BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT, SOAP MAKERS TO HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN

If you wish your Linen to be White as Snow, Sunlight Soap will do it.

Why,

Because SUNLIGHT SOAP is perfectly pure, and contains no Injurious Chemicals to injure either your clothes or your hands. Greatest care is exercised in its manufacture, and its quality is so appreciated by the public that it has the Largest Sale of any Soap in the World.

How

Can you test this? If you have never tried SUNLIGHT SOAP, ask those who use it what they think of it, then try it for yourself. The result will please you, and your clothes will be washed in far less time, with Less Labour, Greater Comfort, and will be whiter than they have ever been before, when you used ordinary soap.

Is That

not the best way to decide the matter? First by enquiring what the experience is of those who already use it. Secondly, by a fair trial yourself. You are not committed in any way to use the soap; all we ask is: Don't Delay, try it the next washing day.

LADIES AS "FIREMEN."

A Description of a Novel Tournament Lately Held in the British Isles.

The Lady's Pictorial, of London, thus describes "A Ladies' Fire Brigade Tournament," lately held at St. Michael Mount, the seat of the Earl of St. Levan:

As Bank Holiday was fixed upon as the date of this most novel and interesting display, great crowds of people were able to indulge their curiosity by witnessing the graceful and plucky evolutions of the lady members of the fire Brigade, and from time to time they manifested their delighted appreciation of their efforts by loud and long cheering, in which the firemen joined with the heartiest good will. The natural beauty of the castle-crowned mount formed a most charming setting for the series of interesting object lessons in what women can do in the direction of the preservation of life and property from fire, and the deeds of daring and endurance successfully achieved by them gained an added value from the fact that they were performed from first to last with a feminine modesty and grace as conspicuous as the quite masculine pluck and persistence shown by the fair competitors, whose evolutions were marked by military promptitude and precision, and whose adroit manipulation of the life-saving appliances left nothing to be desired, even in the opinion of technical experts.

For the purpose of the tournament, a tower, 16 feet square by 30 feet high, was constructed on a green sward at the base of the mount, and was well furnished with shavings steeped in tar and petroleum. At a given signal the ladies who wore a tasteful uniform, consisting of sailor hats, white blouses, dark skirts and scarlet sashes, marched from their robing tent under command of Captain Hosking (Marazion Fire Brigade), coming up at the "double" and halting on either side of the Lillie fire engine.

Having gone through a series of evolutions, they doubled off for an interval of rest and refreshment, which gave the athletes an opportunity of executing that part of the day's programme, which consisted of competitions in racing, jumping, shooting, etc. At 6 p.m. the tower was ignited from bottom to top simultaneously, when the young ladies "turn out, wet drill!" was commenced in earnest.

The firemen of the county who had assembled to take part in the tournament, alternately took their turn at pumping with the ladies, which lasted about an hour, although two of the ladies (Miss Smith and Miss Cawse) did not quit the branch until the fire was quite extinguished; when the "danger" was over the ladies gave a jumping sheet and scaling ladder performance both in leaping from the tower, bringing down endangered ones, holding the sheet for others, etc.

MISS CHARLOTTE M. YONGE.

A Little Testimonial to a "Personal Friend of the Public."

There are some writers who are personal friends of the public, as there are some books which are fireside acquaintances. "The Heir of Redcliffe" is a novel which, in the many years since it was first published, must have made acquaintances in nearly every home in the world; and it would be nearly as true to say that Miss Charlotte M. Yonge, who wrote the book, has been regarded by many of those acquaintances as in some sort a guide, philosopher and friend. A number of Miss Yonge's personal friends, and a number of those other more distant friends whom we are content to call admirers, are paying the authoress a pretty compliment on completing her 70th year by presenting her with a gift commemorating the admiration they feel for her; and, pretty as the compliment is, it is well deserved. "The Heir of Redcliffe," though, together with "The Daisy Chain" and "Dynevor Terrace," the best known of her works, represents hardly an integral percentage of Miss Yonge's literary activity. She has published through Messrs. Macmillan alone some 38 volumes of novels and tales, besides 30 other works.

