In Memoriam

MRS. FLORA MAY McKAY

The people of Bradalbane and surrounding districts were greatly shocked to hear of the sudden and unexpected passing in the Prince Edward Island Hospital of Mrs. Flora May McKay, widow of the late Roderick McKay, at the early age of fifty-two years. Not feeling well after the death of her mother six weeks ago she decided to go to the hospital for treatment. No one thought her condition serious until June 20th when she gradually became worse and was seized with a paralytic stroke from which she never regained consciousness and passed away peacefully on July 2. Although everything possible was done for her nothing could stop the Grim Reaper Death.

She leaves to mourn her passing her two children, Margaret and Robert, one brother Angus Gillis, Bradalbane, and one sister, Mrs. Kate Brittain, San Francisco, California. Her funeral took place from Bradalbane United Church on July 4th, the church was filled to overflowing with sympathizing friends who came from far and near to show their last tribute of respect to one who they all loved and respected.

The service was conducted by her former pastor Rev. John Sterling, Georgetown, who married them twenty one years ago.

The hymns sung were, Peace Perfect Peace, Rock of Ages, and Safe in the Arms of Jesus. Mr. John McKenzie, Charlottetown sang very feelingly, The Old Rugged Cross.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Bruce Davison, Rod Nicholson Walter McKenzie, John McDonald, Dan Cummings, and Calvin Reeves.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Interment was in the Bradalbane Cemetery beside her husband who died just two years from Mrs. McKay's burial.

The funeral was under the direction of A. B. Cutcliffe, Undertaker.

Missionary Rally

A most interesting and inspiring Rally of the W.M.S. was held on Thursday, July 13th, in the United Church at North Wiltshire. The afternoon session opened at 2.30, with Mrs. J. D. MacFarlane of DeSable presiding. The meeting opened with the hymn "O'er These Gloomy Hills of Darkness."

The devotional period was conducted by members of the Bonshaw Auxiliary, Mrs. MacFarlane giving the Bible message, which was based on Psalm 121.

A very cordial welcome was extended to the visiting members by Mrs. Bruce Deacon, president of the Wiltshire Auxiliary, to which Mrs. Geddie MacLeod, Bonshaw, graciously responded.

Although the Presbyterial President, Mrs. A. J. Matheson, was unable to be present, she sent her warmest greetings and best wishes which were much appreciated by the members. Owing to the fact that two other Rallies were being held on the same date, several of the officers found it impossible to attend, but had sent interesting reports of their work.

Mrs. J. Pickard, past Supply Secretary gave a full report of her work, telling in it how much the supplies we send to the needy, are eagerly looked for.

Mrs. J. T. Ferguson's report showed that some auxiliaries have already sent their bales, for this year, but urged others to do likewise, and to follow instructions carefully.

Mrs. J. D. MacFarlane gave her report and stressed the value of the missionary Monthly and World Friends to the Auxiliaries and Bands.

The report of Mrs. Frank Deacon, literature secretary was read, which showed we have not subscribed for as much literature as formerly, but hoped to have more orders shortly.

A letter sent by the Past Press Secretary, Mrs. Clarke MacQuarrie was read. It told how valuable a Press Secretary can be to an auxiliary.

A pleasant diversion in the programme was the solo "Jesus Wants Me For a Sunbeam", which was very sweetly sung by Peggy MacLean, a junior member of the Wiltshire Mission Band.

Mrs. Frank Howard of Cornwall, then gave a full and interesting report of the Branch meeting which was recently held at Sackville.

The reports of the Community Friendship Secretary and the Associate Helpers Secretary were both read. In the former, Mrs. John Stirling showed what an opportunity this work affords in any community. In the latter, Mrs. Pickering spoke of how many women, who cannot attend meetings may help in other ways.

Mrs. J. H. MacFarlane of Bedeque, sent her report on temperance and Christian Citizenship, telling the urgent need of doing our utmost in this great cause.

Mrs. Arthur Long of Saint John, N.B., was then called to the platform, and she gave a short talk on Temperance, giving some appalling facts of the way "government sale" is carried on in her home town, urging us that we never exchange prohibition for so-called "government control." She gave us some knowledge which should surely open our eyes.

Mrs. Hazen Howard, who has recently attended the National Convention of the W.C.T.U. also gave some timely remarks. She then gave her report of Christian Stewardship and Finance, in which she asked the members to try the envelope system as much as possible in raising funds and also mentioned that she would like in future to have report forms filled in promptly and returned to her.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Nicholson was read, showing that the amount of money raised was about the same as this time last year.

The Question Box, which had been previously introduced, was then efficiently conducted by Mrs. H. Howard. Questions and answers were freely discussed and much helpful information given.

The afternoon session then closed with hymn "O Safe to the Rock" and Benediction by Mrs. Long.

Lunch was then served by the Wiltshire Auxiliary.

At 8.30 a public meeting was held with Mrs. J. F. Easton presiding. Meeting was opened with hymn "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee."

A very beautiful Worship Service was carried out by members of Trinity Auxiliary, Charlottetown, with Mrs. H. Newson, as leader.

A duet by Miss Minnie Brown, of Charlottetown, and Mrs. K. Hatherley, Wiltshire, was much enjoyed.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Arthur Long, was then introduced and was listened to with the closest attention. She spoke, chiefly of her work among the immigrants at Saint John, telling us of her untiring efforts to help these strangers.

The offering was then received and a duet by Misses Louise MacQuarrie and Phyllis Easton was nicely rendered.

