.R. Gillis, coroner, stated last evening whether an inquest will be held will depend on the results of the investigation which is still being carried out by RCAF Police and the RCMP.

The provincial pathologist, Dr. John Craig, performed an autopsy yesterday and stated that death was caused by strangulation, presumably at the airman's own hand. Identification of the airman is being withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

A coroner's jury was empanelled and includes Eric Johnston, Sgt. Gerald Dewar, Pfl. Sgt. Norbert James MacInnis, Sgt. John Gardowski, Lloyd J. Lawless, Adrian J. Albert and Arnold Madson.

3 Cases Rejected By Appeal Court

SUMMERSIDE — The appeals of Joseph Ivan Arsenault, George Gallant Jr. and Vincent Gallant, all of Summerside were dismissed and sentences confirmed in Supreme Court, Charlottetown, Thursday before the full bench. Hearing the appeals were Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell, Mr. Justice Mark R. MacGuigan, and Mr. Justice George Twomey.

J. Watson MacNaught QC was defence counsel in all cases.

Arsenault and George Gallant Jr. were charged after a break at Fraser and Son Ltd., Granville Street last July 26. Nothing was taken in the break according to police evidence.

Vincent Gallant and Alfred Cahill were originally charged with robbery with violence as the result of a beating and robbery of Summerside pensioner Bruno Arsenault on North Market street on October 7.

The petit jury returned a verdict of assault which carries a maximium sentence of two years.

In the other case Arsenault was sentenced to two years while Gallant received a three year term due to his previous record. Cahill's sentence was not appealed due to his previous record.

Income Tax Returns Go To Ottawa In 1963

Income tax returns this year are to be mailed to the federal taxation data centre in Ottawa, instead of the district taxation office in Charlottetown.

A new Income Tax Act, passed at a special session of the provincial legislature in December, 1961, gave the province power to levy its own rate of tax, but collection is carried out by the federal government as in the past.

For 1962, there was no change in the tax rate over 1961.

MORE COMPLICATED

Calculation of tax on the 1962 individual income tax returns forms seems to be slightly more complicated than on the 1961 forms.

For example, in the 1962 forms, the table which shows how to calculate tax on taxable income breaks down the tax in federal and provincial shares. On a taxable income of $1,000, the federal tax is $123, while the provincial tax amounts to $17.70. In the 1961 form, there was a tax of $141 on taxable income of $1,000.

While the 1962 forms may mean more calculations for the taxpayer, he will still pay the same rate of tax as in 1961.

SUMMERSIDE — Summerside police made a speedy arrest Thursday evening when a 12 - year-old Summerside youth was apprehended five minutes after he had committed the theft of $90 from a wallet on a dresser in an apartment room of Dan MacDonald, Summerside.

The youth apparently walked into Mr. MacDonald's open room in Martin Apartments, Second Street, and made off with the money. Mr. MacDonald was in an adjoining room at the time and immediately notified the police upon his return to the room and discovering the money missing.

The youth will appear in juvenile court next week.

The Borden detachment RCMP are investigating.

Entry was gained through a front window. No cash was taken as none had been left there the previous evening when the canteen closed.

The two men were placed under arrest shortly before noon yesterday and placed in custody.

Much of the stolen merchandise was recovered.
