

United States Gives Report On Latest Chinese A-Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today that China's latest nuclear weapons test did not involve an H-bomb-type device.

It also termed "implausible" any thought that the device exploded May 14 was missile-delivered.

But the U.S. government's first announced analysis of the character of the test immediately prompted speculation that the test put the Chinese Communists on the road to developing an H-bomb in two to three years.

This theory came from Dr. Ralph Lapp, a nuclear physicist who worked on the first American A-bomb, but who is not now with the government.

Lapp's view is somewhat in line with one previously expressed by another nuclear physicist, Dr. Philip Abelson of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. Abelson said he believes the Chinese can produce a hydrogen weapon in the latter part of this decade.

Lapp's opinion was expressed after the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported that the latest test involved detonation of a fission device employing uranium-235. The first test last October also used U-235. The AEC also said the latest detonation had a "somewhat higher (explosive) yield" than did the first test.

LIKE EARLY U.S. BOMBS
The first blast was generally regarded as packing the equivalent wallop of 20,000 tons of TNT, much like the early U.S. bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in the Second World War.

Lapp said in an interview.

The fact that they (the Chinese) used U-235 as the explo-

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre-Miquelon (CP)—An agreement has been reached by all liquor merchants on Newfoundland's south coast to cut drastically the price of most wines and spirits as the growing tourist trade.

Developing Nations Seen Trade Prospect

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade with small, developing nations like Israel offers some of the best prospects for increasing Canada's exports, Trade Minister Sharp said Tuesday.

On an individual basis, sales to these nations amount to less than one per cent of Canada's total sales, he said.

"But 20 per cent of Canada's foreign trade is with nations that individually account for less than one per cent of our market."

He told the inauguration of the Ottawa chapter of the Canada-Israel Chamber of Commerce and Trade that as these nations grow in population and economic strength "prospects are excellent that Canada can increase its share of the market."

Israel's 10 1/2 per-cent annual increase in its gross national product over the last five years was a strong indication that markets there for Canadian goods were increasing faster than in traditional Canadian markets.

The Ottawa chapter is the fourth in Canada for the private organization or corporations and individuals which promote closer economic relations between the two nations. Other chapters are in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, with a total membership of 150.

Rueff, who has long urged a return to the gold standard, told an international conference here part of the proceeds from the doubling of the gold price should be used as a long-term loan to help Britain redeem foreign-held balances in pound sterling.

The gold price is pegged at $35 (U.S.) an ounce.

Rueff, an adviser to French President de Gaulle, emphasized he was speaking in a personal capacity and said the main danger of the present international monetary system resulted from the accumulation of dollar and sterling balances abroad.

He said there are immediate claims on the gold reserves of the United States and Britain.

The present system, he said, is at the end of its useful life and must in any case disappear.

"The situation of the dollar and of sterling are harmful not only to the United States and Britain."

"They threaten the development of international trade and are the more worrying since they resemble closely those which provoked the great depression of 1931."
