by he had the jack or ten as well, but not necessarily both of these minor honors. Thus, the play which had far more chance for success (and which would have succeeded) was to duck in dummy on the first spade lead. East could win with the jack, cash the diamond and shift to clubs, as before, but South could now win the rest of the tricks. He would cash a high heart, then lead to dummy's queen. Now he would push the spade king through East. If the latter covered with the ace, South would ruff, return to dummy and run the spade suit; if East did not cover the spade king, South would discard a club, then lead the spade queen through East. In this way, also, South would trap West's spade ten.

Observe that this plan depended only on the fair chance that West had three spades headed by jack or ten.

"LULLABY OF BROADWAY" WARNERS' NEW TECHNICOLOR FILM, AT THE CAPITOL

Broadway, Mecca of American show business, is indeed "more than just a paved strip of glaring neon, spectacular animation and wide-eyed tourists straining for a glimpse of a celebrity. No, this heartbeat of the entertainment industry, glorified by the Ziegfelds and the Jolson, may be likened to Sheherazade of the Arabian Nights — master story-teller with a thousand and one yarns about his hopes, joys and heartbreaks of those who seek their fame and fortune within its boundaries. And now, one of these fascinating tales has been set to music in a glowing screen tribute to the Great White Way.

"Lullaby of Broadway," Warner Bros. technicolor musical extravaganza which opens today at the Capitol Theatre, starring singing and dancing stars Doris Day and Gene Nelson, supported by comedians Billy De Wolfe, S. Z. Sakall and Ann Triola, and Gladys George, is the heart-warming story draped against a background of some of the most lavish productions numbers ever filmed. The picture which centers around show folk and their often hilarious attempts to make the grade, is well-laden with such all-time favorite songs as "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart," "Somebody Loves Me," "In A Shanty In Old Shanty Town," "Just One Of Those Things" and the title tune. Also featured in "Lullaby of Broadway" are Hanley Stafford, Florence Bates and the Page Cavanaugh Trio, well-known night club artists.

where they have been vacationing. They returned to their home on Saturday, August 23rd.

Mrs. Hermas Myers, Carleton Sliding, is expected home from the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, at the end of the month. Mrs. Myers was receiving treatment for a throat ailment which reduced her voice to a mere whisper. Her daughter, Mrs. Ralph MacCaull, who is remaining in Halifax, while her mother-in-law is in the hospital, suffered a painful accident. She was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ross and on descending the stairs one morning she tripped and in endeavoring to break the fall, she thrust her right arm through a glass panel door at the foot of the stairs and so badly lacerated it that twenty stitches were required to close the gashes. She will return home with her mother.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at Sealestown Hall on Wednesday, August 20th when friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Waugh, who are newlyweds, were entertained. Rev. C. A. Britten presided over the gathering and after a few remarks, Mr. and Mrs. Waugh were invited to the platform. Little Carol Palmer presented Mrs. Waugh with a lovely bouquet of flowers. Beautiful gifts were opened by Miss Joan Bradshaw and Miss Marjorie Leard. Mrs. Kenneth Muttart read the accompanying verses and presented them to the bride after which Mrs. Heber Myers placed them on the table. Mr. Waugh cordially thanked all for their kindness. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sobey and daughter Ruth, who are leaving Sealestown to take up residence in Bedeque, were kindly remembered by relatives and friends on Wednesday evening, August 20th, when a goodly number gathered in the Hall at Sealestown. Rev. Mr. Britten acted as chairman and called upon Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Palmer to escort the honoured guests to the platform. Miss Marion Robertson then presented Mrs. Sobey with a beautiful bouquet of flowers after which Mr. Walter Wright read an address expressing regret at the departure of their friends from their midst, but were pleased to know that they were not going far away. Mrs. Neil Bradshaw, on behalf of those present, presented them with lovely gifts. Their daughter Ruth was also remembered by a gift presented by Miss Barbara Palmer. Mr. Sobey thanked all present for their kindness and good wishes. Then all sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". Mrs. H. Myers was organist for the occasion.

Martin-Henderson Wedding

At the United Church, Bedeque, on Wednesday afternoon, September 3rd at 2 o'clock the marriage ceremony of Pauline Frances Henderson to Allan Martin was solemnized by Rev. W. B. Crowe. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Henderson of Bedeque and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Martin of Valleyfield. The wedding music was played by Mr. Alden Leard, who accompanied the soloist, Mr. Wendell Phillips, uncle of the bride, as he sang "I'll Walk Beside You". Standards of gladioli, summer flowers and ferns were arranged in the church for the wedding, and the guest pews were marked with pink sweet peas and white ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sisters, Miss Noreen, as maid of honor, and Miss Adele, as bridesmaid. Mr. Homer Campbell of Montague was groomsmen and Messrs. Alex Matheson of Charlottetown and Kenneth Henderson were the ushers.

The bride was charming in her floor-length gown of nylon net over white satin with lace bodice, high neckline with small lace covered buttons and lily point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil fell gracefully from a wedding band trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of Better Time roses.

The attendants were similarly gowned in Nile green and orchid net, respectively, with matching lace capes, picture hats and mitts. Their arm bouquets were of yellow gladioli and mums and of white gladioli and mums and Mrs. Henderson chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of teal blue with grey accessories and corsage of Better Time roses and the groom's mother was attired in navy with matching accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Reception for fifty-five guests was held at the Birch Hill Lodge where the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a wedding bell, and encircled with bouquets of sweet peas and lighted tapers.

Presiding over the tea urn were Mrs. Ethel Haslam of Springfield and Mrs. Harold Stead of Charlottetown, aunts of the bride, and assisting in serving were Mrs. Kenneth Henderson, Mrs. Norman MacFarlane, the Misses Glenn MacFarlane, Eileen Woodside and Ruth Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin left by plane on a wedding trip, the bride traveling in two-tone grey taffeta with red velvet shawl and black accessories. Her corsage was of Queen Elizabeth yellow roses. On return they will reside in Charlottetown where the groom is on the staff of the Maritime Central Airways. Previous to her marriage the bride was secretary with the Island Fertilizer Company.