Without doubt Miss Yonge is best known by her novels. Many of them have gone through several editions, and have been reprinted in a cheap form. They were in some style a forerunner of the mere novel with a purpose, for the plot of most of her stories is made to inforce if not too violent a spirit the doctrines of the High Church School. The profits arising from the sale of several of the novels have been put to the same worthy purpose. Two thousand pounds of the profits of the "Daisy Chain" were devoted to the building of a Missionary College at Auckland, New Zealand; and most of the proceeds of the sail of the "Heir of Redcliffe" were given for the purpose of fitting out the missionary schooner Southern Cross for the use of Bishop Selwyn. Besides her novels, Miss Young has written a "History of France," and her "Cameos from English History" extend to seven volumes.—London Daily Graphic.

Grasshoppers Dine on Greenbacks.

Silas Bauer, a farmer of Huntingdon Co., Pa., the last week had a singular and painful experience. Distrustful of banks, he drew out several hundred dollars he possessed from two banks, and then hid his treasure in the lining of his coat. Then he went out to work in a field and hung his coat upon a gate post. There the coat was espied by a multitude of hungry grasshoppers and badly eaten by them. The grasshoppers bored holes through the greenbacks, and the farmer has been compelled to send the fragments of his money to Washington to secure new bills. The money was mutilated almost beyond redemption. Mr. Bauer says when he recovers his money he will put it back in the bank—New York Tribune.

The Doctor Passed Him.

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 18—About a year the newspapers contained of the curious case of Sam Murray, a railroad brakeman, of this place. He was paralyzed, as a consequence of an injury received while coupling cars, and for two years was unable to work. Several doctors, among them some Toronto specials, pronounced him incurable and his case hopeless. The Grand Trunk Railway Company paid him his full disability claim, and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was about to pay a similar claim, when Murray astonished everybody by a return to health. It was proven at the time, beyond the possibility of a doubt, that Murray's recovery was due to Dodd's kidney pills. A few days ago Murray applied to a life insurance company to take out a policy on his life. Two physicians have just examined him, pronounced him a desirable risk, and recommended the company to issue a policy. That's the kind of work Dodd's kidney pills do.

Saved to Her Mother

After Physicians and Medicines Failed.

A Grateful Parent's Testimony.

She Says: 'My Daughter is now Perfectly Well and Strong."

LITTLE MISS STINCHCOMBE.

It is a sad sight to see the young grow up weak, puny and sickly. Thousands of girls and boys around us are unable to enjoy life with their playmates. Parents should bear in mind that there is no reason why their children should suffer when such a medicine as Paine's Celery Compound cures and gives new life and true vitality. Mrs. A. R. Stinchcombe, 19 William Street, London, Ont., who is highly vouched for by Rev. W. Godwin, Methodist Minister of that city, gratefully speaks of the wonderful work of Paine's Celery Compound in her home. She writes as follows:—

"I think it is a duty to write you for the benefit of all who have delicate children, and to make known what Paine's Celery Compound has done for my child. She has been delicate all her life. I have tried many medicines, and have had my child under allopathic and homœopathic treatment, with but little benefit. Almost in despair, and as a last resort, I tried Paine's Celery Compound, and after using three bottles she is now perfectly well and strong. I have also used your medicine myself for complications arising from overwork and loss of rest, and am greatly benefitted thereby. I would strongly urge all who are in any way afflicted to do as I have done, 'try Paine's Celery Compound,' and be convinced of its wonderful curing powers."

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

The great secret of eloquence is to be in earnest.

A promise should be given with caution, and kept with care.

It is the man who keeps his eye open to whom opportunity comes.

The art of life is to know how to enjoy a little and to endure much.

Our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall.

Better, oftentimes, words that touch the heart than dollars that touch the palm.

There are many people whose whole wisdom consists in hiding their want of it.

