S'port Club Refused License, Lawyer Sees No Reason

Attorney for the Southport Country Club, Allison Gillis said yesterday morning that this was the third or fourth application for the club that has been turned down," following a P.E.I. Liquor Control Board Commission decision yesterday turning down the club's application for a temporary license to sell liquor to its members and guests.

Mr. Gillis said " I will advise the club directors that it will be useless to make further application as long as I am its attorney. I shall also advise the directors of the various forms of court action that may be taken, but the decisions as to the club's future will naturally rest with the members."

He said the commission's reason for not granting a license was that they were not satisfied with the club's method of management.

Mr. Gillis stated he found it hard to understand why the club's application was turned down when the club "seems to have qualifications as good as some of the clubs who got licenses.

He pointed out that the club had for its membership such facilities as golf, archery, riding stables, swimming pools, a ball diamond and a gymnasium.

Mr. Gillis said he was happy to see the other clubs get their licenses and praised some of the activities in which they have stimulated an interest.

ROCKEFELLER

President Johnson's anti-poverty bill passed the Senate labor committee Tuesday, 11 to 12. One of those anti-Johnson votes was Goldwater's.

Scranton was in Illinois Tuesday, visiting Springfield, Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign and Kankakee. Lodge was in Missouri.

Although neither created any stir among delegates, both are trying to create enough excitement among ordinary Republican voters to persuade convention delegates to change their minds by the time the convention opens Monday.

Undoubtedly this was the same strategy used by Rockefeller before the platform committee Tuesday.

He said Republicans must say that the new U.S. civil rights law is constitutional. Goldwater voted against the bill because he questioned the constitutionality of two of its sections.)

Three Americans Missing In Ont.

TRENTON, Ont. (CP) — The RCAF Tuesday began a search for three Americans near Bagotville, Que., missing since Saturday.

The three are Floyd Struble, 55, of West Milford, N.J., a county clerk; Dr. Charles Taylor, 47, of Butler, N.J., a school superintendent and pilot of the plane, and Hollis Card, 55, also of Butler, a painting contractor.

They flew from Caldwell, N.J. airport to Canada June 27.

The single - engined Beech Musketeer originally left Robertval, Que., Friday to return to Caldwell but was forced back because of bad weather.

When Mrs. Struble failed to hear from her husband Monday she called the manager of the hotel where the men stayed in Roberval and was told they left Saturday. They were to land in Montreal for a customs check but did not show up.

The RCAF rescue co-ordinating centre said the pilot intended to fly over Lac St. Jean and along the Saguenay and St. Lawrence Rivers to Montreal for refuelling.

The airport at Roberval said the men did not file a flight plan.

An RCAF SA16 amphibious aircraft from here and two Beech aircraft from the RCAF at Bagotville took off Tuesday to search for the missing plane.
