Mr. Lowry has accepted the invitation of Zion Church Session to become assistant to the minister of that church, and will be taking up his new duties at the beginning of the year.

Mrs. Lyle Bodwell presided at the tea table, and assisting in serving were Mrs. Cecil Stetson and Mrs. John Munn. A parting gift was presented Mrs. Lowry, by Mrs. Stetson on behalf of the group, accompanied by wishes for every blessing in the days to come.

Who Is Home For Christmas?

"I'll be home for Christmas" is the happy news being passed to many an anxious person whose loved ones are living many miles from their home town. It's wonderful to be "home" for the holidays and even sicer when friends know you've arrived. The Guardian - The Evening Patriot invites the submission of items for the annual Home For Christmas feature beginning Monday, December 14. Rural subscribers may write personally, contact the correspondents in their area or phone the Guardian - Evening Patriot Bureau in Summerside, Alberton, Montague or Souris. Charlottetown readers should phone 4-8508 and ask for Audrey Jenkins or Avila Rogers. There is no charge for social news.

Games And Xmas Go Together

Children and Christmas go together. And the choice of gifts for children, especially if some are selected with adult participation in mind, can go a long way in determining the family fun and excitement of this year's activities beneath the Christmas tree.

Games are one category of gifting that never fails to please both the kids and the grown-ups. Older sister and brother, as well as Mom and Dad, can get a lot of enjoyment from many games supposedly "just for children", partly because some games are full of lighthearted fun that appeals to any age, and partly because children tend to demand games that are really challenging, even to adults.

The grammar set gets sophisticated very quickly and begins early to enjoy geography puzzles, for instance or history and arithmetic games.

Aside from the children's games that invite family participation, there are those designed primarily for adults. Here, the children are likely to put in their claim for a share in the competition.

Morell CWL Plans Bazaar And Carol Sing

The December meeting of St. Teresa's Parish Council, CWL, Morell was held December 4th in the hall with a large attendance of members and visitors present. Mrs. John McDonald president, chaired the meeting. The secretary, Mrs. A. Kelly read the minutes of the previous monthly meeting and the executive meeting of November 30. Final arrangements were made for holding of a bazaar and card party on December 9. Volunteers were asked to take charge of card parties for the next month. Mrs. Louis McGuire, Mrs. Brian McGuire and Mrs. Eugene Larren offered their services. Christmas gifts for the aged and shut-ins are to be arranged by Mrs. E.R. Kelly the expenses to be paid by a collection at the church door on Sunday, December 11. The treasurer, Mrs. E. Gallant read the financial statement.

All conveners present submitted reports. The convenor of girl guides, Mrs. Rossiter, reported a new flag has been donated and will be presented at a special ceremony of girl guides later.

It was agreed to order flowers for the altar for Christmas. Correspondence consisted of a thank you note from Rev. E. Robin acknowledging a remembrance on the occasion of his silver jubilee.

A collection of jewellery (used), silk and ribbons was donated by members to be forwarded to St. Margaret Mary at the Sacred Heart Home, to be used in making Xmas novelties.

An excellent monthly CWL newsletter is now being published by our secretary, Mrs. Kelly with the executive helping. This is distributed monthly with the Sunday Parish Bulletin. This is a splendid method of keeping all Catholic women in the parish informed as to the activities of the CWL and a potential means of influencing more women to become members. Members were reminded to save cancelled stamps and also labels for premiums.

Following the business meeting, program convenor, Mrs. E. Waller, McAdam, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Wilfred Driscoll, who is well known in Morell and who received a warm welcome. He chose as his topic "Laymen's Bridge to the Modern World." Mr. Driscoll was well informed on his subject and brought a wealth of knowledge to the meeting.

Mrs. E. MacDonald voiced the appreciation and thanks of all members to Mr. Driscoll and the meeting closed with a social hour during which time coffee was served.

SMOKE BRINGS FIRE FARNHAM, England (CP) - Farnham Heights in Surrey, a private school advocating maximum freedom for students, has changed its policy and instituted punishments, including cash fines, detention and locker searches, in order to stamp out smoking. This "opposes everything we stand for," says the headmaster, Stephen Hogg, "but children had to be shown they could not abuse the trust placed in them."

Institute Leadership Course Is Held At Mont Carmel

The leadership course for the Women's Institutes of Prince County was held in Mont Carmel Parish Hall, with Mrs. Arthur Campbell presiding. Mrs. Leslie G. Ramsay was in charge of registration and 30 women from ten institutes attended. The meeting opened by reciting the Institute Ode in unison, after which Mrs. Campbell outlined the projects of the provincial branch for centennial year. She said that efforts should be made by every WI branch on the Island to achieve a worthwhile project for 1967. The president asked the institutes to send delegates to the annual convention to be held in Charlottetown on July 5.

Mrs. Campbell congratulated those members who had served as jurors for the first time, and especially Mrs. Leslie Ramsay who was chosen as forewoman.

