

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

SEPTEMBER 12, 1882.

Editorial Echoes.

The despatch sent to THE EXAMINER and the despatches of the same day in the mainland papers do not agree in many particulars. THE EXAMINER'S report was the latest, and on that account it is probably the most trustworthy.

One of the most remarkable incidents in connection with the rise of Arabi's army is the enormous amount of war material in the possession of the Rebel.

Where did Arabi's forces spring from? The despatch to THE EXAMINER informed its readers that 13,000 were engaged in the battle of Kassassin.

The Bedouins, who cause so much trouble by their unsettled mode of warfare in Egypt, are generally regarded as descendants of Ishmael, and as the aborigines of Arabia.

The British will require a strong and determined army corps for their advance to Cairo. Alexandria must be held by a strong force, and 30,000 or 40,000 men will be required to make a vigorous advance on the part of the British.

The doubtful allusion to the Highlanders begins to grow clearer. It is gleaned from the despatches dated Ismailia, Sept. 7th., that the Highland Brigade would march from that place on Saturday, and bivouac on Saturday night at El-Maghar.

And now the socialistic fever has broken out in Vienna. The police have rigorously searched several houses in connection with the discovery of stolen property at the homes of radical workmen.

An opinion from one whose experience the expression thereof is always in order. Mr. Hiram B. Ferguson, a member of the Supreme Court, Bar of the State of New York, whose office is at No. 287 Broadway, New York City says: "I consider St. Jacobs Oil a most wonderful remedy. I had been a sufferer from rheumatism for years and probably have endured as much misery from that disease as any man can stand."

Messrs J. & J. TAYLOR, the celebrated Fireproof Safe Makers, of Toronto, Ont., have opened an Agency in this City, and appointed Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle, their representative.

The Subsidence.

The abstracts of papers read at the Congress of Scientists assembled at Montreal are of a most interesting character. We must say, however, that some of the subjects treated are so abstruse that, as Dunderary would say "No fellow on earth can find them out, you know."

At the close of his paper, the Prof. says that it will be found that the rise or depression affects the whole coast, and probably the whole Northern Hemisphere.

As a compensation for the wearing away of our shores, we have the deepening of channels and harbors; thus, both the wearing away of the coast, and the different subsidences of the ground become great aids to effective navigation.

The Fenians and the Mules.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken by the agents of the steamship Catalina, which sailed on the 8th from New York, with 500 mules for the British in Egypt, on account of a rumor that a part of the Irish skirmishing fund is to be used in blowing up the steamship.

The debt of New York city has reached $97,503,308. That of Chicago is only $8,752,000, since the nearly $4,000,000 water bonds are to be paid from the profits of the water system.

The Local Government of British Columbia which was formed by Mr. Beaven prior to the recent general election was not defeated after all. It lives, and it is apparent that it will live.

The trial of the Joyce family murderers has been removed to Dublin.

The corn in Chicago dropped five cents per bushel to-day.

The African Company's steamer 'Ethiopia' was totally lost off Lorango. The crew were saved.

The Society of the Cincinnati, at Philadelphia, has just received word from Berlin that Prof. Rudolph Siemens, the distinguished German sculptor, to whom was awarded the contract for executing the colossal statue of Washington for Fairmount Park, has completed the miniature model of the monument and has already begun work on the full-sized figure from which the cast will be made. It will cost $140,000.

Further Particulars

Special Despatch to the Examiner.

It is not through any fault of the rebel leaders that the attack on Saturday, made by Arabi, was unsuccessful. For a quarter of an hour the position of the English force and camp looked exceedingly critical, as the infantry were in danger of being outflanked.

General Lowe came to the relief of the British infantry with a cavalry force and threatening the enemy's left, forced him to desist from continuing his flanking movement. The rebel force fell back and for half an hour each endeavored to get round the other.

The News' despatch from Tunis says an engagement is reported near Kairvan, in which the French lost 50 killed and the Arabs 150.

No Forward Move at Kassassin.

THE SURPRISE.

The Egyptian Loss.

Special Despatch to the Examiner.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 11.

The British forces are still at Kassassin, in readiness for any important movement. No forward movement has yet taken place. The engagement of Saturday seems to have been quite a surprise to the British.

