Manager Embezzled $120,000 Bank Charges

MONTREAL, March 27 - Sequel to a month-long investigation into alleged discrepancies in the books of the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Grenville, Que., Romeo Monty, 54-year-old manager of the bank of Nova Scotia branch at Grenville, Que., Romeo Monty, 54-year-old manager of the bank for the past 21 years, was arraigned at St. Jerome over the week-end on charges that he stole $120,000 from the bank, Grenville is about 30 miles from Montreal, above Lacchute. Mr. Monty, who is alleged to have committed the thefts since he joined the bank as manager in 1929, appeared before Judge Hermann Barrette, who fixed bail at $3,000 pending further court action April 14. The complaint, lodged by the bank and served on Monty by a court bailiff charged the suspended manager with having stolen the money from the Grenville branch and from "legal possessions" in "safekeeping." Depositors will not suffer as a result of the alleged discrepancies, the bank absorbing all losses. Investigation was begun a month ago by the Quebec supervisor's department of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Montreal, and the inspectors' office of the bank's headquarters in Toronto. It followed discovery of alleged discrepancies by an inspector last month, when Mr. Monty was reported to have left for a vacation - the first he has had in several years. Mr. Monty, who was suspended after an examination of the books was said to have been questioned at length by bank investigators before the theft charge was laid. He joined the bank in 1912, serving at other branches before going to Grenville in 1929. Although Grenville is a small farming community on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River, several large pulp mills are located in the area and upwards of $100,000 passes through the bank in a week. Deputy Director Hilarie Beauregard of the provincial police said the investigation had been handled solely by the bank without assistance from provincial police.
