Basketball Champs Are Banqueted

HI-Y Grads, City basketball champions and winners of the Kelly & McInnis trophy were guests at a banquet last night in the Blue Room of the Old Spain Tea Rooms. Over twenty guests sat down to a sumptuous repast and the banquet proved more than successful.

Mr. Alex Matheson, President of the League was chairman for the evening. Mr. Matheson in his opening remarks reviewed briefly the past season. In his opinion the past season was easily the best for the credit for the team.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith, Charlottetown, pitched the first throw and the trophy was presented to the referees of the league. He said that a large share of the credit for the successful manner in which the league had been run should go to those in charge of the games. They had done their work well and thoroughly. On behalf of the executive he thanked the firm for the trophy and then called upon Mr. Earle McInnis to present the cup.

Mr. McInnis before making the presentation stated that it had been a pleasure to donate the trophy and was glad that it had served to take basketball to a higher scale. He congratulated the winners upon their victory saying that they had proven worthy champions. He then presented the Cup to Captain Frank Storey of the champion Grads team.

Mr. Storey replied briefly. He thanked the firm for the beautiful cup and said that although it had been a hard battle, it was the first time the speaker stated that the Grads, although City champions four times had ever had anything to fight for and he felt that the donors' action would make itself felt in basketball circles in the years to come.

Mr. Alfred Kelly, the other member of the firm of Kelly and McInnis congratulated the Grads on their splendid victory and reiterated the remarks of his partner in regards to the Cup helping basketball.

Mr. Jack McLean a member of the Grads after thanking the donors and extending congratulations to the runners up on the hard battle they had put up struck a note when he stated that he hoped next season would see the teams register and be eligible for Maritime playoffs. He felt that whoever the champions would be they would prove worthy opponents in battles against mainland teams.

Brief speeches were also made by the following: Messrs. William Henry, James Leightner, Gordon Morris, Neil Matheson, Pat Power after which the enjoyable dinner was brought to a close.

Herman Doubles To Give Cubs Win Over Bees; Yankees Defeat Tigers 6-5

NEW YORK, May 7.—A double by Billy Herman, his second in two innings and his 14th of the new season, drove in Stan Hack with the run that gave the champion Cubs a free-hitting victory over Boston Bees, 9-8, in 10 innings today at Chicago.

Nine pitchers paraded to the mound and 32 players participated in the game as the two teams pounded out 27 hits, totalling 45 bases.

Driving rookie Lee Grissom from the mound in the seventh, Brooklyn Dodgers won their second straight game from the Reds at Cincinnati, 7-4.

Van Lingle Mungo, pitching his third victory of the season, gave the Reds only six hits in 7 1-3 innings but he was taken out in the eighth when the Reds started off with a single by Babe Herman, a double by Lew Riggs, an infield out and another single by Gilly Campbell.

Fred Frankhouse retired the side without another hit.

New York Giants gave up five runs in the sixth inning to lose 6-2 at Pittsburgh to Pirates and end a disastrous western trip with six defeats in eight starts.

Clyde Castleman and Ralph Birkoff pitched well until the sixth when Pirates broke loose. Bud Hafe's single, Arky Vaughan's triple, three walks, a single by Brubaker, Travis Jackson's error, Birkoff's scratch single and a hit batter produced the runs.

Trailing by a run in the eighth, Cardinals utilized two singles, an error, a walk, a sacrifice and a long fly to score twice and defeat Philadelphia 3-2 at St. Louis.

Joe Medwick singled to score Pepper Martin with the tying run and Leo Durocher's long fly to Lou Chiozza sent Medwick across the plate with the winning tally.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(A.P.)—Bill Dickey's second home run of the day in the eighth with two on gave New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over Detroit Tigers here today, but it took a great throw by rookie Joe Dimaggio in the ninth to save the ball game.

With no outs in the ninth and the tying run on third, Charley Gehring fled out to Dimaggio in deep left field, and the Italian fielder propelled a perfect throw right into Bill Dickey's hands to double Pete Fox at the plate.

