

MR. AND MRS. W. V. SIMPSON AND ATTENDANTS

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Niagara Falls

On September 4, at 3 p.m. St. Anglican Church, New London, was the scene of the marriage of Rebecca Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. MacRae; Summerside, P.E.I., and William Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Simpson, Bay View, P.E.I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Eric Ingraham.

The church was decorated for the occasion with gladioli, the guest pews marked with white alyssum. Mrs. Joseph Perry sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The organist was Mrs. John MacKay.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a floor-length gown with white nylon net over satin, portrait neckline, trimmed with pearls and iridescent sequins, long sleeves coming to a point over the hands, and a very full skirt featuring lace inserts. The fingertip hand rolled tulle veil was held with an iridescent sequin trim. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

Miss Janet MacRae, sister of the bride was maid-of-honor and wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta with matching picture hat

HOME WITH A STAR

Ann Blyth, who has been accorded so many laurels in her interpretation of the late unforgettable Helen Morgan, could not resist this version of a hostess gown that recalls the days of the nineteen twenties.

This particular costume has a top of beige velvet with a V neckline and long slender sleeves.

HAPPENINGS

The Hon. T.W.L. Prowse, Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island, and Mrs. Prowse have been in Ottawa for the Royal Visit. They were registered at the Chateau Laurier. Captain J.J. Connolly and Mrs. Connolly accompanied the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prowse.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Prowse attended the service at Chalmers United Church. Later they walked along Parliament Hill before proceeding to the Chateau for Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Prowse spent the evening with the Governor's sister, Mrs. Harry Ritchie of Ottawa.

Mrs. Prowse wore to the opening of Parliament a blue gown, cut on Grecian lines with a train. She also carried into the chamber a platinum mink stole.

Rose pink for the State dinner has been Mrs. Prowse's choice. The dress was worn with a crinoline and her ornaments were pearls.

Captain and Mrs. J. J. Connolly were registered at the Chateau for the Royal Visit. They attended the Cathedral Sunday morning. During the day they resumed friendships with many navy and island friends.

French charm and courtesy were very much in evidence at the opening of Parliament and during the reception in Hull where the Queen signed in the Golden Book.

But when that charm and courtesy are demonstrated in a rush hour cafeteria line (the place where everyone ate) in a large hotel one realizes they are truly insouciant French traits.

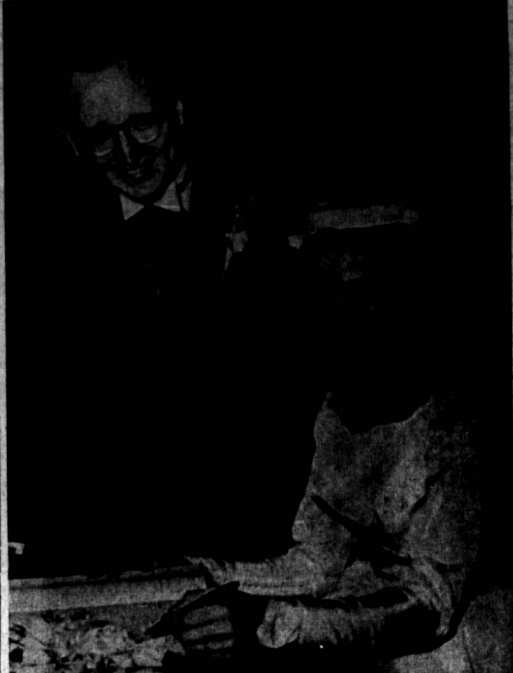

A charming young matron Madame M. A. Gaucher with two of her mother's friends Madame Adrien des Trois Maisons and Mrs. Joseph Grenon, all of Montreal, with another friend Madame J. A. Le Broek of Outremont gave up their four places to let a visitor to the Capital go first in the food line.

Upon subsequent conversation it was learned that Madame des Trois Maisons had attended twenty-three openings of Parliament.