The delegates were then divided into three study groups, and the duties of presidents were explained by Mrs. Campbell, the duties of secretaries by Mrs. Drimon, and the importance of electing conveners for the different committees was explained by Mrs. Ramsay.

Mrs. Frank Ross, convenor of citizenship, then took the chair. She stressed the importance of planning meetings in advance, with one special project. Institutes would visit one another and have programs of interest for everyone. They should follow the motto of Centennial year, "Put a book in every child's hand". A turkey dinner was served by Cape Egmont WI and enjoyed by all. Following this, slides were shown on "The Foundation of Institutes".

The afternoon session was presided over by Mrs. Roy Drimon, convenor of health and welfare. Study groups were formed to learn about the ways of conducting meetings.

Mrs. Julian Herring, who has recently been appointed director of Women's Institutes brought greetings from the head office and said she hoped that the members would take the opportunity of visiting the new office. She wished all the institutes success in their work.

MR. AND MRS. LAYTON HUESTES

November Wedding Is Held In Keir Memorial Church

A November wedding took place in Keir Memorial Presbyterian Church, Malpeque when Edith Carolyn MacGougan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. MacGougan, of Malpeque, and Layton Ira Huestes, younger son of Mrs. George Mayhew and the late Ira Huestes of Wilnot Valley.

The church was decorated with green fern, white mums and green pine, and the guest pews were marked with clusters of rosan berries, pine cones and white ribbon.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. George R. Tamahill, a former pastor of Keir Memorial Church. The organist, Mrs. Roy Easter of New Amasa, supplied the wedding music and accompanied Percy MacGougan, brother of the bride as he sang "The Wedding Prayer" prior to the ceremony, and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The congregation joined in singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" as the bride reached the chancel steps.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a floor length gown of white silk velvet with matching train, which was carried by her little brother, Ian MacGougan. Her headress was a velvet pillbox hat trimmed with rosebuds and lace, and holding a shoulder length veil of nylon net. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white periwinkle mums and a stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Stewart, the bride's twin sister, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Marion Stewart, sister of the groom, and Irene Evans, the bride's cousin. Sandra Stewart, the groom's niece was flower girl. The bridesmaids wore street length gowns of ruby red velvet, and the matron of honor and flower girl wore jade green velvet. Their headresses were velvet bows matching their gowns, and they carried bouquets of white stephanotis. Brian Evans, cousin of the bride was ring bearer, and Stewart Huestes, the groom's brother was best man. The ushers were Gorth MacGougan, the bride's brother, and Kenneth Mounse.

At a reception for 100 guests in Kensington Presbyterian Church lower hall, the bride's mother received wearing a two piece dress of forest green silk with a maroon neckpiece, gold accessories and a corsage of russet sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a three piece ensemble of peacock blue and beige silk with a matching feather hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

Percy MacGougan was master of ceremonies and Mr. Tamahill proposed the toast to the bride. For a honeymoon trip to Maine, the White Mountains, New Hampshire, and Boston in Mass., the bride wore an Island crowd walking suit with green and brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

Presbyterian Church Scene Of Recent S'ide Wedding

Summerside Presbyterian Church was the scene of a recent wedding when Evelyn Joan only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Mounse, Summerside, became the bride of David Allen Sheen, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sheen, Summerside. Rev. J. S. McBride performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. E. Webster, D.D.

The church was decorated with ferns and Autumn flowers. The solemn, Beniah Mounse of Summerside, sang "The Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. The organist was Mrs. Anos Huley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of pea de sole in empire style with lace trim and a matching long-sleeved lace coat. The double-tiered-shoulder-length veil of tulle-lace was held in place by a crown of red pearls. She carried a white Bible with a spray of yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Edwin Mounse, aunt of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a street length gown in empire style with matching jacket and a shirred pillbox hat in gold fabric. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Edgar Mounse, sister-in-law of the bride, and Shirley Rayner her cousin. Their street length empire gowns were of turquoise pea de sole and they were matching pillbox hats. All three attendants carried Victorian bouquets of daisies in Autumn colours.

The best man was Edgar Mounse, brother of the bride, and ushers were Ira Mounse, also a brother, and Peter Schurman.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion Home, catered to by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion.

Receiving with the bride and groom were the bride's mother in a green suit with black accessories, a metallic fabric hat, and a corsage of yellow roses, and the groom's mother in a teal blue gown with matching jacket a blending metallic fabric hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Judy Clark was in charge of the guest book. Rev. C. R. Webster asked the blessing and Rev. J. S. McBride proposed the toast to the bride. Telegrams were read by Edgar Mounse. Several piano numbers were played by Owen Kelly.

The bride's going away costume was a camel wool dress and jacket with a matching brown-trimmed hat, and brown accessories. Her corsage was of turquoise carnations.

Following a honeymoon in the Maritimes Mr. and Mrs. Sheen have taken up residence at 283 Convent St., Summerside.