In the big eighth Frank Crossetti singled, Gehrig walked and Dickey drove his second homer into the right field bleachers, his sixth of the season.

Cleveland Indians defeated the Athletics 4-3 at Philadelphia, sweeping the two-game series with the A's and winning their sixth straight victory.

Picking up a run at a time until they tied the score in the eighth, the Indians added the winning run in the ninth when Billy Sullivan tripped and scored on a wild pitch.

Chicago White Sox handed Senators an 11-6 beating at Washington that chalked up their fifth straight defeat.

With Luke Appling alone batting in five runs and Jimmy Dykes smashing out a homer, the Sox staked pitcher Stratton to such a lead in the late innings that the 10 hits he tossed against the Senators' bats caused him no major worry. Chicago pounded big Buck Newsom out of the box in the sixth.

Jimmy Foss's seventh and eighth home runs of the season, each with a runner on, enabled Boston Red Sox to wind up their home stay today with a 9-9 victory over St. Louis.

The triumph was the golden sock-sock eighth success in nine starts against the four western clubs on their home preserves. The downfall was the 11th straight for Rogers Hornsby's players.

Blackhawks Obtain Blair From Leafs

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) DETROIT, May 7.—The National Hockey League acted today to build up and preserve the French-Canadian make-up of one of its most colorful teams, Montreal Canadiens.

President Frank Calder announced at the League's annual spring meeting here that Canadiens had been given first call, for another three years, on all French-Canadian players.

Acting in closed session, the League's board of governors referred to a committee of Lester Patrick, New York; Jack Adams, Detroit; and Red Dutton, New York, proposed changes in the league's rules.

Calder, who was re-elected president for his 20th season, said the governors heard reports of increases in attendance over the previous year, and appointed Connie Smyth of Toronto, Art Ross of Boston and himself to confer with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association on "conditions that have arisen in the amateur players' deals were announced as the hockey moguls ended their session.

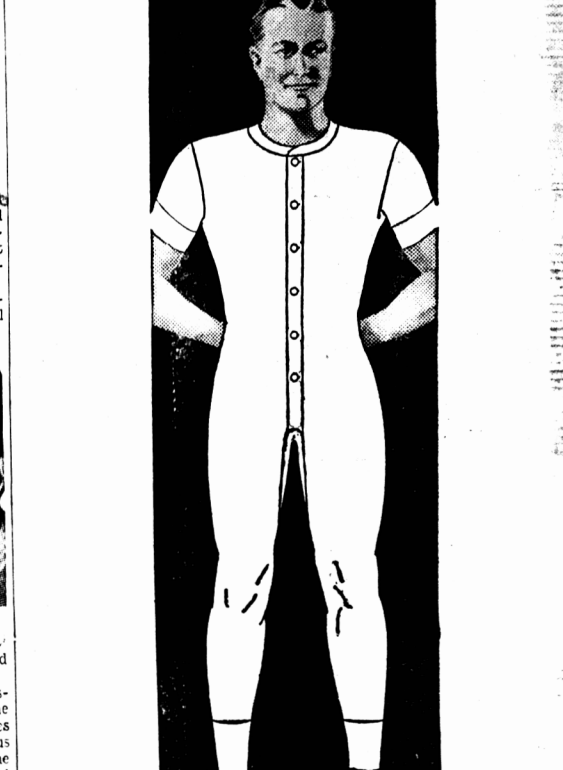

Toronto's Maple Leafs disposed of Andy Blair, defenceman, to Chicago Blackhawks for an unannounced cash consideration. The Hawks plan to use Blair as a centre, the position he played when he starred on the Varsity hockey team at the University of Manitoba.

The Leafs purchased goalkeeper Walter Broda of the champion Detroit Olympics of the International League for $8,000 cash, a record price for a minor league player. Broda's brilliant goal saves were a feature of the Olympics' sweep of six play-off games for the League title and the Teddy Oke Cup last month.