Her granddaughter was the daughter of the Count of Rouville and the beautiful chateau in St. Hilaire, near St. Hyacinthe is still to be seen.

Justice La Brocquery Tache and Archbishop Tache were brothers of the grandmother at the chateau. Archbishop Tache was a founder of Winnipeg. The Taches were noted for charm and it was delightful to see this family characteristic being carried on in his descendants.

The Hon. Thane Campbell, Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island, and Mrs. Campbell after the Government reception entertained friends at the Rideau Club. From the balcony of this well-known club which overlooks Parliament Hill the Campbells

MR. AND MRS. J. V. McMANAMY

Island Girl Weds In Toronto, Ontario

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated Holy Rosary Church, Toronto, when Miss Marion Roseline Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Ernest James Duffy and the late Ambrose Leonard Campbell of Kinkora, P.E.I., was married to Mr. James Vincent McManamy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John William McManamy of Thorold, Ontario.

Rev. Francis Campbell, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Rev. Frederick Renner was organist.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Walter Martin Campbell, the bride was lovely in a gown of imported candle white peau de faulle, fashioned in traditional lines of classic simplicity, the fitted bodice feathered a portrait neckline, long sheath sleeves and the full skirt swept to a chapel train. Her finger tip veil was gathered to a cap of matching material accented with a whisper pink rose, and with her pearl-studded prayer

WIFE PRESERVERS

If directions say frozen meat should be thawed before cooking, leave the meat wrapped in the refrigerator while thawing. Thawing at room temperature is not recommended since the meat may spoil if allowed to stand for any length of time.

MR. AND MRS. E. MILLER

52nd Wedding Anniversary Observed In Belmont

On September 21st, 1957, a very happy occasion took place in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller of Central Lot 16, the occasion being Mr. and Mrs. Miller's 52nd wedding anniversary which was held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Clarke, Belmont.

About 30 relatives and friends gathered at the spacious home to congratulate Edward and Blanche on the occasion. As the bride and groom of 52 years entered the door, their two little great grandchildren, Diane Clarke and Debra MacLean presented them with a bouquet of Panais, which is a symbol of thoughts.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller although taken by complete surprise, thanked their relatives and friends for their lovely gifts and thoughtful.

The Wedding Cake was made and tastefully decorated by Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Charlottetown, a friend of Mrs. Eldon MacLean, was cut in the traditional manner. After a delicious lunch of rows straight. It's got a bit of a sweep in it — there above the rise. I may be able to straighten it some, but I doubt it."

And we sympathized, even though we had seen clovers and grains, flourish equally well of rows crooked or straight, there was the farmer's pride in his workmanship to be considered and encouraged. And then openings indicated in first rounds, James would usually add a third horse to his team, hitching next into that magical machine "the gang," of twin shares to continue with much liking and happiness his privilege and task.

And what of the week going out now in moonlight hours? If the weather was not always of October's sunny blue by day to further the farmers' activities, it has been nevertheless frostless and kindly.

Among many a pleasant and delight it brought the Queen and her sailor-husband to our Canadian shores. To visit, though but briefly this engaging daughter of that Commonwealth of Nations of which she is the gracious sovereign and head. To carry away with her when she departs, pictured against scenes of Autumn glory, reassurance on every hand of the affection and loyalty of her people in this young and vigorous Land of the Maple that is hers.

We remember that despite the weariness which undoubtedly attends the demands of her itinerary, her Sunday takes her to church — service, there to find in part, that spiritual refreshment which girds her to carry out the great task which she claims by birth and dedication. This we believe — her serenity and faith and trust contribute in no small measure to inspire and bind together her subjects and make a great nation of her Realm.

What makes a nation great? "That land is great which knows the Lord" — her serenity and faith and trust contribute in no small measure to inspire and bind together her subjects and make a great nation of her Realm.

Until Monday — — — Diary — Goodnight. . . .
