Kinsmen Celebrate 34th Anniversary

President of the Charlottetown Kinsmen Club, will be Master of Ceremonies at the local celebration of the 34th anniversary of the founding of the National Association of Kinsmen Clubs which takes place this evening at the Clover Club.

The function will be in the nature of a dinner and dance interspersed with entertaining features presented by members of the club and their wives, the "Kinettes" of which Mrs. Percy MacDonald is President.

Eliot's Poetic Drama To Be Given At P. W. C. Tonight

"Murder in the Cathedral," T. S. Eliot's two-act poetic dramatization of the martyrdom of St. Thomas a Becket, will be enacted in the Prince of Wales College auditorium tonight by the Dramatic Society of St. Dunstan's College. Tonight's performance is to be the only public showing of the College's Centennial Year production.

The central character in the play is Thomas, Archbishop of Canterbury, On December 29, 1170 he was murdered in his own cathedral, and three years later was canonized. Though the assassination was committed by the king's soldiers, King Henry III was not considered to have been directly responsible for the deed. After the canonization of Thomas however, King Henry did penance by making a pilgrimage to the tomb of the martyr-saint.

The martyr's shrine at Canterbury, destroyed by King Henry VIII in 1538, was immortalized in literature by Geoffrey Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales."

Eliot's play deals with the Archbishop's return from France to England, the troubles and temptations that beset him, and his heroic martyrdom. In "Murder in the Cathedral" Eliot has successfully combined elements of Greek drama (especially in the use of the chorus) with modern English verse. From the point of view of either poetic insight or effective drama this play is worthy of the genius of one of the great living masters of English literature.

Playing the role of the Archbishop of Canterbury is John J. Dunphy. Other members of the cast include Misses Grace Seaman, Etta MacDonald and H. Patricia MacDonald as the chorus of scrubwomen; David Gallant, Richard Wedge, Arthur Seaman and John Taylor as the knights; Allan MacDonald, Leo McGinn and Andre Dorais as the priests; Robert Moorey, Wilfred Gellis, Thomas Kane and Louis McIvor as the tempters; and Simeon Farmer as a messenger.

The director, Rev. Adrian Arsenault, a member of St. Dunstan's College faculty, has also designed the semi-Byzantine stage settings for this play.

year for the past three years showed no improvement. He strongly advocated fluorination treatment in the city water supply and showed an interesting film in support of his contention that such was desirable, and even necessary in the interest of all concerned.

Mr. C. F. Hine, vice principal, referred to the course to be adopted at West Kent next term when grades seven and upwards will be diverted to the new High School. Six rooms are under consideration in this respect but two of them are top floor locations which were make-shifts and will be abandoned. One other room should be available for an extra teacher and the remaining rooms diverted to other uses.

Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, president of the Provincial Home and School Association, submitted a most interesting report on her attendance at the Canadian Federation of Home and School held in Toronto in January.

Enjoyable Variety Concert By Boy Scouts Last Evening

A rare treat was enjoyed by more than 250 parents and friends of Boy Scouts who saw them go through their paces in the auditorium of Prince of Wales College last evening, supplemented by several choice special numbers contributed by more mature and experienced entertainers.

The Scouter and Cub events were put on by the 7th Charlottetown troop of St. Paul's Church, Mr. Frank Jelks Scoutmaster, Dr. George Fisher, District Commissioner acted as Master of Ceremonies throughout the program.

The programme was highlighted by a campfire scene in which the Scouts took part under leadership given by Mr. F. A. Driscoll, Provincial Commissioner as Camp Chief assisted by Mr. Frank Costello, troop leader of the Holy Redeemer Scouts. Stage effects and lighting was by Robert Hyndman and Ivan Duvar, both of whom are Queen Scouts.

The Scouter and Cubs present were thrilled to see the colored sound picture "Jamboree of Adventure" taken last summer at Ottawa, which also gave the audience a close-up view of Scouter life and activities. The film was on loan from Scout Headquarters Ottawa and shown by Mr. Roger Gardham.

In the course of the diversified portion of the programme, Miss Maureen Blake, who invariably pleases her audience with her singing rendered "You're in my heart alone" and "The heart that's free". Mr. J. H. Haystead, was also in splendid voice as he sang "Road to Mandalay" and "Asleep in the deep".

Mr. Dick Turpin, another prime favorite with Charlottetown audiences, gave a humorous reading as did also Mr. J. R. Compton, both of which were well received. Mr. W. E. Scantlebury who has long enjoyed the reputation as a Club swinger of considerable ability contributed his number with precision and grace. Mr. Paul Cudmore, and Mr. Derek Dew were accompanists throughout the evening.

Dancing in Highland costume to the music of the pipes by Bruce McLaren was taken part in by Judy Allen, Virginia Shaw, Andrea Duvar, Judy Johnston, Elizabeth Hayward and Myrna Clay. The Argyle Broadsword dancing was by Ruth Ross, Norma Duvar, Virginia Shaw and Elizabeth Hayward followed by Ruth Ross and Norma Duvar in the sword dance.

The entertainment was arranged by the group committee consisting of Messrs H. E. Miller, (Chairman), Ivan Horne, Gerald Procter and Arthur Duvar.

the meetings of the Board of Trustees, told members that the Board would like to have as many as can attend their annual meeting.

The matter of the verandah which the Junior Aid proposed to build was discussed fully at the last meeting of the Trustees, but the Board were unable to give a definite reply at this time.

After a considerable discussion on the cart, it was decided that all members take turns looking after the magazines for the cart after the turns to come in alphabetical order. Mrs. F. W. Jelks has consented to take charge of this. A mimeographed list of the members was distributed by Mrs. Gillies.
