Discovered on Christmas Day

Natal, South Africa, was discovered by the Portuguese explorer Vasco de Gama on Christmas Day 1497. He named the land Terra Natale, which means Land of the Nativity, and from which the modern name was derived. It is perhaps fitting that Vasco de Gama should have made this Christmas discovery, for his own birth and death occurred on Christmas Day.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS' COME FROM WORLD OVER

Postoffice officials in Santa Claus, Ind., are accustomed to over-loaded sacks of mail during the pre-Christmas rush. Senders wait their cards and gifts stamped with the famous Santa Claus postmark, plus thousands of wistful letters, "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, Ind."

And, then there is the annual crop of "Santa Claus" letters written by youngsters in far away places who haven't heard about Santa's permanent address in Indiana, U.S.A. At least a dozen versions of the time honored note-in-the-bottle story find their way into metropolitan newspapers every year.

The notes, sealed in small bottles and securely tied to Christmas trees, are discovered by Christmas tree dealers, housewives, and even enlisted men at naval centers and military barracks; they come from places like Renous, a village in New Brunswick, Canada, boasting a total population of 85 inhabitants.

The notes range from the wistful to the desperate, requesting such things as a mamma doll, a sled, a sweater, or a pair of over-shoes.

"I'm dreaming of a white Christmas..." according to the popular song, but the dream would be a nightmare if Christmas was as severe as that of 1830. In many parts of England the thermometer registered 24 degrees of frost on Christmas Eve. With the arrival of Santa Claus came the blizzards that isolated many towns and villages, and remained until the thaw on New Year's Eve.

GAMES FOR ALL MAKE CHRISTMAS FAMILY PARTY

Christmas is the time for family get-togethers. One of the best ways to make these gatherings memorable for all concerned is to engage in games which the whole group can play.

A nice one to start off with would be a Sugar Plum Hunt. Have one member of the family hide Christmas candles ahead of time in various nooks and corners around the house. At a given signal everyone starts hunting and gathering the pieces. The one who gathers the greatest number would be given a prize.

The Christmas Puzzle is another good one to get things going. Look through some magazines, which are filled with pictures of Santa Claus at this time of year. Cut out enough of these to go around, paste them on stiff cardboard, and cut them into pieces. Then put each group of pieces in a separate paper bag. At the signal, everyone opens a bag and starts putting the puzzle together.

The Xmas Scramble Contest is good for a group with older children in it. This is simply a contest to see who can unscramble a group of words the fastest. Just for fun. See if you can work out the following — astna, erreden, ehsgil, dynca, gosknet, erle, trepe: , hupnc, alsorc, and niborb.

Merriest of Christmases; may joy remain with you!

First Christmas Day Broadcast

Christmas Day 1932 was memorable because, for the first time, the great radio public heard a direct broadcast by King George V. This was the occasion on which was inaugurated the King's Christmas broadcast to his peoples. To the universal delight the King proved a natural broadcaster. He had the voice, the unmistakable sincerity and the simple thoughts that made the perfect fireside talk. His son, George VI, carrying on the Royal tradition, made his first Christmas broadcast in 1937, and Queen Elizabeth followed her revered father when she spoke to all her peoples for the first time on Christmas Day 1952.