The latest report of the casualties sustained by the Egyptians gives one hundred killed.

The British Foreign Secretary declines the Porte's proposal to land Turkish troops at Port Said. The general feeling is, that the Turks must now submit unhesitatingly to the demands of Lord Dufferin, and that the business of the convention must be closed.

Italy and France Troubled.

Special to the Examiner.

ROME, Sept. 11.

There is likelihood of trouble arising between Italy and France. The complications arising out of the French occupation have been growing more and more irritating to Italy.

HYNES EXECUTED.

Special Despatch to the Examiner.

DUBLIN, Sept. 11.

Hynes was executed at Limerick this morning. There was no demonstration by the people. A military guard was in readiness, and military police were drafted from the Northern Counties in case of trouble.

The trial of the Joyce family murderers has been removed to Dublin.

FALL IN CORN.

Telegraphic Accounts of the Opening Movements at Kassassin.

KASSASSIN, Aug. 9.

Firing commenced on both sides at seven this morning, and continued with great precision until nine, when the enemy retired.

After six o'clock this morning the Bengal Lancers came in with the news that the enemy were approaching in great force on the north side of the railway. Our army was at once put in motion, and by seven an artillery-duel began. Arabi's troops, of all arms, are spread over the entire ridge and a mile and a half up the line. A train, heavily armed, has appeared. Close to where I stand our forty pounder and Krupp guns are placed, shelling the enemy's right. There is also a twenty-five pounder a few hundreds off playing on the same position. We have the enemy's range exactly. One shell burst right over the enemy's ranks. The Egyptian artillery have got their distance very well, and their shells are dropping steadily into our camp. We have horse artillery extended along a line half a mile in length on the north side of the railway. They are firing rapidly, and at present Egyptians are slowly retiring. Up to this moment no casualties have occurred. Reinforcements are just coming up from Mahsaneh. The Krupp gun, recently captured from Arabi, sent a shell nearly in front of his train. Our infantry are slowly advancing and the enemy are slowly retiring. While a reconnoitering party was returning on Friday, after exchanging fire with the enemy, a long train was observed coming up from the enemy's camp probably laden with troops, showing that the enemy are ready to meet the English in advance of his main position. No measures have been taken to conceal the English movements from the enemy.

ISMAILIA, Sept. 9.

As the water in the fresh water canal is falling, the lock gates cannot be open to allow vessels to enter. Two steam launches have been dragged bodily from the lake over sandhills and placed in the canal by Highlanders, two hundred of whom manned each rope.

The second division is now in the harbor awaiting orders to disembark.

A Russian General arrived here Friday in one of the Imperial yachts to witness the operations.

LONDON, Sept. 9.

General Wolseley telegraphs to the War Office, from a point three and a half miles from Kassassin Lock, the following report of this morning's operations:—

"NOON.—Enemy reconnoitered our advanced posts with considerable all arms at daybreak. Gen. Willis advanced and attacked them, driving them back with loss. We have taken four guns. Our loss is very trifling. The enemy have retired into their works from which they are now firing at five thousand yards range. I shall return to camp at Kassassin shortly with all the force. I have removed my camp there, as the Railway Canal telegraph are now working fairly. We have found the buried body of Lieut. Gribble."

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 10.

For the last two days unusual movements have been observed in the enemy's camp. Heavy canoning was heard to-day in the direction of Abuiker and Kiout.

LONDON, Sept. 10.

The Telegraph's correspondent at Kassassin views Saturday's repulse of Arabi Pasha as a complete success for the English, who never calculated upon his attacking them in such manner. The enemy did not retire until the English infantry advanced. Arabi left about 200 dead and wounded on the field. The wounded state that the English right was attacked by five battalions of infantry with five guns and 500 cavalry under command of Mahmood Pasha Sami from Salihieh. The enemy had altogether 15,000 men.

Saturday night passed quietly, the enemy having disappeared behind their entrenchments. At daybreak on Sunday morning, the English began to throw up rifle pits around Kassassin, in order to prevent Arabi Pasha from approaching near enough to shell their camp.

The picket charged a regiment of the enemy's cavalry, rode through them and killed ten men, losing but one of their own. The enemy threw many of their own wounded alive into the canal.

The Foot Guards have arrived at the front and stores are coming up fast.