The Blackhawks obtained from Portland 23-year-old Ronald Stahler, defenceman who played his amateur hockey at Battledore, Sask. Only one player was drafted.

Toronto's obtaining centre Murray Armstrong from Philadelphia Ramblers, a New York Ranger farm in the Canadian-American League.

Al Supphin, owner of Cleveland Falcons of the International Hockey League, also in session here today, was prepared to present to the National League governors his plans for a new arena seating 9,300 in Cleveland, as a bid for a major league berth in 1937. The proposal did not reach a three-hour discussion, although Calder said it might be presented later.

McLarin and Canzoneri Clash Tonight

(By Eddie Brien) (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, May 7.—Just what chance a very good little man stands against a very good bigger man will be answered in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Tony Canzoneri and Jimmy McLarin, two of the greatest little veterans in the history of fist-cuffing, are pitted against each other in a 10 round bout that may mean a golden harvest for one, fistic oblivion for the other.

Seldom has an indoor non-title contest attracted so much attention. The advance sale indicates a crowd of 18,000 and a gate exceeding $60,000.

It's a tough bout to figure. The setting tonight was 7 to 5 for McLarin, but the wise ones were saying it would be more than 6 to 5 at ring time with one pick as good as another.

Here are the questions the sporting gentry was trying to answer tonight:

Can McLarin, one of the best of them all in his day, come back after a year's lay-off and defeat such a two-fisted little mixer as Canzoneri?

And what about those 10 pounds Canzoneri is spotting the clever Canadian? Will they be the scales that turn the tide of victory against the lightweight champion, who has shown a distressing inclination to tire in his most recent bouts?

Until his mediocre showing against Johnny Jadick last month, the always-busy Canzoneri was the favorite.

Italian Ball Players Give Yankees Pep

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Italians have captured more than 100 baseball fans by storm, arching a rainbow over the big town's long sport skies. Joe Dimaggio and Frankie Crossetti, Italian boys from California, have the Yankee fans talking pennant. And even old Tony Lazzeri is going like wild fire.

Dimaggio's sensational debut has rivaled the brilliant comeback of Crossetti, but he even more than McCarthy's smile, Frankie, the player few thought could come back after a knee operation last season, is called the difference between a pennant contending club and a shaky one by opposing managers.

Reason—Johnny Broaca, beleaguered Yankee pitcher, says Dimaggio is a cinch to be a great hitter.

"There are two types of hitters," explains Broaca. "The kind who try to hit a ball before it breaks and those who hit it late, or as it breaks. You can fool the pre-break hitter with a change of pace. Dimaggio is the second type. His powerful wrists enable him to wait until the last fraction of a second of swing."

Condition—From England has arrived Charles Atlas, five times winner of the international prize as the world's most perfectly developed man. When a weakling of only 97 pounds, he decided to build his body.

To keep in condition, he advises two or three minutes exercise—at home and before breakfast—daily. Stretch the arms above the head and then down to the toes; twist from side to side; he advises his diet: Breakfast: hot water with lemon juice before the bath. Then orange and milk. Lunch: tomato juice, a creamy and heavy soup, vegetables, lamb chops, milk or hot tea. Dinner: fruit salad, lamb chops, chicken or a vegetable dinner, mixed salad, milk and sometimes some good wine.

Can. Oarsmen Have Real Chance For World Crowns

Leander Eight & Argo Four And Single Look Good To Critics But There Are Fine Crews To Beat.

HAMILTON, May 7.—It will be a great gathering of the world's ranking eight-oared crews at Berlin's Olympic Games this summer and from this distance, Coach Robert T. (Bob) Hunter of Hamilton Leanders believes six nations have a chance to win. Canada is one of the six.

A broad survey of the pre-Olympic set-up reveals the Canadian athletes are less likely to win in any other form of competition than rowing. The runners, jumpers, boxers, wrestlers, fencers, swimmers—well, they scarcely measure up to the oarsmen in this country.

