EXCITING MYSTERY AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE - Offering an exciting new idea in murder mysteries, RKO Radio's action drama "Hunt the Man Down", with Gig Young, Cleo Moore, Mary Anderson, James Anderson and Carla Balenda in principal roles, opened today at the Capitol Theatre.

While on trial for murder a man escapes because, though he is innocent, he is sure that circumstantial evidence will convict him. Twelve years later he is apprehended and again brought to trial. A public defender appointed in his behalf, sets himself to find the seven witnesses, who originally testified against the man, in an effort to uncover new evidence which will clear his client. What happens then builds up through many exciting scenes to a suspenseful climax in which the real murderer is revealed.

Gig Young, as the public defender and James Anderson, as the man on trial, come through with top drawer performances. Lynne Roberts is beautiful and capable as Anderson's loyal girl-friend. Others who are excellent in their exacting and varied roles include Willard Parker, Gerald Mohr, John Kellogg, Harry Shannon and Christy Palmer. George Archambault's fine sense of suspense is evident in his skilled direction of the production by Lewis J. Rachmil, and the screenplay by De Vallon Scott was well done.

Let's Talk It Over A Prince County Viewpoint by "d"

Come Out And Hear The Summerside Legion Band has given its last open-air concert in the summer season.

Throughout the summer months they have given us unique entertainment. You may sit by your radio and listen to the world's best bands but that experience falls short, somehow, of assembling in the town park under the trees on a warm summer night and listening to the home town band.

Our listening to our own band gives added enjoyment. Our Summerside band has had a fine season showing decided improvement over their first gallant efforts in early summer.

If Winter Comes Now that September is here we are reminded that shortly after the royal visit to which we are now looking forward King Winter in his white robes will visit us again.

To the youth of Summerside the prospect is rather bleak. The news that Crystal Rink will not operate again means that our usual skating and hockey programs will be seriously curtailed.

All we can do is hope that our winter will be favorable for outdoor skating, and that our town fathers and others will do all in their power to make the outdoor program as enjoyable as possible.

It Is Up To Us! The Dominion Government has publicly placed Free Enterprise on trial and we, the people, are all in the jury box to decide whether the system is what we believe and declare it to be. Not by conference and decision but by courageous and unselfish action or the lack of it, will we bring in the verdict.

(1) Buyers must show sales resistance to unessential goods priced too highly. (2) Workers and employers must get together and produce more goods. (3) Those who put on the price tags must show proper restraint. There you have the Government's blueprint for success. Will we be able to control inflation by our individual efforts, with no government restriction or legislation? Will we show the unbelievers and the critics that Free Enterprise is workable and desirable?