A beautiful behavior is better than a beautiful form; it is the finest of fine arts.

Loving-kindness is greater than laws and the charities of life are greater than all ceremonies.

We ought not to judge of people's merits by their abilities, but by the use they make of them.

The man who does not complain makes more friends than the man who always has a grievance.

A good thing to do on cloudy days is to try to push the clouds away from somebody else's windows.

To obtain perfection it is not necessary to do singular things, but to do common things singularey well.

Character is made up of small duties faithfully performed, of self-denials, of self-sacrifices, of kindly acts of love and duty.

Misfortune falls like dew on the head of many a woman, and brings forth germs of strength of which she herself had no consciousness.

We make ourselves strong in all good things, not by casting ourselves idly upon the sympathy of others, but by taking an interest in others.

All ugly feelings in the human heart ought to vanish away in the intercourse with nature, with its immediate expression of beauty and goodness.

Character is the precipitate from the stream of conduct, which, like the Nile delta, gradually rises solid and firm above the parent river and continues its flow.

After Twenty Years.

Twenty years ago Thomas Simpson, of St. John, was restored to health from a condition of severe pains and great nervous prostration by Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic. Doctors' medicine had failed. Mr. Simpson still treasures the first empty tonic bottle, and now whenever he is unwell his remedies are found in Hawker's Tonic and Hawker's Liver Pills, the latter is the best pill, he says, that he ever used.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Mr. James Shand, the well-known auctioneer, says: "Had considerable expectoration and disagreeable cough. Physician recommended Puttner's Emulsion. Took six bottles—cough vanished. Am convinced your preparation brought about my speedy convalescence."

W. H. ROGERS.

AMHERST, N. S., May 27, 1893.

THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—I am 71 years of age. Have been afflicted with sick headache most all my life, which developed into Dyspepsia of a mild type about twenty years ago, and has continued to grow worse until during the past seven or eight years I have not been able to take a drink of cold water or milk, as they would produce severe pains and sometimes vomiting. I have been subject to severe pains in the chest, with dizziness, which have been more frequent during the past three or four years. My mouth was furred up in the mornings, accompanied with bad breath. My case was yearly growing worse.

During all this long period I have tried many popular medicines, as well as prescriptions from the regular medical practitioners, but without producing any improvment.

In the fall of '92 I concluded to try a bottle or two of your medicine and such were its effects that I continued it and now I can drink cold water or milk without any inconvenience. Those dizzy pains are all gone and my mouth is as sweet as a baby's. In short, your medicine has cured me and I am sure that all Dyspeptics can be cured by its use.

(Signed) W. H. ROGERS,
Late inspector of Fisheries for Nova Scotia.

HEART FAILURE, FAINTNESS, ACUTE DYSPEPSIA, with Complete Nervous Prostration,

Cured by Using HAWKER'S NERVE & STOMACH TONIC.

A LADY'S EXPERIENCE.

Mr. Wm. Thompson of Musquash, N. B., says: "For 2 years past my wife has suffered with Acute Dyspepsia accompanied with complete nervous prostration and a smothering sensation about the heart which frequently produced an attack of faintness. She became weak and nervous, lost all energy, and had a constant feeling of dread. She suffered with intense pain in the stomach after eating, which was usually followed by the smothering sensation about the heart and fainting spells. She became so discouraged that she gave up all hope of ever getting better, when our pastor suggested that she try HAWKER'S NERVE AND STOMACH TONIC and LIVER PILLS, which had produced wonderful cures in several cases he knew of. We did so and she obtained immediate relief from the distress after taking the second dose, and has continued to improve ever since until today she is as well as ever, and can enjoy her food without fear of suffering. I cannot speak too highly of these valuable medicines which have restored my wife to health and strength and saved much suffering and expense."

Rev. Henry M. Spike, Rector of Musquash, N. B., says: "I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Tompson's case, and am greatly pleased that the medicine which I recommended to her produced such remarkable results."