Mrs. Hazen Howard extended a hearty vote of thanks to all who assisted and especially to Mrs. Long for her splendid address. This was seconded and unanimously carried by a standing vote.

The inspirational service was brought to a close by singing "In Christ There is No East or West", and Rev. W. A. MacQuarrie pronounced the benediction.

We owe much to the committee in charge for the success of this rally.

I agreed with him. It IS wonderful for a man to have a wife to whom he can tell the truth, and it is equally wonderful for a wife to have a husband to whom she dares offer a fact without its being dressed up that its own mother wouldn't know it. Yet it is not because either the husbands or wives prefer devious and mendacious ways of dealing with each other, but because experience has taught them that the party of the other part will not stand for the truth; that a few little tar-riddles save a multitude of arguments and reproaches.

It is husbands and wives who make liars of each other. Mr. Benedict would much prefer to tell his wife that he went out with the boys and what a good time he had than to lie to her about having to do some extra work at the office and what a shavedrives his boss is. But he can get by with the story and he would have to listen to a curtain lecture if he told the truth. Mrs. Benedict would adore being able to tell her husband that she paid $35 for her hat because it was so ravishing and so becoming that she simply couldn't resist it. But she knows that if she does she will never hear the last of her extravagance, so she yearns about it being a marked-down bargain and charges off $20 to the peace fund.

It is a great pity that husbands and wives can't tell each other the truth, because it would save so many misunderstandings and so much jealousy. If a man knew that he could absolutely trust his wife he wouldn't get green-eyed every time she danced twice with the same man. And if a wife knew that her husband told her the truth she would not look with suspicion upon every woman under 80 with whom he enjoyed an interesting talk.

* * * * *

But it is so seldom that married couples have the courage either to tell the truth or to take it that is no wonder that my young friend was overcome with joy and surprise when he found that he had married a woman with whom he could be perfectly frank.

* * * * *

Dear Miss Dix—I am 20. For two years Bob and I have been lovers, but lately I have hated myself because I realize how wrong our relationship is. Finally I told him that I could not go on like this and asked him to marry me, but he refused. Said we must wait a year or so before we were married. I am willing to wait for a year, but what I don't understand is that every time I mention about our being married he immediately, tactfully but surely, changes the subject and never mentions it himself. Do you think that he will only be marrying me because he feels that it is the right thing to do, whether he still loves me or not? I would much rather that he tell me, as no one knows about us or even suspects. Although he tells every one that we are engaged, he has never given me a ring, though he can afford one, as he has an excellent position and lots of spending money. What should I do?

TROUBLED GIRL.

Answer:

If you want to save a remnant of your self-respect you will break off your relationship with the man before he ditches you, as he evidently intends to do. If you were not so much blinded by love that you cannot see the situation clearly you would perceive that he has no intention whatever of marrying you and that he is merely stalling when he puts you off for two or three years when you beg him to legitimize your position.

And you would also realize that when he refuses to even talk about marriage it is because nothing is further from his intention than ever leading you to the altar. No sense of duty, no impulse of chivalry, no compassion for you is ever going to take him that far. Your fate is the common fate of girls who love not wisely but too well. Nearly always the men to whom they have given not only their hearts but their honor tire of them and forsake them. They seldom marry them. When they marry they want a "nice" girl. A girl who has had enough character and principles and independence to hold herself worthy of a wedding ring.

My earnest advice to you is to save your face by presenting an ultimatum to your lover. Tell him he has to marry you now or never. If he refuses, make a final clean break with him. And don't waste a year grieving over losing such a cad.

DOROTHY DIX.

SPRAY — SPRAY

Potato Growers cannot afford to neglect the growing crop of potatoes. Efficient spraying with Bordeaux to prevent Blight and with Calcium Arsenate to destroy insects should be applied regularly. Early applications are very important. Delay reduces the value of the spray. The cost apart from the labor is not excessive. The grower who sprayed properly last year insured himself against a terrific loss. The market trend would indicate at least another fair year.

See our representatives or call at our office for your spray requirements. Wholesale or retail prices given on request.

China Remains Undaunted By Jap. Invasion

Lieut.-Colonel F. W. L. Moore, of Victoria, B.C., a brother of Mr. S. C. Moore, Charlottetown, has received a very interesting letter from Madam Chiang Kai Shek (Mayling Soong Chiang).

Madame Chiang Kai Shek starts by telling of the tremendious volume of correspondence she receives from all parts of the world, and goes on to say that the Japanese are more ruthless in their bombing on unarmed villages and cities. Guerrillas are active against the Japanese, and their occupation of Hainan Island was of no consequence, but was merely done to stimulate the spirit of their people by pretending they had won a great victory.

The occupation affects Great Britain, France, America and the Netherlands governments more than it does China. These powers will be vitally affected if the Japanese contrive to get their anchors well hooked into Hainan. The writer goes on to say:

"The determination of our people to continue resistance against the Japanese is undaunted. We have endured greater sufferings than any other people in any war. Our teeming population is so great that, no matter where planes drop bombs, many are liable to death or injury. Yet the fortitude, philosophy and powers of endurance of our people are remarkable!

"In the western provinces a resurgent China is already in being. Industries are being established, universities and colleges are at work, new life developing every where.

"The Japanese forget that the recuperative powers of our people are unparalleled. We have survived 5000 years. In our own time we have survived tremendous national calamities, and we shall survive this one, even if the assistance to which we are entitled from democratic powers is refused to us."

Madame Chiang Kai Shek concluded by saying how heartened they are by the support which is coming from the people of democratic countries.
