Groundwork For New Code Fighting Rights

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The United Nations International Law Commission has laid the groundwork for a new world-wide code of fishing rights and territorial waters.

New draft laws completed by the 15-member commission at a session ended here Tuesday reject claims to territorial waters extending more than 12 miles from the coast, but give a coastal state special rights in the control and conservation of fishing on the high seas beyond its territorial limits.

The drafts are to be submitted to UN member governments for their observations. The commission is to revise the drafts on the basis of these observations and to submit a final version to the UN general assembly next year.

The draft says there is not sufficient international agreement on the traditional three-mile limit to international law, but that no state can be compelled to recognize territorial waters of more than three miles claimed by any other state.

much poverty in the island. Last year a record number of 11,500 Maltese emigrated.

Wednesday's announcement marked the second move in a week toward a new deal for the island, the government arranged a conference with Greece and Turkey over the future of Cyprus, the orange-grove island where a campaign for union with Greece has exploded into violence.

Malta stood up so gallantly to bombing by Italy and Germany during the war that the late King awarded the whole island the George Cross, Britain's highest award for civilian bravery.

said that "the situation will be unchanged" until his departmental estimates come up later in the session for a debate on the sale of wheat.

Mr. Drew—who opposes the sale—and Mr. Coldwell—who is all for it—said the minister's statement was misleading.

STANDS BY STATEMENT

Mr. Drew noted that late Tuesday after a Winnipeg announcement of the completion of negotiations, Mr. Howe had stated that "the negotiations were completed prior to today."

Mr. St. Laurent Wednesday stood on his Friday statement that the effect of his information at the time was that negotiations were going on satisfactorily but were not completed.

"But," he added, "the whole transaction will not be completed until there has been an application for a policy (insurance) and a premium has been arranged and payment of the premium provided."

No Change

Six candidates were nominated before the close of nominations June 22, but two running on independent Union Nationale tickets, dropped out before the voting and did not figure in the balloting. They were Bernard Goulet and Paul Vezina.

The only disturbances of the day were reported from Montreal Laurier where two persons, one of them a 20-year-old girl, were arrested on charges of attempted impersonation at the polls.

In St. Hyacinthe, Jacques Bousquet, a lawyer, won over Liberal and Labor-Progressive opposition. With all 114 polls reported the vote was: Mr. Bousquet 9,937; Raoul Lassonde, Liberal, 5,311; and Elphege Brunelle, Labor-Progressive, 52.

Baptist Church Annual Picnic

The Baptist picnic, sponsored by the Men's Association of the Church, held yesterday afternoon at Stanhope was a decided success. The committee in charge, Ralph Rupert, D. N. Bell, Harper MacNeill, Wilson Ross, Edward MacPhail, Louis Stammers and Nelson Robertson left nothing to be desired in regard to organization of the outing. Free ice cream and drinks were dished out to the kiddies, and many others who were just kids for a day, with a lavish hand. The weather man and King Neptune were on their best behaviour and contributed toward making the picnic the most successful in years.

All pupils who are under 12 years of age and below the intermediate swimming class will use the Kiwanis pool.

This pool was opened on Tuesday and was used to capacity all day.

The Red Cross instructors at the pool are Mr. Angus MacLaren, Miss Margie Jardine, Miss Janet Matheson and Miss Bernardine Hennessey.

Questioned On Ferry Bluenose

OTTAWA (CP)—Future trials of the Atlantic ferry Bluenose, whose propulsion gears were damaged in her first trials late last month, will take 14 days if all goes well, Transport Minister Marler said Wednesday.

He gave the information in the Commons in reply to questions asked earlier by George Nowlan (PC—Digby-Annapolis-Kings).

The ferry, built jointly by the federal and Nova Scotia governments, was to have begun service at the end of this month between Yarmouth, N. S. and Bar Harbor, Me. She was to have been delivered July 17 but renewal of four burned gears will hold this up about 14 days, after which she will undergo new trials. Start of the ferry's service will be delayed until about mid-August.

OTTAWA (CP)—Ceylon will receive some $500,000 worth of Canadian flour as part of her $2,000,000 share of Canada's Colombo Plan contribution for the 1955-56 fiscal year, the external affairs department announced Wednesday.

In addition to the flour, Canada will supply Ceylon with three diesel locomotives, finance an aerial survey of Ceylon, pay for the construction and equipping of a school of practical technology and aid the Colombo port and Ceylonese fisheries project.

Burma's Premier Gives His Impressions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Burma's premier, U Nu, said Wednesday he got the impression that most responsible people in Washington are not against seating Red China in the U. N.

He told a press conference it was his impression that the problem is timing of the seating. Asked if he felt that the timing was concerned with the presidential election of 1956, he replied he did not believe so.

"The American leaders," he said, "are bold enough to do things regardless of elections. If they think it is the thing to do, they will do it."

Burma long has advocated giving Peiping the seat now held by National China.

Mrs. George MacMillan and Mrs. Horace Marshall; lunch: Mrs. Lloyd Bell, Mrs. Ray Carr and Mrs. Walter Marshall; program: Mrs. Bruce Ellis and Mrs. Keith Douglas.

Says Prevention Better Than Cure For Fatness

OTTAWA (CP)—Prevention is better than cure in dealing with excessive fatness, Dr. Barbara A. McLaren of the University of Toronto household science department, said Wednesday.

Curing fatness is a difficult problem, although it might seem simple at first glance, she told 150 dietitians and nutritionists attending the second Canadian nutrition conference.

Being overweight results from expending less energy than is taken in as food. The excess fat can be removed by reducing the food intake below the output, she said.

"The only flaw in this is that with most patients it doesn't work," she said. "A restrictive diet removes a source of pleasure when it removes food."

Increases in physical activity might help prevent fatness, she said.

It also would help to educate the public to understand the cause of being overweight and the nutritional values of various foods, she said.

U. S. Steel Corporation Tuesday posted new price lists providing an average increase of about $7.35 a ton.