There is always a chance that out of the track team will emerge at the 15 minute a Percy Williams or a Duncan McNamouth, Canada's sole track and field champions in the 1928 and 1932 games. But you can't bet on this happening; in 1936 you can, however, put a modest wager on the rowers.

They have strength in nearly every division. Hunter's Leanders, for instance, shape up as an eight quite likely to defeat all-comers, including the favored entries from the United States, New Zealand, England, Germany and Italy. It is a fact that none of these countries is more favored than Canada.

Toronto Argonaut club has a four without coxswain that is expected to win its way to Berlin with the Canadian team. It's a fine crew, fast and game, and well-coached. Don Parke, Fred Mitcham, Bob Scott and Jim Russell make up the boatload that won three Henley titles in 1935.

Then young Chuck Campbell of Argo, Canadian and United States single scull champion, is pretty certain to reach Berlin as North America's principal challenger for the Olympic championship won in 1928 and 1932 by Bobby Pearce of Australia, now of Hamilton. Campbell has a real chance.

But there isn't a better Canadian boat than the eight from the Leander club, which won easily at the Canadian Henley last summer.

Among its victims was the New York Athletic Club crew, 1935 United States national champions.

"Now don't get excited about that day," advises Coach Hunter. "If the New York A. C. had the best eight in the United States it would be a different matter, but the colleges turn out the best crews over there. I was disappointed that the New York bunch didn't give us a better race last year, but I wasn't greatly set up by the result.

"From what I gather, either University of Washington will win the U. S. Olympic trials, California won the Olympic race in 1928, beating Argonauts in a very close finish, and the Golden Bears won again in 1932, finishing a few feet ahead of Italy and Leanders.

"I think we have a chance to beat California this year, but it's interesting to see how European countries are preparing their eights for the Berlin games.

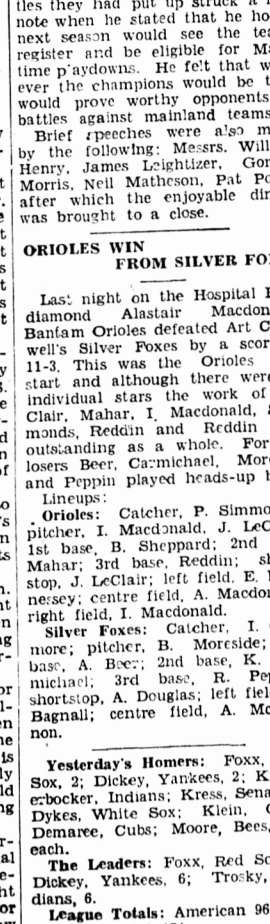

Germany is most anxious to win. Their crew is training each night over the Olympic course—has been over for weeks. They row under strong arc-lights, according to my information.

Italy has a national crew for the second time. This eight is selected from the country's best men about a year in advance of the games and by Olympic time it is thoroughly welded into a unit. Italy crewed second in 1932 and would have won except for bad steering in the last 100 yards.

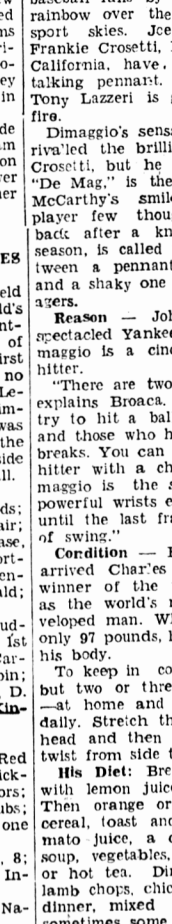

I hear the Cambridge University crew lent up to its usual standard and that England is likely to be represented by an eight from either the Leanders or Thames club. If the Leander crew wins the trials, we will probably find several Cambridge men in the boat.

New Zealand is supposed to be ready with another great outfit, comparable to the one that won the British Empire Games race here in 1930. I understand this crew will take plenty of beating."
